Lack of Yards, Men Hampers Navy.

BY WALTER TROHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 18.—An official navy department compilation of the naval construction program today showed that only 44 of the 328 men of war listed as under construction actually are on ship ways or being completed in shipyards after launching.

The great bulk of the administration's ship building program is on paper and is destined to remain there for three years, according to informed naval sources.

Of the 328 vessels listed as building 284 vessels are merely contracted for or ordered. It will be years before many of these vessels reach shipways because there are not enough facilities in the country to meet the huge naval expansion program.

Government and private navy yards of the country have a capacity of 62 battleships, aircraft carriers, cruisers, destroyers and submarines. At present there are not enough skilled marine engineers and artisans to operate these meager facilities to the full.

Status by Categories.

The status of the navy is shown in the following table, which gives the number of vessels of the various types in active service, actually under construction, contracted for and contemplated on conclusion of the program.

Type.	Built.	Building.	Contracted. for	Total.
Battleships ...	15	7	0	32
Aircr. carriers	6	1	11	18
Cruisers	37	6	42	85
Destroyers ...	*152	19	151	*322
Submarines ...	104	11	70	185
Total	*314	44	284	*642

*Excludes 50 destroyers being delivered to Great Britain and 46 former destroyers converted or being converted to other types.

How the contracts executed for the two ocean navy overlap the existing building facilities is demonstrated by examination of the affairs of the Electric Boat company, the only private submarine building yard.

The company has ways for four submarines. Four subs are on these ways. However, 41 submarines listed as under construction are contracted for or on order at the Electric Boat company. With only four ways it will be years before the 41st submarine is reached.

Example of Paper Building.

The Federal Shipbuilding and Dry Dock company offers another illustration of New Deal paper building. This yard, according to the navy's official compilation, has ways for nine destroyers. Recently it undertook to modify its facilities to accommodate construction of two light cruisers.

Under the two ocean navy program the yard was allotted contracts for five cruisers and 29 destroyers. These contracts also will not be fulfilled for three years.

Capacity of Yards.

The capacity of various government and private shipyards for various types of vessels was reported by the navy department as follows:

U. S. navy yards—	*Battleships	Cruisers.....	Destroyers..	Submarines.	Total.........
Portsmouth	0	0	0	3	3
Boston	0	0	2	0	2
New York..............	2	0	0	0	2
Philadelphia	2	1	0	0	3
Norfolk	1	0	1	0	2
Charleston	0	1	2	0	3
Mare Island............	0	1	0	2	3
Puget Sound...........	0	1	0	0	1
Private yards—
Bethlehem Steel [Mass.]	1	4	2	0	7
New York Shipbuilding	3	4	0	0	7
Newport News Shpbldg. and Dry Dock........	2	5	0	0	7
Bath Iron work........	0	0	5	0	5
Electric Boat..........	0	0	0	4	4
Bethlehem Steel [Staten Island]	0	0	4	0	4
Federal Shipbuilding and Dry Dock............	0	0	9	0	9

*Battleships and aircraft carriers may be built on the same ways.

Navy officials reported additional private shipbuilding facilities in the country which might be developed for naval construction. It was estimated that possibly 15 might be developed to take care of smaller craft.

In an emergency, it was further reported, the navy might build some ships in its various dry docks. The navy has 27 docks in various yards and private shipyards have even more, but they are needed to keep existing vessels in repair.

Tribune Office Answers Draft Law Questions

A bureau of draft information is open for business at the Tribune's public service office at 1 South Dearborn street, in the same building where the Chicago office of the draft administration will be opened later this week. Since Monday nearly 1,500 young men have inquired there for information concerning conscription.

The draft bureau is well prepared to answer all questions. The staff members are equipped with copies of the joint resolution covering induction of the National Guard into service and the senate bill on conscription.

Variety of Questions Asked.

Those calling at the information office ask a variety of questions. Following are the inquiries that most frequently arise, and their answers:

Q.—Must I register if my birthday falls immediately after Oct. 16? A.—Yes. The determining time is midnight Oct. 16. Example: A man who was born at 11:59 p. m. Oct. 16, 1904, would not register. One born two minutes later, at 12:01 a. m. Oct. 17, 1904, would be required to register.

Q.—If I travel, or plan to be out of town on Oct. 16, must I return to register? A.—No. Register wherever you are. Example: A traveling salesman who lives in Chicago but is in Kalamazoo on Oct. 16 may register at the nearest draft office, giving his legal address so the registration card can be returned to his home state. This also applies to vacationers and others away from home.

Q.—What if I am confined to a hospital or am sick in bed? A.—An agent will call on you.

Q.—What if I am in jail? A.—You need not register. Warning: Don't plan to land there deliberately on Oct. 16. Those caught in such a plot will be placed automatically at the head of the list like others who fail to register.

Other Points Arise.

At The Tribune Public Service office, where John F. Gillespie is in charge of the draft bureau, a corps of assistants will answer these and hundreds of other questions in detail.

For instance, those having enrolled at colleges or universities for this academic year will escape the draft until July 1, 1941, but to be so classed they definitely must be working toward a degree.

Many aliens are puzzled about their status. They are told at the bureau that they must register, but that only those who have declared their intentions of becoming citizens [who have taken out first papers] will be inducted into training service.

The fact that the army is continuing its recruiting efforts in spite of the draft law is stressed at all times, Gillespie said.

DO YOUR BILLS WORRY YOU? EDDIE WILL HELP YOU, CONFIDENTIALLY

If your charge account has been mysteriously paid up in the last few weeks, perhaps you can thank Edward A. Peterson, 39 years old, 4051 Kenmore avenue. He was seized last night after trying to pay the furniture account of one J. A. Seidner at Moeller Brothers & Co., 1272 Milwaukee avenue.

Peterson, who has served two federal prison terms for mail pilfering, worked this way: He would take dividend, WPA and workmen's compensation checks from mail boxes. He would also take instalment house payment books and statements that had been mailed to individuals. Then he would go around to the instalment house, represent himself as the individual, pay up the account and take the difference between a stolen check and the stolen statement in change. He has paid people's bills at many places of business, he said last night.

The trouble with Seidner's account was that Seidner had just made a payment. And the store clerk, Joseph Moeller Jr., knew him personally. Peterson fled—into the arms of Detectives Edward Kennedy and Thomas Carey of the Racine avenue police.

The Army Has Its Pulse Read to 225 Medics

BY EDWARD WILSON.

"If you think you are just going to practice medicine when you are called into the army—you are mistaken."

Lieut. Col. A. G. Hutter.

That is what Lieut. Col. A. G. Hutter, senior medical instructor of the Illinois military area, told 225 members of the Cook County Medical chapter of the Reserve Officers association last night in the Army and Navy club. Few of the physicians ever had seen active duty.

"Physical examinations may be pick-and-shovel work to you now," Col. Hutter said, "but you'll make them until you are sick of them in the army.

Demands Cover Wide Scope.

"Then some morning the commanding officer will order you to give an hour lecture on sex and morals. You'll give that lecture to an entire post of grown men.

"After the lecture you may find a call from the cook. He's worried about the day's meat supply. He wants to know if you think it is contaminated.

"There may be doubt in your mind about that meat when you inspect it, and to be safe you are inclined to say it is contaminated. But if you do condemn it," Col. Hutter admonished, "just remember the men will go without meat until the next day's rations arrive—so you must be right."

"You'll learn to be prompt in the army," he went on. "And being prompt doesn't mean being five minutes early, or five minutes late.

Troops to Command, Too!

"You aren't accustomed to bawling orders at men, but some morning you will find yourself leading the medical detachment past the reviewing stand—and you will do it."

Col. Hutter said a medical officer must be broadminded, mellow, tolerant, meticulous, exemplary, able to command respect of all doctors and nurses, have vision, make prompt decisions and stand behind them.

Dr. Harold I. Meyer, a major in the medical reserve corps, was elected president of the chapter.

BRITISH RAID MILES OF HITLER COAST; FOE RAINS TONS OF BOMBS ON LONDON

French and Belgian Shores Scene of 'Scarlet Fury.'

LONDON, Sept. 19, Thursday (AP).—British bombers beat furiously today at the German held French and Belgian coasts in the heaviest of all their long series of assaults on German bases. Flames of bursting shells and explosives leaped high in the air across the English channel.

Early this morning, the scene along the French and Belgian coastlines was one of scarlet fury—a leaping medley of light and fire from British bombs and parachute flares and German ground guns. The long white beams of the searchlights stretched far out over the channel toward England.

The raid, intended to smash those German facilities for invasion which are closest to England, began soon after 9 o'clock last night and hours later many miles of the French coast seemed ablaze.

Pound at Boulogne Area.

Fresh squadrons of British bombers pounded first at the area of Boulogne and then widened their attack to a violent bombardment of the Calais region, where great fires sprang up into the night.

One pilot who bombed Boulogne dove to 200 feet to make sure he had done his work well, air ministry sources said. His London home had been demolished a few nights before by German bombers. The pilot reported that barges and other "invasion ships" were hit and that he could see the flames from them for 20 miles.

The new thrusts were part of the endless campaign of counterattack against the ever present threat of invasion. They came after reports that heavy and repeated bombing attacks Tuesday night upon German held ports had done "much damage."

Cherbourg, France, was heavily bombed, for one. Two supply ships were reported sunk, and many fires left blazing in the harbor.

Bomb Gun Emplacements.

Nazi heavy gun emplacements across the channel at Cape Gris Nez, France, were bombed again. Attacked, too, were German key centers at Krefeld, Hamm, Ehrang, Osnabrueck, Soest, and Brussels—cities thru which German soldiers and German supplies would be brought for invasion.

Hamburg, Antwerp, Terneuzen, Flushing, Zeebrugge, Dunkirk, Calais, and Boulogne — in Germany, the Netherlands, Belgium, and France—were targets of "heavy and sustained" night attacks, a communique said. The freight yards at Stockum, near Cologne, were bombed.

The British announced also that their bombers had made direct hits on harbor facilities at Ostend and on ships at Zeebrugge, Belgium, and on a German convoy off The Hague, the Netherlands.

One raider attacked four barges off the coast and hit two of them, the communique said, while others bombed a new airdrome at Ymuiden, the Netherlands.

LAUGHTON HEARS GERMAN BOMBER FELL ON HOME

Charles Laughton, distinguished British actor who will star tonight in the radio presentation, "Ode to Chicago," on station W-G-N and the Mutual network, received two pieces of news last night. They were [1] that his London mansion has been rented, and [2] that it was damaged severely when a huge Junkers 88 dive bomber fell on it after being hit by antiaircraft shells.

First reports of the crash, from the Associated Press, said the damaged house was the home of Walter Grabner, head of the London office of Time and Life magazines. Later it was established that Grabner had rented Laughton's house.

"It is probable my agents have rented the place recently," said Laughton here. "Their last letter was dated three weeks ago. I should be glad to receive some rents from it.

"I should be glad also," he continued, "to sacrifice 20 houses if German dive bombers would smash themselves to bits on them. To hell with the cash if they can bring down the Junkers. It was a glorious end for the house."

BERLIN 'CALLS UP' 500 GIRLS WHO KNOW ENGLISH

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Sept. 18.—The belief that a German attempt to invade Great Britain is imminent was given added substance today when it was announced that 500 stenographers who are proficient in the English language have been "engaged for service" under sealed orders.

These mystery girls, it was learned, were forbidden to tell their families or their employers that they had received summonses from the government to be ready for duty upon 24 hours' notice.

Lending significance to this development was the disclosure, by Germans, that "on the eve of the western offensive, similar groups of girls who knew French were called to duty."

Call British Amateurs.

Reported British hopes that unfavorable weather might prevent a possible German invasion were derided as "incredible amateurishness." Said the Germans:

"The laws governing the totalitarian war against Britain do not depend on the weather. The high command has shown that it is equal to all tasks and that it knows how to make use of the weather in summer as well as winter."

The Germans persist in their claim that fighter squadrons of the royal air force are weakening rapidly in their attempt to defend London. A fairly accurate idea of how much of the British air force remains was obtained last Sunday, the Germans say. Then, it is asserted, "The British were under the impression that we wanted to attempt a landing. In consequence, they concentrated the bulk of their reserve planes in south England to ward off the attack which did not take place."

Targets of Raiders.

The German high command today listed London docks, water and gas works, and railway stations as the targets of new German bomb attacks. Nazi airmen were quoted as declaring that entire blocks in eastern London had been leveled by bombs.

Other points announced as bombed were Liverpool and Glasgow harbor in Scotland. A 5,000 ton steamer was said to have been attacked north of Ireland, and several large ships in the English channel were reported hit by shore batteries in France.

DOVER LIKES WEATHER

BY STANLEY JOHNSTONE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

IN THE DOVER AREA OF ENGLAND, Sept. 18.—The reduced visibility and rough seas of the Dover area have caused much satisfaction here. Such conditions, it is felt, probably would impede the crossing of German forces in barges and other smaller craft.

German meteorologists admittedly are as good as any others and the present bad weather must have been expected by them, it is presumed. However, the tide and moon were at a peak during the days immediately preceding this break in the weather, and many in Dover are wondering why the Germans did not strike then.

An officer long experienced in weather conditions said he expects winds of gale intensity and heavy seas for the next six or seven days.

BRITISH, NAZI CLAIMS FAR APART ON NUMBER OF PLANES DOWNED

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

British and German statements yesterday illustrated the growing divergence between the two belligerents' claims of the losses each is inflicting on the other's air force in the battle of Britain.

In London: Air Minister Sir Archibald Sinclair said that the Germans had lost 1,867 planes and 4,000 men since Aug. 9, and that the British lost 621 planes and fewer than 600 men.

In Berlin: DNB, the official news agency, said the British had lost 2,096 planes between Aug. 1 and mid-September. German losses for the same period were not recapitulated.

12th Night's Attack Longest of Siege; Ninety Killed.

BULLETIN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 19, Thursday.—This morning a German raider over London planted five high explosive bombs in a row, ripping buildings apart like matchwood. The Tribune correspondent heard the screech of bombs followed by the roar of successive explosions and the rumble of shattered masonry. Buildings in the vicinity rocked from roof to basement.

Experiences thruout last night and early this morning indicate the raiders used gliding tactics to penetrate the aircraft defenses over central London. Twice during the early hours the Tribune correspondent heard aircraft motors roar into life to dispel the illusion of calm. The sound of the motors coincided with a heavy barrage and so far as could be observed from a rooftop the raider failed to drop bombs.

LONDON, Sept. 19, Thursday (AP).—London's most intense night attack of the war ended about dawn today. The capital had been under alarm since 7:54 p. m. Wednesday. The government estimated officially that 90 persons were killed and 350 severely injured in last night's raids.

A home defense communique said damage was mainly to small dwellings in central London and in suburbs south of the Thames river.

More planes took part in the raid—the 12th overnight attack since Germany began her intense assaults on London—than in the Tuesday-Wednesday overnight raid which caused heavy casualties. The assault came after seven daylight raids yesterday.

The bombers caused great destruction in the slums of East London in the early days of the raids. Now they have turned their heavy attacks to the fashionable districts of the capital as well.

In the latest attack, coughing men and women stumbled from fashionable apartments after direct hits were scored by incendiary bombs in central London.

Hit From All Directions.

Big bombs were hurled at the metropolis from the north rim of the south, east, and west.

The shopping area, long the home of many of the world's famous fashion stores, was hit again and again by high explosive projectiles. The plate glass in the windows of one department store which had not been touched heretofore was smashed by a bomb exploding in the street.

London's antiaircraft gun barrage brought down at least two of the raiders—one of them a Junkers 88, Germany's latest type of bombing plane. One fell in Hyde Park, the other on a house owned by Charles Laughton, the actor.

The raiders violently strafed the center of London, dropping fat, blazing oil bombs in an effort to set fires in the city to guide them to their targets.

Roof of Church Caves In.

A Roman Catholic church in a western area of the city was struck by bombs and its roof caved in. Three fashionable houses were struck by incendiary or high explosive bombs and seven bombs fell in a park.

The Germans pressed home their attacks thru a storm of steel thrown up by antiaircraft batteries. Firemen worked quickly, and successfully, too, in their fleet of taxi drawn pumps to extinguish the oil bombs as they fell, and scores of smaller incendiary bombs as well.

Not only London was raided; German planes likewise were over southeast, southwest and northeast England, and Wales.

It was reported officially at 10 p. m. last night that 46 German planes had been destroyed up to that time. Nine British planes were admitted lost, but the pilots of five were reported saved.

Mightiest Raid Checked.

During Wednesday's seven daylight attacks on London, the air ministry said, not a bomb fell in the city itself, altho explosives killed an undetermined number of persons along the Thames estuary.

The mightiest of all the almost

BRITISH BOMBERS RIP NEW ITALIAN BASE IN EGYPT

Heavy Artillery Is Blasted at Sidi Barrani.

CAIRO, Egypt, Sept. 18 (AP).—British airmen today heavily attacked Fascist desert troops at Sidi Barrani, 60 miles inside the Egyptian frontier, military headquarters announced.

The British aerial counterattack extended from that newly won Italian base clear along the Mediterranean coast into Libya, it was said officially.

Singled out especially for bombardment were heavy artillery and other equipment which the Fascists had moved into Sidi Barrani.

Transports Set Afire.

At least 10 fires were started in attacks on Italian transports at Buqbuq, farther west, the second city the Italians occupied in Egypt.

At Bengazi, Libya, about 350 miles west of Sidi Barrani, the British said Italy's biggest military airdrome in North Africa went up in flames after British flyers attacked it.

In other Mediterranean operations the British air force announced four planes attacking the British sea base at Malta were shot down.

Italians Hunt British "Guerrillas."

ROME, Sept. 18 (AP).—The fast striking Italian army of Marshal Rodolfo Graziani spread southward from its new Egyptian base at Sidi Barrani today in an effort to mop up strong armored forces which the British have planted in desert ravines to conduct a "guerrilla warfare on wheels."

With her forces already 60 miles inside Egyptian territory at Sidi Barrani, heat, lack of water, and British resistance were the main concern of Italian strategists as they mapped the next advance toward Matruh, 78 miles east on the Mediterranean, in the drive to the Suez Canal.

Italians said about 2½ gallons of water are allotted to each man daily for drinking, bathing, and cooling motors of their vehicles. For the estimated 260,000 men in Graziani's army this would mean 650,000 gallons of water daily.

This huge bulk is carried by a fleet of water trucks from wells and pipelines prepared at the rear.

Two Columns Advancing.

These arrangements, Italians said, would circumvent the fact the British had salted and dynamited the 12 old Roman wells at Sidi Barrani before they retired.

Two Italian columns are advancing, one composed of white troops along the coast, and the other consisting of natives paralleling it to the south from Sidi Omar, it was reported.

Eleven British planes were declared to have been destroyed in air battles accompanying the troop actions. The Italians said they lost six planes.

They admitted a pontoon and torpedo boat were sunk, a steamer damaged, and many fires caused by the British air raids on Bengazi and Derna in Libya.

GERMAN U-BOAT, MINE DESTROY 2 PANAMA TANKERS

New York, Sept. 18 (AP).—Two Panamanian oil tankers owned by a subsidiary of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey—the James McGee, 9,859 gross tons, and the Joseph Seep, 7,088 tons—have been destroyed in the war at sea.

The James McGee was torpedoed by a German U-boat in the Irish channel while en route to England with a cargo of oil, Standard Oil officials said. The Joseph Seep struck a mine and sank at Havre, France. There was no loss of life on the ships.

The 11,442 ton Polish passenger liner Chrobry, built shortly before Germany invaded Poland, was destroyed by an aerial torpedo while serving with British vessels in the Norwegian campaign, Polish officials said tonight. Nine crewmen and an undetermined number of British troops being evacuated from Narvik were killed. British destroyers saved several hundred men.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TORONTO, Ont., Sept. 18.—More than 200 tanks purchased in the United States will be available immediately to train Canada's armored brigade, J. L. Ralston, defense minister, announced today. The tanks will be centered at Camp Borden, but there will be some at other training camps.

HUNGARIAN NAZI FREED; PARTISANS BATTLE POLICE

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Sept. 18 (AP).—Several persons were injured tonight in a clash between police and members of the Nazi Arrow Cross party who were celebrating the release of their leader, Maj. Ferenc Szalasi, so-called "Hitler of Hungary."

The demonstration occurred in front of the party's "brown house." Many of the Arrow Cross men wore their green shirts, which are forbidden. Szalasi was not present. He was reported to be planning to leave tomorrow for the estate of Andras Mecser, a close friend of Adolf Hitler.

The major was imprisoned July 6, 1938, on a charge of treason and conspiracy to set up a dictatorship. His party was then dissolved. It is reported he will be restrained from political activity.

HIGH SEAS BALK RESCUE OF 22 ON SHIP OFF QUEBEC

PORT MENIER, Anticosti Island, Que., Sept. 18 (AP).—Heavy seas breaking over the grounded British freighter Incemore stopped rescue work tonight, leaving the ship's captain and 21 of her crew still clinging to the vessel's rigging.

The 4,098 ton vessel went on the rocks yesterday off this island in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, and 15 men were brought ashore.

Today rescuers brought eight more of the crew ashore in a breeches buoy. Two attempts were made to launch lifeboats from the freighter but they were smashed by the surf.

SWISS CHIEF HIT FOR TALKS WITH TOTALITARIANS

BERNE, Switzerland, Sept. 18 (AP).—President Marcel Pilet-Golaz was rebuked today by a large section of the Swiss federal legislature for the audience he granted eight days ago to leaders of the totalitarian Swiss nationalist movement.

A statement issued in behalf of four leading parties, representing 126 out of 191 seats of the national council, which is the lower house of the federal legislature, expressed "regret" for the president's action.

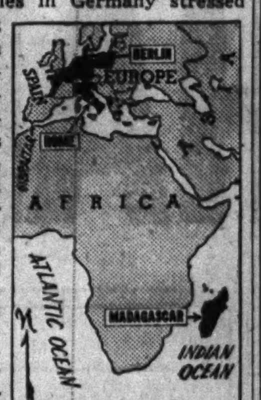
NAZIS SAY ROME TALKS CAN ONLY RESULT IN ACTION

Ribbentrop Weighs Spain's Role.

BERLIN, Sept. 18 (AP).—All informed circles in Germany stressed tonight that Joachim von Ribbentrop's forthcoming conversations in Rome will result in axis "action, not words." It was hinted that Spain and Egypt are the primary subjects for consideration.



Map locates Madagascar, which Axis may award to Spain.

Foreign Minister Von Ribbentrop left today to consult Premier Mussolini and other leaders of Fascist Italy, and it was learned tonight that on his return he again will see Ramon Serrano Suner, Spanish foreign minister, who is now in Berlin. This fact was taken in political circles as lending added significance to Spain's place in what Germans call the coming scheme of things.

That Spain will want something in return for her coöperation is accepted, and most frequently mentioned is the great French island colony of Madagascar, in the Indian ocean.

ASKS MORE HELP FOR BRITAIN TO AID OUR DEFENSE

Admiral William H. Standley, former chief of naval operations, asserted last night that the United States, as it advances with its own rearmament program, should send more and more ships, airplanes, and munitions to the aid of Britain in the fight against Hitlerism.

Admiral Standley, now retired, spoke at the massmeeting in the Coliseum of the William Allen White Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies. The crowd, estimated at 11,000 to 12,000, included large delegations from nationalities who have been targets in Hitler's drive to power.

Illinois Chapter Praised.

Adlai E. Stevenson, local chairman of the White committee, which has 600 chapters thruout the nation, complimented the Illinois chapters for the enthusiasm they had aroused in the program and also expressed gratitude to the Slavic, Swedish, and Jewish press of Chicago for their work.

Anthony Czarnecki, former collector of customs and Polish-American leader, won enthusiastic applause from sections of the hall when he asserted that a victory for democracy would halt the possibility of racial discrimination in America. Judge Harry M. Fisher of the Circuit court and Chief Justice John J. Sonsteby of the Municipal court added their support to the program from the speaker's stand. Also present on the speaker's stand was J. J. Zmrhal, a leader in Chicago Czech circles.

Pleads for Plane Shipments.

"Britain, just now, represents democracy," Admiral Standley told the crowd. "It is not for us to talk about sending soldiers across the seas to fight. Altho they may be needed, infantry will not win the victory or forestall defeat. But airplanes may well be the one decisive factor in stopping Hitlerism. American planes at this time may make up the deficiency that the British lack. Just as the 50 American destroyers may prove to be the decisive factor in preventing German invasion by sea, so additional American planes may now be the decisive factor in saving British civilians from the air war."

Admiral Standley expressed his sympathy for the pledge taken by the Legion of Mothers of America to make every effort to avoid sending American boys to fight on foreign soil.

"But," he continued, "I want to say to those mothers that to wait for war to come to our shores, when we know it is inevitable, is the greatest crime imaginable."

Asks Release of Mosquito Boats.

Admiral Standley advocated that America provide an adequate number of mosquito boats to Great Britain to forestall the German U-boat menace in the Atlantic. In conclusion, he quoted from a telegram sent by Gen. Douglas MacArthur, former chief of staff of the United States army, to the White committee.

The telegram said, in part:

"Such coördinated help as may be regarded as proper by our leaders should be synchronized with the British effort so that the English speaking peoples of the world will not be broken in detail."

Maury Maverick, mayor of San Antonio, Tex., urged that the United States help England until "it is enough to beat Hitler."

Sees Peril to America.

"Yes, America will be destroyed, unless we take notice and act," Maverick told the meeting. "We know that the totalitarian powers—and principally the Nazis under Mr. Hitler—offer us, as they do all the world, total death—death of self-respect, honor, and liberty."

Douglas Fairbanks Jr., motion picture actor, said that the people of the United States should declare "ourselves openly and act on it while there is still time" and give the British all possible assistance. Dorothy Thompson, newspaper columnist, said that the present war is a part of a world wide revolution which ultimately involves the methods of production and distribution, the economic systems, the international relationships, and the social and human values of all the people on the earth.

Pickets from the American Peace Mobilization, Chicago council, 203 North Wabash avenue, marched outside the Coliseum as the crowd gathered. They carried signs which said: "Aid to Allies—The First Step to War," and "Lest We Forget 1918—40 Million Dead."

1,000 to 2,000 Pilots Month by '41 Is Australia's Goal

New York, Sept. 18.—Australia will be in a position by 1941 to provide between 1,000 and 2,000 air pilots a month to Britain's air force in the war with Germany, Richard Gardiner Casey, Australian minister to the United States, predicted today.

FEUCHTWANGER REPORTED HELD BY BERLIN POLICE

BERLIN, Sept. 18 (AP).—Lion Feuchtwanger, German writer, who fled from the reich in 1933, is in the hands of Berlin police, it was reported tonight. A well informed source denied that the writer was beheaded in Paris as was rumored abroad. Official confirmation of his detention could not be obtained. [It was presumed Feuchtwanger was taken in custody in France.]

Feuchtwanger and 32 other internationally known Germans escaped across the border in 1933 after the Nazis assumed power. They were later declared to have lost their German citizenship because "they harmed German interests by their behavior."

'DEFENSE!' CRY FOR 3D TERM IS CALLED HOKUM

Johnson Explodes Myth of Indispensability.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Gen. Hugh S. Johnson charged yesterday that President Roosevelt's New Deal supporters are using national defense as a political football and that reëlection of the President for a third term would be disastrous to America's own defense.

"The myth of indispensability," he said, "because of industrial leadership in rearmament, is the worst hokum of all."

Gen. Johnson, who originated the plans for a selective draft in 1917 and was NRA administrator in 1933, addressed 750 members of the National Association of Motor Bus Operators in the Drake hotel. He made no mention of Wendell L. Willkie by name, saying his address was not political in a partisan sense.

Defense An Issue, He Insists.

He assailed declarations that defense should not be discussed as a campaign issue, saying the third term is a political question and is married to the defense question.

"I didn't perform the wedding ceremony," he said. "The New Deal did. It says a third term is necessary for defense. I say it would be disastrous to defense."

Whether America is to enter the war and to become a war dictatorship is an issue in the campaign, Gen. Johnson asserted.

Tells Dictatorship Threat.

"It is now clear," he said, "that if he [President Roosevelt] can't be beaten we shall be in war or so close to war that this government will be a war dictatorship with almost unlimited powers in the hands of the President. If that happens, it will be the last of the safety and solvency of the United States, and we shall say a last farewell to the kind of American democracy we have known so long and loved so well."

Arguments that the President should be given a third term on a record of military preparedness, Gen. Johnson said, were dangerous, demagogic deception as shown by a state of being "hideously unready."

Blasts "Great Skill" Claim.

"A second great reason advanced for putting our democracy in a strait jacket is Mr. Roosevelt's great skill in now conducting our industrial mobilization for defense.

"Any one who knows what is going on—or rather not going on—in that bedlam of confusion, frustration and futility of industrial progress knows this claim is as gross a piece of insupportable misrepresentations and hoodwinking as all the other angles to the claim of indispensability and perpetuation in a third term.

"There is no industrial leadership in this effort with sufficient authority—or any authority—just advisory. You know what advice is worth.

"This crowd in control thinks the way to lead industry is with the toe of a No. 12 boot and a cat-of-nine tails."

RETURN THIEF, 18, TO MILWAUKEE.

John Brandt, 18 years old, who was captured here Tuesday stealing a car after abandoning another car stolen in Milwaukee, was returned to Milwaukee by police yesterday. He has confessed 11 burglaries in Milwaukee.

FIRST GUARD UNIT TO LEAVE TODAY FOR TEXAS CAMP

The first group of National Guardsmen to depart from Chicago for a year's training under federal orders will leave the 202d coast artillery regiment's armory, 5917 Broadway, at 8 a. m. today. In this group will be five officers and 207 men, who will make the 10 day trip to Fort Bliss, Tex., in a convoy of 70 vehicles. Twelve of the trucks in the convoy will tow the regiment's 12 three-inch antiaircraft guns. The rest of the regiment, which includes 1,397 men and 60 officers, will go to Texas in three trains, one tomorrow, another Sunday, and the last next Wednesday.

Prepaid to 600 Miles

Thirty tall, giant late tulips, six each of five named varieties separately bagged and labeled, embracing these colors:

RED, PINK, ORANGE, YELLOW, LAVENDER

With war shutting out bulbs from Holland, tulips are a rarity this fall. These bulbs were grown in our own fields in Oregon, where we have the largest American planting. In several years of tests they proved equal or superior to imported Dutch bulbs. They are tall, giant, Darwin, Cottage and Breeder varieties, without rivals in the spring garden. With tulip bulbs so scarce few gardens will enjoy their beauty next spring. Make yours one of these few!

FRANCE MOVES TO TRY DALADIER AND GEN. GAMELIN

Files Formal Charges in War Guilt Quiz.

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

VICHY, France, Sept. 18.—Findings against former Premier Edouard Daladier and Gen. Maurice Gustave Gamelin, on which they probably will be tried two weeks hence, were submittted to justices of the Riom high court of justice today by Procuror General [Prosecutor] Cassagneu.

General Gamelin.

The findings, resulting from an investigation by the examining magistrates, are the basis on which indictments will be made and the trials conducted. The nature of the charges was not disclosed.

With other former French leaders, Daladier and Gamelin are being held at Château Chazeron, near here, in connection with France's inquiry into responsibility for loss of the war.

Guy La Chambre, minister of aviation in the Daladier government until last March, has boarded a Clipper plane at New York and is returning to submit himself to the Riom court, it was reported here.

Other Arrests Hinted.

Whether more guests will be added to those now at the Château Chazeron is causing much speculation. Sounds of hammering and sawing from within the castle indicate that more accommodations are being prepared.

Two servants take care of the housekeeping for the five famed prisoners now there — Daladier, Leon Blum, and Paul Reynaud, former premiers; Georges Mandel, former minister of the interior, and Gen. Gamelin, former generalissimo of the allied forces. A cook has also been engaged.

The secret of the life of the prisoners, what they do all day and how they pass the time, is strictly kept.

Blum to Tell His Rôle.

L'Avenir of Clermont-Ferrand, discussing the Blum arrest, said:

"Our military defeat cannot be separated from the social and political régime to which it furnished a natural conclusion. To make of it a sort of historical fatality without personalized responsibilities, and to reduce Popular Front days to a banal episode in the give and take of electoral parliamentiarism, this does not correspond to the realities of the situation. Blum, the man most representative of that folly, is going to be questioned on the rôle he played in it."

'BOMB BLIZZARD' ON LONDON FAILS, EXPERTS CLAIM

LONDON, Sept. 18 (AP).—Military attachés and correspondents who experienced the blizzards of bombs which fell on Warsaw, Barcelona, and Madrid, today expressed belief that London already has taken more punishment than any other city, even Rotterdam, in the past 11 days of intensive German air attacks.

Despite these attacks, however, the consensus of these experienced observers was that the German Luftwaffe [air force] had failed to achieve the raids' two main purposes and that the prospects of invasion were diminished because of this failure. They gave the two prime objectives as:

1. Disorganization of London's communications so that supplies and reinforcements could not be sent to the areas where invasion is planned and,
2. Demoralization of the civilians.

DRAFT AND ENLISTMENT

Cook county officials took steps yesterday to prepare for the registration Oct. 16 of hundreds of thousands of men of draft age. They worked on the assumption that federal funds to cover expenses will not be sufficient to pay registrars or rent for the registration places.

County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki directed the Chicago board of election commissioners to send letters asking owners to donate the use of 3,848 precinct polling places under the board's jurisdiction and asking the 19,240 judges and clerks of election to donate their services on registration day.

Await Copy of Proclamation.

It was asserted, however, that the letters will not be sent until receipt of an official copy of President Roosevelt's conscription proclamation which calls on officials and other citizens to offer their services.

County Clerk Michael J. Flynn, who controls election machinery in 728 precincts of Cook county, said 400 to 500 letters were received yesterday from persons offering their services in the registration.

Jams B. McCahey, president of the Chicago board of education, offered Paul G. Armstrong, newly appointed director of selective service in Illinois, the use of Chicago schools for registration.

There are 400 elementary and high schools in Chicago. This, McCahey said, is an average of eight per ward, and it may not be necessary to open all for the registration.

Armstrong and Regan Confer.

Armstrong and Adjt. Gen. Lawrence V. Regan conferred in Chicago yesterday, but asserted that the real work of the draft officials will not start until after the registration is completed and the registration cards are returned to the state's 284 local draft boards.

They said the two assistant state selective service directors and the personnel of the 284 local draft boards probably will not be announced until the week-end.

Regan left last night for Springfield and Armstrong, changing earlier plans to visit the state capital, will leave this morning for Boston, Mass., for the national American Legion convention next week. He is a candidate for national commander.

Altho the selective service law has been passed, men of draft age—21 to 35, inclusive—still may enlist in the armed forces—with the opportunity of learning trades and skills in which these services are prepared to train much of their personnel.

Army, navy, marine corps, and National Guard officials emphasized yesterday that recruiting continues in full swing.

[A dispatch from Washington, D. C., yesterday, however, said that the one year enlistments provided for in the conscription law are not yet possible. Recruiting officers cannot take one year volunteers, it was explained, tho selective service boards, which will function after draft registration, can accept them.]

Here Are Possibilities.

ARMY—Recruits between 18 and 35; must be healthy, unmarried citizens of good repute. Enlistment three years. Recruits can choose from a wide list of branches, the 6th corps area now seeking enlistments in the medical department, infantry, field artillery, air corps, quartermasters corps, ordnance, signal corps, and coast artillery.

Tradesmen and other skilled workers developed in the army include mechanics, radio operators, draftsmen, cooks, electricians, chauffeurs, photographers, welders, horseshoers, and airplane mechanics.

NAVY—Recruits between 18 and 31, altho former service men up to 35 are accepted. First enlistment six years, subsequent enlistments four. Some trades: Machinist, electrician, painter, printer, shipfitter, sailmaker, and pharmacist.

MARINE CORPS—For men 18 to 30. Enlistments for four years. Offers advancement thru seven branches: Music, signal and radio, quartermaster, line [unit noncommissioned officers], paymaster, aviation, and mess.

One Unit Fills Quota.

NATIONAL GUARD—Every guard in Chicago, except the 202d coast artillery [antiaircraft], which has reached its quota, is accepting recruits preparatory to beginning a year's training under federal orders.

AIR CORPS FLYING RESERVE—For men with two years' college or who can pass examination. Ages, 20 to 27. Will be trained as pilots.

NAVAL RESERVE AVIATION—Men between 20 and 27 years old. Agree to remain on active duty four years; agree to retain flying efficiency thereafter. Trained as pilots in naval reserve aviation.

WATCHES BRITISH DIG OUT VICTIMS OF GERMAN BOMB

BY W. T. YARBROUGH.

LONDON, Sept. 18 (AP).—"It is feared that casualties may be heavier than in recent nights," said the calm, prosaic, official communique.

Not so calm, I saw rescue workers bring the still forms of a baby and five women from the basement of a flaming, bomb shattered home in northeastern London.

Then I watched a woman ambulance driver pump faint signs of life into three of the woman victims.

The woman driver told us:

"That's one bomb. We've had worse. We've had absolute hell."

In the gray dawn we had tea and waited for an all clear signal. As it sounded, swelling to a din, the woman driver said simply:

Calls London 'a Glowing Spot.'

BERLIN, Sept. 18 (AP). — The German press, quoting a Nazi pilot who flew over England today, said London looked like a "vast hot glowing spot in the gray English countryside."

The pilot, Josef Rieder, said: "The conflagrations looked like yawning wounds in the earth. They were scattered over the whole city and flared up from more than a hundred vital spots in the metropolis."

Submarine Narwhal Lost, British Admiralty Admits

LONDON, Sept. 18 (AP).—The admiralty announced tonight that the British submarine Narwhal was overdue and considered lost.

MRS. ROOSEVELT FAVORS DRAFT ON ALL-TIME BASIS

Washington, D. C., Sept. 18 [Special].—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt expressed the hope at her press conference today that permanent legislation providing for compulsory service training as well as military training will be passed. President Roosevelt has suggested such training to enlist the old and the young of both sexes on the defense supply and maintenance front.

Commenting on the conscription of married men, Mrs. Roosevelt said her four sons should be called to the colors in preference to men whose families would suffer by their absence. Because her sons' families would not starve if they were called away, they are more eligible for service than many family men, she said.

Mrs. Roosevelt disclosed that she will make a swing around the country in October, but the tour will be nonpolitical. She said she does not plan any campaign speeches despite appeals by many groups. She will visit her sons and daughter in Texas, California, Washington and New York, she said.

PETAIN 'CLEANS HOUSE'; OUSTS 34 'GOVERNORS'

Acts to Enforce Decrees of Vichy Regime.

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

VICHY, France, Sept. 18.—The difficulties which Chief of State Marshal Philippe Petain is experiencing in enforcing the large crop of laws and regulations his government has decreed are reflected in his new order by ousting the prefects of 34 of France's 90 departments.

Marshal Petain.

This wholesale shakeup comes in the wake of colonial difficulties caused by the allegiance of many French colonial officials to the "Free France" movement being directed from London by Gen. Charles de Gaulle.

In his drastic revision of France's "governors," Petain swung his axe thru both the occupied and unoccupied parts of the country.

Reason for the Shakeup.

Petain's main reason for the cleanup was that many departments have failed to enforce or even observe decrees and laws issued from Vichy. This situation is laid to the fact that many of the prefects were adherents of the prearmistice régime and even to the old Popular Front. To this was added the division of the country.

This division into occupied and unoccupied zones also manifests itself thru contrasting ideological adherences, complicated by the fact that sections of the French populace are said to not fully realize the scope of France's defeat, expecting that after a more or less short period everything will be as before.

That the German army of occupation is having similar trouble was seen in a report from Bordeaux that the Nazi authorities there have threatened prosecution by military tribunals of all Bordeaux shopkeepers who refuse to accept German marks from either German soldiers or civilians.

Battle Colonial Revolts.

Some time ago, to counteract disloyalty and intrigue in its colonies and protectorates, the Vichy government appointed new governors and residents general. Among these was Admiral Jean Charles Abrial, who distinguished himself in the Dunkirk evacuation. He was named to govern Tunis. Later Gen. Maxim Weygand, French commander in chief at the time of the armistice, was made plenary delegate to the Petain government in Africa.

It was announced that Gen. Tetu of the French air corps has been named vice governor of French Equatorial Africa.

RAIDS COST ONLY FOOD FOR A DAY, BRITAIN BOASTS

Says It Can Be Made Up by Skipping Meal.

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 18.—Britain today boasted that her food supplies had come out of 11 days of German raiding almost unscathed, altho "it was quite obvious an attack was being made on the food supplies." Lord Woolton, food minister, declared that "at the most one day's consumption of one particular commodity" had been destroyed by Nazi bombs. He said the population could make this up "by going without one meal."

Woolton declared that the responsibility of feeding those made homeless by the raids rested with the ministry of health. He said he had asked London authorities to consider providing communal distributive kitchens for persons who, while not actually destitute, have been forced to leave their homes. Mobile kitchens prepared to rush from place to place as needed already are being provided, he added.

Difficulties in Getting Food.

He also mentioned the difficulty that housewives are experiencing in getting food because shops are closed during raids. He promised "latitude" for those unable to obtain the supplies allotted to them under the rationing system. Shopkeepers refuse to take all the blame, saying that wholesalers are failing to deliver on time.

Minister of Aircraft Production Lord Beaverbrook's Evening Standard today devoted a column to the question of the best protection against bombers which is available to the British. It insisted that war production must be maintained to achieve victory, but that all the workers must know their families have good shelters "over their heads."

Suggests Debris Be Used.

The paper claimed that much needed shelters can be constructed to house 120 persons, of whom only one in 10 would be killed. It suggested that brick, mortar, cement, and steel from houses and buildings already demolished by bombs could be used.

Minister of Labor Ernest Bevin made a special appeal to workers to carry on in spite of the air raids.

"I know their risks, but they are no greater than those of the men in the Spitfires fighting the enemy," he said. "It is total war. The less production is stopped the quicker we create our own defense and security."

TONS OF BOMBS POUR ON LONDON THRU 12TH NIGHT

Rich Homes and Stores Are Hardest Hit.

endless flights of daylight raiders never reached the city at all. It was broken up in a thunderous battle high over the Thames estuary by the coördinated counterattack of British fighter pilots and antiaircraft guns.

Some 300 German planes were in that great wave and it was noted that the Nazi bombers were extraordinarily outnumbered by their protecting fighter craft.

Just as the invaders came in over the estuary, British fighter planes came down from above 15,000 feet; British interceptors rose angrily from below, and British guns bellowed in the crisp autumn air. At least ten Germans were reported shot down. Most of the rest, it was said, withdrew in disorder.

But despite this success, one of the greatest single British air victories of the war, other German raiders broke thru the outer defenses all during Wednesday. Those reaching London were in small units; once three German bombers were noted above the city, flying along in single file like infantrymen on patrol.

The weather cleared during the day, and the sun shone intermittently on eastern England, but in the English channel the tides leaped up to their highest mark of the year.

Experts in such matters said it would be at least a week before the seas dropped to a more nearly normal level.

High tide can give German barges another foot or two of seaway along the beaches and shore lines. But it can endanger those same barges in any attempt at crossing the channel.

Hit 3 Famous Stores.

Wednesday's seven daylight raids were the greatest number in a day so far and followed a new high in the attack Tuesday night that lasted for 9 hours and 54 minutes. The longest previous night raid lasted for 9 hours and 40 minutes on Sept. 8-9.

In Tuesday night's assault new damage was done in London's popular Oxford street business section. Three of London's world famous stores were hit—John Lewis & Co., Bourne & Hollingsworth, and D. H. Evans & Co.

At Lewis' two charred walls remained. Of the three firms only the shop of Bourne & Hollingsworth looked as if it could be used again. All the windows of Liberty's, noted Regent street department store, were smashed, but the interior was intact.

Soho was hit hard. Berwick street, a familiar market place, was blasted by a time bomb. Three Carnaby street night clubs were wrecked. A four story shop and office building were demolished.

Other parts of England felt the blows of aerial raiders but the government said the damage on the whole was slight.

Several persons, including a child, were killed in northwest coastal towns, and slight damage was reported at industrial premises in the Glasgow area of Scotland.

Spanish Embassy Damaged.

The Spanish embassy in London was slightly damaged by an incendiary bomb in a recent raid, it was made known yesterday.

A delayed action bomb dropped by German raiders in the vicinity of the American embassy in Grosvenor square was removed without incident yesterday.

During a recent raid a bomb fell on the lawn of Westminster abbey, which lies across from the Houses of Parliament, and blasted out a small crater, but caused no damage to the abbey, it was disclosed. An antiaircraft shell, the second within a week, also fell on the abbey lawn, but did not explode. The shell will be left buried in the lawn, like a similar one which dug into the turf during the last war. The first shell exploded near the west door of St. Margaret's church and slightly damaged the west window.

London Alarms Around the Clock

The circle represents a 24 hour clock face, on which are recorded London air raid alarms starting at midnight Tuesday and ending at midnight Wednesday. There was an overlapping of raids in the 24 hour period. An alarm sounded at 8:06 p. m. Tuesday continued in force until 6 a. m. Wednesday. The eighth alarm, touched off at 7:45 p. m. Wednesday, ended at dawn. Hours indicated on the clock are London time, which is six hours ahead of Chicago time.

33D DIVISION'S TRANSPORT UNIT SEEKS RECRUITS

A campaign to recruit the 108th quartermaster regiment, Illinois National Guard, from 379 officers and enlisted men to peace strength of 589 was announced yesterday by Col. Richard Smykal, regimental commander.

A recruiting squad of 20 men traveled in the vicinity of the regiment's armory, 3400 North Western avenue, to answer questions of prospective recruits. The regiment seeks men 18 to 45 years old.

Those enlisted now will be assigned to the National Guard reserve, and as such will not be drafted. When the 108th, along with the rest of the 33d division, is inducted into federal service for a year's training the reservists will become active members of the unit.

The 108th, formed in 1936, is charged with the motor transportation of the 33d division.

LONDONERS SHOW LESS REGARD FOR RAID ALARM NOW

Air Fight Fails to Hold Their Interest.

BY CAPT. M. M. CORPENING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 18—As the Germans continue their aerial siege of the heart of the British empire, the millions who live in the city proper and its environs appear to be paying less attention to the attacks with each passing day.

An aerial combat over the outskirts of the city this afternoon did not hold the attention of persons on the sidewalk. The fighting planes themselves were too high to see, but the intricate patterns of smoke left by their engine exhausts were plainly visible. It was an interesting spectacle to me, a comparative newcomer to London, but it did not impress the Londoners that way. Apparently they were accustomed to such sights.

I made a short drive into the country to obtain a composite view of the public's reaction to the constant bomb attacks. In some suburban areas, the residents behaved in a manner to suggest they were not aware that they were in the midst of an historic struggle. This obviously is not the attitude of those within London proper. They are quicker to appreciate the comforts of a raid shelter when bombs are dropping.

However, in no instances have I discerned any feeling of panic, and this may be considered remarkable when the scale of the German attacks is realized.

The Future Attitude.

Concerning the future public attitude, some foreign observers suggest that the average citizen will more and more be inclined to take shelter when the German raiders come over. Others believe the continued attacks will have the opposite effect—that the public eventually will come to disregard the air alarms and go about its business.

I was with the fire department last night in fighting an incendiary bomb blaze. Altho bombers still were overhead, there was no letdown in the efficiency of the fire fighters. They soon had the blaze under control. The persons affected by this particular fire showed no outward evidence of calamity when they emerged from the raid shelter. The fact that their homes had been destroyed seemed to be taken as a matter of course.

Decorates 20 Polish Airmen for Downing Nazi Planes

LONDON, Sept. 18 (AP).—Gen. Wladyslaw Sikorski, prime minister of the Polish government in exile and commander in chief of his country's forces, today decorated 20 Polish airmen. All are members of the squadron which in a day destroyed 71 German planes. Sixteen flyers received the Polish equivalent of the Distinguished Service Order, the others the equivalent of the Military Cross.

LONDON OFFICE OF U. S. RADIO SYSTEM BOMBED

New York, Sept. 18 (AP).—The London office of the Columbia Broadcasting system has been partially wrecked by German bombs, Edward R. Murrow, chief of the CBS European staff, said in a broadcast from London heard here tonight. Murrow said the two top floors of the building were in the street, but that a survey was necessary before the complete damage could be determined. Columbia's London office is at 14 Langham place, about 200 yards from Broadcasting house, headquarters of the British Broadcasting corporation.

RUBBER SUPPLIES WAIT U. S. IN NEW ZONE OF DEFENSE

Jungle Yield Possibilities Shown by Survey.

BY WAYNE THOMIS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MEXICO CITY, Mexico, Sept. 18.—Supplies of raw rubber sufficient to fill emergency needs of the United States and all other countries of North and South America exist today in tropical jungles. They are within the new American defense zone that will be created thru establishment of air and naval bases in leased British possessions from Newfoundland to the Guianas.

But in order to procure this rubber in commercial quantities, thus taking a long step toward filling an important gap in the United States' list of essential materials and making the country self-sufficient in war, facilities for gathering it must be organized at once. Furthermore, a long range program of developing scientifically planned rubber plantations must be undertaken.

These were the conclusions reached here today after a survey of rubber sources in the Americas by agricultural attachés in American embassies and legations from Mexico City to the Guianas. Lester W. Mallory, attaché here, said development of the plantations appeared to be the most important move. Rubber farms, he said, would florish in southern Mexico, all Central America, and most of northern South America.

Sap of High Quality.

Rubber trees growing in these countries today, the survey disclosed, produce a rubber sap equal, and in some instances superior, to that obtained from trees in the British and Dutch East Indies and Malay states, whence 90 per cent of the world's rubber is exported. But the American rubber would be considerably more expensive than the East Indian rubber now selling at 20 cents a pound in world markets.

Cost, it was indicated by the attachés' reports, may be a secondary consideration in the light of the Americas' possible future war needs.

The need of an American rubber source is seen in import figures for 1938, the last available. In that year the United States bought 606,000 tons of raw rubber, 60 per cent of the world's production of 1,037,000 tons. And of the American imports almost 85 per cent came from the East Indies, 375,000 tons from British Malaya, and 153,000 from the Netherlands Indies.

Trees Slow to Produce.

Natural rubber is obtained in the form of a milky sap, or juice, from a number of various kinds of rubber trees. These grow in hot, steaming lowlands where there is plenty of moisture, from 50 to 100 inches of rain a year, but where there is firm fertile soil. Like many other tropic and semitropical trees, they do not produce for several years after planting. This varies with the species of tree from 3 to 25 years.

Rubber trees grow wild in the jungles of Brazil, a country which once had a monopoly on rubber production. English and Dutch scientists planted plantations in the East Indies, however, and, paying labor 5 cents a day, almost killed the Brazilian industry. The Brazilian laborer receives about 50 cents a day.

Immediate supplies of rubber are to be had almost entirely from wild trees along the Orinoco and Amazon rivers thru northern Brazil, easily within a zone of control from British Guiana, Venezuela, British, French and Dutch Guiana, and Colombia. The same situation holds true in Panama, Costa Rica, Honduras, Guatemala, and in the Mexican states of Yucatan, Campeche, Tabasco, Chiapas, and Oaxaca.

Ford Test in Brazil.

The one exception is the Ford Motor company's Brazilian plantation, where a systematic effort to cultivate rubber trees has been made on a 5,000 acre concession on the Tapajoz river. This concession has been cultivated for nearly 15 years but virtually no rubber has yet been obtained from it. The results of the Ford company's efforts have been kept secret.

Attempts to get rubber plantations in Mexico into production have been frustrated by the vandalism of revolutionaries and by labor legislation that made the industry unprofitable.

Police Aid Shoppers

Curtains that rose on Fall Fashion week Monday have been playing to full houses, H. W. Rieger, executive secretary of the State Street council, announced yesterday. The observance, which coincides with National Retail Demonstration week, began at 10 a. m. Monday with the simultaneous unveiling of store display windows filled with the newest of autumn apparel.

Sales during the first three days show an increase of 8 and 10 per cent over those of last year at the same time, Mr. Rieger stated. "It looks as if the crowds are not only obeying our slogan 'Come See' but are stopping to buy as well."

In a report to the State Street council, which is sponsoring the observance, Capt. David Flynn, chief of traffic, said yesterday, "Crowds the first part of the week were double those of similar days of the week this time of year. There was also a noticeable extended period of late hour traffic. We expect even greater traffic thru the week."

BANDITS RETURN FOR RINGS VICTIM TOLD OF SAVING

Two robbers entered the Davies Finance company at 2209 Michigan avenue on Sept. 3 and compelled the owner's wife, Mrs. Herbert Davies, to surrender $300 and jewelry valued at $7,400. At the time Mrs. Davies reported to the police that the robbers missed two valuable rings which she had hidden in a dress pocket.

Last night the two men returned to the finance company office and announced they were back for the rings. Davies was with his wife.

"No mistakes this time," said one robber. "Unless the lady hands over those rings we'll burn Davies' feet."

They got the rings, valued at $5,000 and $2,000, two fur coats that cost $1,750, a cloth coat valued at $225, and an envelope containing $200 in currency.

'ODE TO CHICAGO' OPENS NEW W-G-N SEASON TONIGHT

Charles Laughton to Star in Cavalcade of City.

In all the might of her vigor and the majesty of her achievement, Chicago will be projected tonight to a far-flung radio audience over station W-G-N and the Mutual Broadcasting system in "Ode to Chicago," a poetic drama that translates the life of this great city in terms of its history and its spirit.

This memorable and moving pageant of the air, inaugurating the 1940-'41 W-G-N season, is but one part of a program of especial interest to the radio audience. Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE and president of W-G-N, is to reveal a series of great new attractions which will be presented during the months that lie immediately ahead.

Civic Leaders to Attend.

Col. McCormick's announcement and "Ode to Chicago" will be broadcast on the weekly In Chicago Tonight program from 7:15 to 8 p. m. More than 600 leaders of business, industry, and civic affairs are to attend in the W-G-N audience studio as guests of Col. McCormick.

"Ode to Chicago," conceived and directed by William A. Bacher, director of programs and production for W-G-N, employs the resources of drama, poetry, sound effects, and an original musical score composed by David Broekman of Hollywood, who has written the music of more than 200 motion pictures.

City to Get Theme Song.

Introduced in the production will be "Song of Chicago," with lyrics by Francis Coughlin and music by Adolf G. Hoffmann of the W-G-N studio staff. It is predicted that this stirring air will supply the want, long recognized, of a song that properly embodies the greatness of the city and its dignity.

Listeners to "Ode to Chicago" will hear the eminent actor, Charles Laughton, in the rôle of a crank who disputes Chicago's title to greatness. He has made a special trip from Hollywood to appear on the program.

The narrator will be Bret Morrison, W-G-N staff artist.

From the cavalcade of those who forged Chicago's spirit will emerge the figures of Capt. Nathan Heald, John Kinzie, and Capt. Wells, of the Old Fort Dearborn days; George M. Pullman, Cyrus McCormick, Mayor Ogden, and fiddling Mark Beaubien; Lincoln, and Logan, and Grant; Marshall Field, Joseph Medill, P. D. Armour, Carter Harrison the elder and many others.

Witness Recalls His Gambling Winnings.

BY FRANK CIPRIANI.

At the old Horseshoe gambling club at 4721 North Kedzie avenue patrons not only won and lost at the dice tables but sometimes, on superspecial occasions, they were treated to steak dinners at the expense of the house. However, the dinners weren't always exactly free. One cost $1,200.

A. C. Bissell of Evanston, a former patron of the club, told about the culinary extras yesterday at the trial of William R. Johnson, reputed gambling boss, in federal District court. Johnson and eight associates are charged with conspiracy to defraud the government of $1,887,864 in income taxes.

Admits He Won at Times.

Bissell, a government witness, testified that he had gambled often in various casinos known as Johnson's houses. He had lost considerably. On cross-examination by defense counsel he admitted he also had won at times. Once he won $1,200 at the Horseshoe club, he said. That was the time he sat down to the free steak dinner.

"After I had won the $1,200," testified Bissell, "they [the house operators] sent out for a dinner for me, and served it to me there."

"Then what happened?" he was asked.

"I stayed and lost the $1,200 after the dinner," Bissell replied.

Bissell identified $675 in personal checks which, he asserted, represented one month's partial losses in 1937. As a result of the losses, he said, he sought a loan of $500 from Jack Sommers, a defendant in the present trial, who was then head of the Horseshoe. Sommers he said, first got the approval of "the boss" before lending him the money. The "boss," Bissell said, was Johnson. Bissell admitted he had not repaid all the loan.

Gambling Dealings Aired.

Most of the day's session was given to piling up more evidence tending to show the financial background of the so-called Johnson gambling empire. On Monday and Tuesday, half a dozen witnesses had told of cash and check transactions amounting to $2,276,000. Yesterday more witnesses added $2,220,000 to that sum, making the gross total $4,496,000. The government contends that at least $3,500,000 of this represented Johnson's income.

Charles Bagshaw, accountant for the Lawrence Avenue Currency exchange, formerly operated at 3424 Lawrence avenue, testified that this "gamblers' bank" did $2,600,000 worth of business from July, 1938, to September, 1939.

The government charges that the exchange merely was a financial front for the gambling syndicate and that it served as a clearing house for checks taken in from patrons of Johnson's gambling houses.

Tells of Johnson Account.

Bagshaw said that checks totaling $1,100,000 were recorded on the exchange books in a "reserve fund" which, he was told, was the "Johnson account." Government attorneys said this was done to separate Johnson's account from the records of other funds handled by the exchange.

Lawrence J. Miller, an assistant United States attorney, charged that only $400,000 of the funds handled by the exchange represented legitimate dealings. Besides the so-called reserve fund, another $1,100,000 was represented in the turnover of gambling money, he said.

Other witnesses told of $20,000 in gambling house money passing thru the Lawndale Currency exchange, boosting the grand total from all sources to $4,496,000 to date.

Freight Line Thru France Links Germany and Spain

BERLIN, Sept. 18.—Rail transportation of freight between Germany and Spain over unoccupied France has begun, the Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung reported today. Trains enter Spain at Hendaye and Irun. All freight cars, however, "presently must be sealed" for the trip across unoccupied France. Trains running from Germany to Spain are made up at Frankfurt-on Main.

RECEIVER PROBES HOSPITAL PLAN OF BARKEEPS' UNION

Stop Monthly Payments Pending Investigation.

Investigation of a hospitalization plan, under which members of the Bartenders and Beverage Dispensers union, local 278, paid $10 a year for service at the American hospital, was started yesterday by Charles E. McGuire, attorney for Roy D. Keehn, receiver of the union.

Keehn has stopped payment on a check for $1,500 to cover an August bill rendered by the hospital, which is at 850 Irving Park boulevard. McGuire said this was done to give him an opportunity to talk to members of the union and to determine the amount of services rendered.

Fails to Present Claim.

He said Attorney Michael Gesas, representing the hospital, promised to appear yesterday before Judge Robert Jerome Dunne to present the hospital's claim, but failed to do so.

Judge Dunne took jurisdiction of the union and appointed the receiver after George B. McLane, veteran business agent, asserted that President Louis Romano was dominated by gangsters.

Attorney A. C. Lewis, representing McLane, said there was a great deal of mystery about the arrangements between Romano, father of the hospitalization plan, and the hospital.

"The membership was notified March 8 the cost would be $2.50 per man a quarter," he said. "There are 4,200 members and the intake under the plan would be $42,000 a year. We don't know how that was to be divided—how much went to the hospital and how much to the union—nor how much treatment bartenders got for their contributions."

Not All of Fund Paid Out.

McGuire said an audit showed that $14,537 had been collected under the plan and that $6,279 had been paid to the hospital between Jan. 1 and July 31. He added that the balance of $8,258 was in the union treasury.

McGuire intends to dissolve the hospital plan only if it appears that the service rendered is not commensurate with the costs—or if further investigation shows irregularities not now apparent.

"I shall probably have to question all bartenders who were treated to get at the basic facts," he said.

BRITAIN BELIEVED GETTING 500 U. S. PLANES A MONTH

Washington, D. C., Sept. 18 [Special].—Officials of the aeronautical chamber of commerce estimated today that American military planes are now being built and delivered to Great Britain at the rate of 500 a month. They said this production is being stepped up and predicted it will reach a peak of 1,000 planes a month by next February or March.

From that time on, according to the Aircraft Trade association, exports to England and Canada will level off at 550 to 575 planes a month, maintaining that volume until April, 1942, when, under the program of the national defense advisory commission, a total of 14,000 planes will have been delivered to the British and 19,000 to the United States army and navy. The drop in production on British orders early next year will be matched by a corresponding increase in combat plane deliveries to America's flying services.

The aeronautical chamber's figures on plane production for the British include both combat and training types, altho current deliveries of the former outnumber the latter about two and a half to one, and this ratio undoubtedly will increase as the volume of planes for Britain grows. This, again, is in accord with plans of the army and navy, whose immediate need is for training planes.

DEDICATE NEW JUVENILE HOME MEDICAL CLINIC

A medical and psychiatric clinic was opened yesterday on the third floor of the Cook County Juvenile Home, Roosevelt road and Ogden avenue. The floor previously was unused altho completed at the time the home was erected 24 years ago.

The new department supplements the facilities for making medical and mental examinations to such a degree that juveniles formerly confined for examinations from three to six weeks now may be examined in from a week to 10 days. The physical examinations will be speeded up thru the coöperation of Dr. Karl A. Meyer, superintendent of County hospital. He will loan doctors to the clinic as needed. Dr. William A. McKee, who formerly did the bulk of the psychiatric work, will be assisted by a staff of six.

Clayton F. Smith, president of the county board; Dr. Paul Schroeder, state psychiatrist, and representatives of nearly every social agency in the county joined Judge Frank Bicek of the Juvenile court in the dedication program yesterday.

UNION LOOTINGS PROBED BY U. S. REVENUE AGENTS

Incomes of Officials Also Under Fire.

Federal investigators are making a thoro investigation of the looting of unions formerly controled by George Scalise, racketeer now under conviction in New York for theft and forgery, it was learned yesterday.

Agents of the internal revenue department are auditing books of the Building Service Employés' International, of which Scalise was president, and its subsidiary, the Chicago Elevator Operators' and Starters' union. It was reported also that they are looking into the personal incomes of Scalise, Thomas J. Burke, vice president of the international, and Frank Diamond, old Capone mobster.

Tells of $118,000 Plunder.

Kenneth Ashley, a bookkeeper, told assistant state's attorneys Tuesday that Scalise had stolen $118,000 from the international by means of fraudulent accounts, and that among the ostensible recipients of large sums were Burke and Diamond.

It is understood that the evidence against Scalise will be turned over to New York authorities, and that he may be prosecuted for evading state income taxes there as well as the federal laws.

Another union under federal investigation is the Bartenders' union, headed by Louis Romano. George McLane, business agent, has asserted that Romano was a tool of gangsters.

Press Hunt for Key Witnesses.

Courtney, who is pressing an inquiry into the treasury looting, said yesterday that unless Paul B. David, missing treasurer of the Building Service Employés union, appears before Saturday, drastic action will be taken against him.

It was announced also that the Chicago police force had been asked to aid in a search for Diamond, one-time chauffeur for Al Capone, who had been subpenaed to appear before the grand jury. He is to be asked why the books showed the international paid him $400 a month while he rendered the organization no service.

A witness yesterday before the grand jury was Thomas C. O'Brien, who was business manager of the elevator operators' union prior to 1935.

Burke was reported to have denied Taylor's assertions that he was allied some years ago with George [Red] Barker and Three Fingered Jack White, notorious gangsters.

SPAIN'S POSTOFFICE WON'T LET MAIL BE SENT TO U. S. IN SHIPS

MADRID, Sept. 18.—The Spanish postoffice now is refusing to accept letters to be mailed to the United States by boat, it was learned today, and the only way mail for America may be sent is by clipper plane.

The reason given for the ship mail ban is that the British are compelling ships carrying mail to the United States to put in at Bermuda and allow it to be censored. After conferences with American embassy officials, a compromise was suggested whereby letters for the United States be marked "via Lisbon," whence they would be forwarded by American Export line boats. However, it appears this solution has been rejected.

In any case, there now is no means of getting a letter to the United States from Spain without its being read by the British censor, for both clippers and American Export boats now are putting in at Bermuda.

Complete Wing Assembly on Army's 70 Ton Bomber

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 18—[Special].—The Douglas Aircraft corporation today released pictures of the biggest airplane ever built, the United States army's four motored B-19, capable of flying nonstop from New York to Europe and back and thence to Los Angeles. Pictures reveal that the wings have been assembled. The plane is to be completed this fall. It has a wing spread of 212 feet and is 112 feet long. The plane, which weighs 70 tons, can take off with a gross weight of 82 tons.

GANDHI EXPLAINS WHY HE PUSHES ANTI-WAR DRIVE

BOMBAY, India, Sept. 18 (AP).—Mohandas K. Gandhi, once more undisputed leader of India's main Nationalist movement, has taken over the delicate task of directing nonviolent antiwar propaganda, but under a pledge that it shall not embarrass Britain.

Seated on the floor and surrounded by shorthand secretaries, Gandhi today explained his stand.

"Because nonviolence is a congress creed involving congress' hostility to all war, it is a vital necessity that congress not identify itself with any war. My desire not to embarrass Britain was necessarily limited and conditioned by the counter necessity for continued congress existence."

If the congress succeeds, he added, "the world can sigh with relief to find a way out of the present monstrous armament maze."

DIES AFTER SLASHING THROAT.

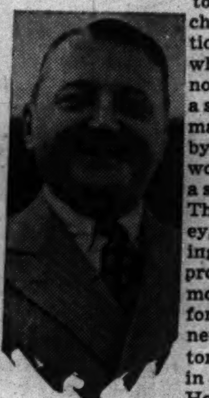
DEWEY AID TELLS HOW RACKETEERS HELP POLITICIANS

Deliver Votes by Force for Protection.

Vote frauds and stolen elections are one method of payment by racketeers to political machines for protection without which they cannot exist. This assertion was made last night by Paul E. Lockwood, executive assistant to Thomas E. Dewey, racket breaking New York prosecutor, before more than 100 foreign language newspaper editors at a dinner in the Palmer House. The meeting was sponsored by the naturalized citizens division of the Republican national committee. Papers printed in 25 different languages were represented.



Paul E. Lockwood.

Lockwood's address was a curtain raiser for speeches expected to be delivered later in Chicago and the midwest by Dewey.

Foundation of a Racket.

"Procuring protection from prosecution," said Lockwood, "is an essential step in the development of a racket. The alliance between racketeering and corrupt politics is founded on the rock of self-interest. Thruout the year the racketeer relies upon the friendship of the dominant political machine to secure for him and his henchmen protection from prosecution.

"When primary day and election day come, the racketeer performs his part of their agreement. In addition to generous cash contributions, he supplies sluggers to terrorize honest men and produces hordes of fraudulent voters to swell the vote of his political allies.

Know Value of Alliance.

"The gorillas of the underworld soon learned the value of offensive and defensive alliances with political bosses. We who live in New York know what this means in the Flynn machine in the Bronx and in Tammany.

"You who live in Chicago know that the Kelly-Nash machine is a stench in the nostrils of all honest men. Boss Pendergast in Kansas City, or as much of his machine that remains, Boss Crump in Memphis, and a host of others are familiar examples. One of the first tasks of the next administration will be to root-them out, root, trunk and branch."

M. W. Tuthill presided at the dinner. Arthur Curtis, assistant director of the Republican national committee, was toastmaster. Greetings from Wendell L. Willkie and Dewey were read.

G. O. P. BUREAU SET UP TO FIGHT ELECTION FRAUD

Establishment of the vote fraud prevention bureau of the Republican county central committee was announced yesterday by Chairman John T. Dempsey. Former Judge Edward B. Casey was placed in charge of the bureau in the La Salle hotel.

Dempsey said the bureau will serve as a clearing house for all who possess fraud information, as well as a training school for fraud prevention at the November election. One of Casey's first tasks will be the compilation of a list of ineligible registrations, which he will ask County Judge Jarecki to strike from the roll of voters.

Republican precinct captains are obtaining data for the list in canvasses, and Casey expects to present it to Judge Jarecki by about Oct. 10, in advance of the registration canvass Oct. 11 and 12. All fraud complaints from workers will be handled by the bureau.

Brooks and Green Assail New Deal

Galesburg, Ill., Sept. 18 [Special].—American leaders who failed to provide proper national defense will be tried for their negligence before the bar of public opinion in November, Wayland Brooks, Republican candidate for United States senator, declared in a speech here today.

"If the head of our government didn't know," Brooks charged, "that the German military force was being built in the last five years then he is not qualified to head the government of the United States. If he did know that tremendous machine was being built, then he failed America in not building a force here so that we would be secure.

Trial in November.

"They are trying the leaders of France today. We will have a trial in America, too, maybe not in a court of justice, but before the bar of public opinion."

Brooks compared the present days to those of 24 years ago when a Democratic administration was approaching its end and Europe was being torn by war.

"That Democratic administration said they had kept us out of war and would keep us out of Europe's shambles if the nation would return them to power," Brooks said. "But the moment they were reinstalled in power, they put us in that war.

Costly for America.

"We gave four million men under arms. We gave everything we could of our agriculture, of our industry, of our money.

"We won the war to end all wars. Now another war is raging in Europe. Another Democratic administration is nearing the end of its tenure in office and again the head of that party tells us he is doing everything to keep us out of war.

"I am telling you today that if you continue this Democratic New Deal administration in power, it will put us in another war more bloody than anything we have ever experienced."

Paris, Ill., Sept. 18 [Special].—Recalling that tomorrow will be the 154th anniversary of George Washington's farewell address, Dwight H. Green, Republican candidate for governor, here tonight declared the address itself plainly asserts Washington's fear of establishing a precedent for despotism by accepting a third term.

Green sharply challenged the claims of third term defenders that Washington's refusal of another term was born of his own personal desires for rest and retirement.

A Definite Declaration.

Green then quoted excerpts from the historic document which he believed the Democrats "may have overlooked." He said:

"On Sept. 19, 1796, which tomorrow will have been 154 years ago, George Washington, greatest of all Americans, spoke definitely on the third term. He was in the closing days of his second term as our first President, and he made his farewell address to the American people. Announcing his determination not to accept a third term, he said:

"'This decision has not been arrived at without a strict regard to all the considerations appertaining to the relation which binds a dutiful citizen to his country. Satisfied that if any circumstances have given peculiar value to my services, they were temporary, I have the consolation to believe that while choice and prudence invite me to quit the political scene, patriotism does not forbid it.'

Leads to Despotism.

"Admitting the possible dangers of partisanship which, he stated, must nevertheless exist in all governments, Washington warned that when not controled, this partisanship leads to a 'permanent despotism.'"

Mr. Green recalled another quotation from the farewell address:

"'Sooner or later the chief of some prevailing faction, more able or more fortunate than his competitors, turns this disposition to the purposes of his own elevation, on the ruins of public liberty.'"

ASKS SUPPORT MONEY OF $250 WEEKLY FROM GLASS FIRM OFFICIAL

Mrs. Edythe Lucchesi, 40 years old, 9546 Oakley boulevard, appeared before Judge Rudolph Desort in Superior court yesterday to ask $250 a week temporary alimony on her divorce bill charging William Lucchesi with cruelty. She said his income from a plate glass business is $35,000 a year. The Lucchesis were married in 1931 and separated Sept. 15. Milton Sabath, counsel for Mrs. Lucchesi, who has a son, William Jr., 6, said their troubles started because Lucchesi, a man of methodical temperament, liking an ordered life, objected and resorted to blows when his wife was late in preparing dinner. Judge Desort directed Lucchesi to submit the records of his business. The court will rule on the amount of alimony tomorrow.

BLAMES SUICIDE OF HUSBAND ON GAMBLING LOSSES

Karl Koehler, 36 years old, 3113 Seminary avenue, was found hanged yesterday beneath the North Western railroad viaduct at Grand avenue and Des Plaines street. Police were puzzled as to the reason for his suicide until his wife, Gustine, came to the inquest. She said she believed her husband had gambled away his $40 pay on Tuesday and then ended his life rather than face her.

Mrs. Koehler said that two years ago her husband, who worked for a smoked fish company, lost his pay in a blackjack game. She made arrangements then for his employer to mail his pay check to her. But Tuesday Koehler persuaded the employer to turn the check over to him. He had no money in his pockets when he was found.

PRESIDENT BACK IN CAPITAL; WILL TALK TOMORROW

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 18.—President Roosevelt returned to the White House today aboard his special train from Jasper, Ala., where he attended funeral services yesterday for William B. Bankhead, speaker of the house. On his way north, Mr. Roosevelt worked on the draft of a major address to be delivered Friday in Philadelphia. The presence on the train of Judge Samuel Rosenman, one of the President's closest personal advisers, indicated that the speech will be political.

The President will remain in the capital for only a few hours. He is scheduled to leave for Philadelphia either late tomorrow or early Friday. He speaks Friday afternoon at the University of Pennsylvania where he will receive an honorary degree.

Before leaving the capital, Mr. Roosevelt is scheduled to sign an executive order setting up a national selective service board as the first step in the draft machinery. He also will witness the swearing in of Jesse Jones as secretary of commerce tomorrow. One of his first official acts upon returning today was the signing of the Wheeler-Lee transportation bill, which brings all interstate carriers, except commercial airlines, under the jurisdiction of the interstate commerce commission.

CORNELL WINS NOMINATION FOR U. S. SENATE SEAT

Paul Cornell.

Cornell, former New York advertising man, was selected by acclamation at the closing session of the state convention here as candidate for the United States senate. The governor, also a unanimous choice, was named to succeed himself.

The convention renominated all other incumbents without opposition, including Lieut. Gov. James L. McConaughy, president of Wesleyan university. The others are Secretary of State Sara B. Crawford, State Treasurer Joseph E. Talbot, State Controler Fred R. Zeller, and Congressman at Large Boleslaus J. Monkiewicz.

In his first bid for an elective office, the 44 year old Cornell will be pitted against Senator Francis T. Maloney of Meriden, Democratic nominee, and the Socialist aspirant, Kenneth W. Thurlow of East Lyme. Opposing Governor Baldwin in his campaign for reëlection is Robert A. Hurley, state public works commissioner, a Democrat, and Jasper McLevy, Socialist mayor of Bridgeport.

WILLKIE OFFERS PROGRAM: 'ARM, UNITE AND WORK'

Democratic California Is Deeply Attentive.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ABOARD WILLKIE SPECIAL TRAIN, Sept. 18.—Southern California, home of oranges and palms, strange plants and strange creeds, turned out en masse today to see the challenger of President Roosevelt, the new and dynamic leader of the Republican party, in the Presidential race.

While this section is supposed to be strongly Democratic, there was no indication of it in the behavior of the great crowds that greeted Wendell L. Willkie at seven railway stops. The citizens extended a cordial welcome and showed a deep interest in this man and his program for the preservation of American democracy.

Replies Delight Crowd.

There were Roosevelt signs and cries here and there, but Willkie met them with pleasure and an immediate challenge.

When he mentioned the name of Roosevelt at Riverside the crowd shouted "Roosevelt, Roosevelt." Willkie shot back, "Why, Roosevelt never even saw a factory gate until after he went into politics."

This seemed to delight the crowd.

Greeted at Phoenix.

Willkie flew to Riverside today from New Mexico with one stop at Phoenix, Ariz., where an unprecedented political gathering for that state welcomed him at the high school stadium. He rejoined his special train at San Bernardino and ended an afternoon and evening of intensive campaigning at San Diego, Cal., this evening. He will go to Los Angeles tomorrow and from there to San Francisco.

Willkie was uncertain yesterday as to just what his topic of discussion would be in this state but finally decided on a mixture of foreign and domestic issues. He bore down hard on the claim that Roosevelt and his group could never build an adequate defense program but that it must be left to him and the real producers that he would select.

Senator Johnson Paid Tribute.

Willkie interpreted the great crowds that met him at every appearance as a symbol of American democracy at work in the most serious crisis in its history, not as a personal tribute.

His first words in California, uttered to the station crowd at San Bernardino, gave high tribute to Senator Hiram Johnson, who was denounced as a false liberal by President Roosevelt and who won the nomination of three parties in the race for reëlection. Senator Johnson may support Willkie, but, as he explains, his own strength in the state is personal and cannot be thrown one way or the other.

He certainly will not hurt the Willkie campaign, however, and the opinion of experts is that this Democratic state may yet be overthrown.

Moment of Great Test.

In his first appearance in this state he said:

"I have been campaigning several days now and the crowds have exceeded all anticipations. I think the reason for them is that I represent the cause of the preservation of the American way of life. Here we are at the moment of great test. Bombs are raining on England, dropped by that heinous totalitarian Hitler. When I see crowds like this, thousands and thousands, I know that the American democracy is working.

"If I am able to do nothing else in this campaign but arouse the people to fight for the preservation of democracy, I shall be content."

He spoke of the need of putting men in office who know the problems of production. Production — and more production — is what we need, he declared.

"Put in men who deal in deeds, not words," he said. "If you think I am that kind of a fellow I want your votes. I am frankly seeking this job. I want to carry California and get every vote I can. My program is very, very simple.

"This administration has been in power seven and a half years and has spent 60 billion dollars. Any person here could have spent this amount and have gotten as much out of it as this administration did. If you reëlect them you will have an increased debt and a lower standard of living.

"My program is to build such a great defense program that no dictator will ever dare strike at us, revitalize our domestic economy, and build a united nation. If you want me as President that is the kind of a program I will carry out for you."

Campaign Hats

Democratic campaign hat trimmed with quills to represent donkey's ears.

New York, Sept. 18 [Special].—Among campaign hats designed for women to show their political allegiance, two have attracted attention of fashion experts. One, created for the followers of Wendell Willkie, Republican candidate for president. It is made of moss green felt, with brown glycerince ostrich feathers curled forward and upward to represent an elephant's trunk. The Democratic version is a brown felt tricorne with natural color quills standing out on either side in the manner of a donkey's ears.

LOS ANGELES ALL SET TO WELCOME WENDELL WILLKIE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 18.—A massmeeting in the mammoth Los Angeles Memorial coliseum and a formal welcoming reception on the city hall steps are planned for Wendell Willkie when the Republican Presidential nominee arrives here tomorrow.

Thousands of persons will have the opportunity to see and hear the nominee who, during his varied career, once worked as a California vegetable picker.

Republican leaders said arrangements have been made to accommodate an overflow crowd in the Coliseum, which seats 105,000 and houses a football field. An honor guard of 500 ex-service men, headed by William Dunn, past state commander of the Legion, will line the field.

Willkie is scheduled to speak at 8 p. m. A number of movie stars, including Mary Pickford, are expected to take part in the welcoming program.

BUSINESS BLITZ SEEN BY HOOVER AS PERIL TO U. S.

Warns Country It Faces Post-War Trade Strife.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 18 [Special].—Herbert Hoover tonight warned that an economic situation such as the world never has known will follow the cessation of hostilities in Europe. He outlined a program which he said might save this and other free countries from the economic dive bombers that will sweep westward from a continent he believes will be largely totalitarian.

The former President spoke at the bicentennial celebration of the University of Pennsylvania. He emphasized his address was nonpartisan.

Mr. Hoover asserted that if America is to be defended, there must be preparedness in economic ideas as well as in arms.

Many Areas Want Freedom.

He said he assumes "that certain large areas will continue under totalitarian dictatorship for some time to come; that the whole character of the totalitarian ideologies promises economic aggression for some time to come, and that there will be other large areas in the world that will want to maintain a free economy."

"I do not believe," he continued, "the British empire will fall in its heroic defense. But certainly if the United States joins in this war we would inevitably become a totalitarian dictatorship ourselves and any hope of maintained free economy in the world would be gone for a generation."

Period of Debt Repudiation.

Surveying the probable events that will follow peace abroad, Mr. Hoover asserted that among the first will be an impact of the dictatorship economies upon those of free nations. He anticipates they will emphasize barter trade with other countries.

The speaker forecast a period of inflation, currency devaluation, debt repudiation, and the breakdown of long term international credit.

The totalitarian states, Mr. Hoover predicted, will lengthen working hours from 20 to 30 per cent, making for cheaper production.

He expects to see South America sell its agricultural surplus to the totalitarian states.

How to Meet Challenge.

Mr. Hoover urged, as a defense against the economic blitzkrieg, an increase in American industrial efficiency. He explained, "By that I mean to produce more goods and services per capita of the kind we can use at the prices we can sell them at. And that is vital right now, as well as after war." He also urged that the nation spend much more to promote practical scientific research. He also proposed a quota system of foreign trade—limitation on the volume that may be shipped to us by any given nation.

"We must eliminate more industrial waste motion and more waste of materials and men," he said. "We must apply every labor saving device. We must remove every restriction of both capital and labor that impedes or penalizes the use of better methods and better machines. We must work our machines and our heads harder.

"We can turn the gifts of science to the upbuilding of mankind and not to its destruction. And in them are a thousand new frontiers."

ILLINOIS FAMILY LIKES TO HEAR WILLKIE TALK AND DOES—IN 8 CITIES!

Bernard J. Ranstead of Batavia, slept yesterday, secure in the knowledge that, next to members of Wendell L. Willkie's official party, he has probably heard the Presidential candidate more times than any other layman—nine times in eight cities to be exact. Ranstead, who is in charge of the Aurora substation of the Public Service company of Northern Illinois, started listening to Willkie last Thursday at Rushville. He followed the special train to Chicago and listened to two speeches.

With him were his wife, Rose Knecht Ranstead, formerly of Rushville and Hartford City, Ind., and his three daughters, aged 5, 3, and 1½ years. From Chicago they sped westward, hearing Willkie at Joliet, Ottawa, the Tri-Cities, Muscatine, Ia., Coffeyville, Kas., and Tulsa, Okla. Then Ranstead drove home, got five hours sleep and went back on the job at 11:30 o'clock last night.

"I'll catch him again," he said, "when he comes back this way." Ranstead said he wasn't trying to set a record, particularly. He just likes to hear the candidate talk. Incidentally, the Ransteads, who are young people, met the Willkie family at Tulsa.

SUSPEND NEGRO TEACHER HELD ON MORALS CHARGE

Samuel R. H. Reed, Negro school teacher who is charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor, was suspended yesterday by the board of education from his position at Phillips Elementary school. The suspension was based not on the criminal charge but, according to Dr. William H. Johnson, superintendent of schools, on his teaching ability.

Johnson said Reed had received two unsatisfactory ratings from school principals. He said school board action on the delinquency charge would await the decision of the court.

In Domestic Relations court yesterday, Judge Victor A. Kula granted Reed a change of venue on the delinquency charge, but ordered Reed taken into custody when he was unable to post bond.

WOMEN LAUNCH 13 STATE DRIVE FOR DEMOCRATS

Iowan Opens Headquarters in Stevens Hotel.

BY MARCIA WINN.

The Democratic women's division opened regional midwest headquarters in the Stevens hotel yesterday with Mrs. John C. Pryor of Burlington, Ia., as director.

Mrs. John C. Pryor.

The next six weeks, Mrs. Pryor promises, are going to be pretty busy. She doesn't see why it should be more of a fight than it was in 1936, when she headed Iowa's Democratic caravan, but every one else, she says, expects the middle west to be the 1940 battleground.

Her territory encompasses 13 states in the central west, and normally, she says, should go Roosevelt just because Wallace is on the ticket—"And he has done so much for the farmers." However, she has other aces up her sleeves with which she plans to appeal to the women.

Organized in Each State.

"Most of the things Roosevelt has done touch the home directly," she said. "All his social security, foreign policy, trade agreements, and old age pensions, deal with the home."

Strong women's organizations are set up in each state, she said, and have been for six years under the Democratic women's six point program. This program includes the Reporter plan, which she described as adult education; the radio; donkey banks; a speaker's bureau; the Democratic Digest, national publication; and a motor corps to get the women to meetings.

The program she likes best is what she calls the "picture method." These are colored leaflets, telling, with a minimum of text and a maximum of pictures, what the New Deal has done. They deal with many angles of the New Deal, from the NYA to the FHA to the FDIC.

This will mark Mrs. Pryor's first political work outside her native state of Iowa, altho she was a delegate to the 1936 Democratic convention. Her husband, now attorney for the Farm Credit administration in Omaha, formerly was relief administrator for Iowa.

Senator Taft to Stump Two Areas for Willkie

Cleveland, O., Sept. 18 (AP).—Senator Robert A. Taft will take the stump in New England and in the west on behalf of Wendell L. Willkie, the Cincinnatian said today as he made his first political appearance since the national Republican convention. Taft unsuccessfully sought the G. O. P. Presidential nomination.

Maid Confesses Theft of $520 First Day on Job

Lawndale police last night seized Rosalie Roberts, alias Rosemary Abbatocola, who confessed that during the day she had taken clothing, $20, and a ring valued at $500 from the home of George Cooper, 1628 South Homan avenue, where she had just obtained a job as maid. Seized with her was George Pitron, alias Roberts, who, she said, had been her accomplice in four similar thefts. Police traced the two to 3826 Monroe street thru Pitron's auto license number, which Cooper, on an impulse, jotted down when the youth drove the new maid to work yesterday.

WISCONSIN VOTE RESTORES G. O. P. TO FIRST PLACE

Democrats Fall to Third Rating in Primary.

BY THORNTON SMITH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 18.—The Republicans piled up a total vote in yesterday's primary that seems to forecast certain victory in November. It registers a complete reversal from the party's low point of six years ago, when it ran third to the Progressives and the Democrats. It was a confirmation and an extention of the 1938 trend that elected a complete Republican state ticket, one United States senator and 8 out of 10 congressmen.

With 2,826 of the 3,034 precincts in the state tabulated, the Republicans polled 322,534 votes for their seven candidates for the United States senate—nearly 80,000 more than the combined Democratic and Progressive senatorial vote. The aggregate Republican vote for governor was slightly larger.

Clausen An Easy Winner.

Fred H. Clausen of Horicon won the Republican nomination for the senate with a vote of 102,562. Dr. John P. Koehler of Milwaukee, his nearest rival, polled 60,024.

The posthumous vote for Dr. Glenn Frank, former president of the University of Wisconsin, who, with his son, was killed in an automobile accident Sunday night, was 42,715, giving him third place.

The Democrats polled 120,330 votes in 2,764 precincts to nominate for the senate James E. Finnegan, an opponent of the President and his policies. John Cudahy of Milwaukee, New Deal ambassador to Belgium, polled only 10,824 votes in a write-in election despite his popularity and prominence in the state.

Finnegan, a former state's attorney general, received 52,075 votes, while the combined Democratic vote for the three anti-New Deal candidates for the senate was 109,506.

Senator Robert M. La Follette was without opposition for the Progressive nomination to succeed himself.

Gov. Heil Renominated.

Gov. Julius P. Heil, Republican, received 223,819 votes for renomination for governor. Dr. James K. Robinson, a Milwaukee dentist, polled 106,570 in one of the surprises of the primary. Dr. Robinson made little effort in the campaign, but apparently was a repository for Republican voters who have disapproved some features of Heil's administration. Robinson's unexpected vote idicates that Heil will have more of a battle in November than generally was expected.

Francis E. McGovern of Milwaukee, a former Progressive Republican governor, endorsed by both New Deal factions in Wisconsin, won the Democratic nomination for governor, defeating William R. Callahan of Milwaukee, an outspoken foe of the New Deal.

Orlando S. Loomis of Mauston, former Progressive attorney general, won the Progressive nomination for governor in a five man race. He received 46,887 votes in 2,798 precincts. Harold E. Stafford, Chippewa Falls lawyer, received 39,917; Paul R. Alfonsi, a Corsican from Iron county, who formerly was speaker of the assembly, received 20,128; Philip Nelson of Douglas county, Progressive senate leader and a former Republican, polled 19,943, and Henry A. Gunderson of Portage, former lieutenant governor, received 13,926.

Bombs Made in Britain Used by German Raiders

LONDON, Sept. 18 [Special].—Germans are dropping British made bombs on Great Britain. Sir Archibald Sinclair, air minister, said today after a visit to air bases in Kent, which had been attacked, he saw one crater near which so many bomb fragments were picked up it was established that they were made in England and therefore most probably had been taken from one of the British ammunition dumps in France after British forces had to retreat.

Steuben Society Throws Support to G. O. P. Ticket

New York, Sept. 18 (AP).—The Steuben Society of America announced tonight it will support Wendell L. Willkie and Senator Charles L. McNary, Republican Presidential and Vice Presidential nominees. The announcement, which said the endorsement was voted by delegates to the society's 10th annual convention in New York last Sunday, cited opposition to a third term and "to erecting a dictatorship here."

HITS COURTNEY'S 'SHORT WEIGHT' RECORD IN OFFICE

Nelson Hurls Accusation of Fake Crusades.

Judge Oscar F. Nelson, Republican candidate for state's attorney, last night accused his Democratic opponent, State's Attorney Courtney, of instituting numerous crusades in the last seven and one-half years, but failing to climax any with convictions.

The Superior court jurist said in a radio talk he believes no public official has a right to give the people "short weight" in the service he is obligated to render.

"When the state's attorney tries his cases with more or less success in the newspapers, but without any success in the courts, it is time for an aroused people to do something about it," the candidate asserted.

Assails Trial Record.

"One explanation for the failure of the present state's attorney may be the fact that he never tried a lawsuit before he was elected, and has not personally tried a single case during the time he has served as state's attorney.

"I believe my reputation for aggressiveness and ability are an assurance to the people that they will not be short weighted by the office of state's attorney in the measure of service they have a right to expect.

The G. O. P. nominee thanked his primary opponent, Harry S. Ditchburne, for accepting the post of his campaign manager. Then he lit into his opponent.

"For seven and one-half years," he said, "the present state's attorney has tried every important case in the newspapers. He has told the people that he was going to bring before the grand jury persons involved in spectacular investigations, and then has procrastinated until he was sure the public had forgotten about the investigation.

Charges Promises Forgotten.

"Whenever a civic body has protested against a crime or a situation our state's attorney has promised to help them. He has rushed into the public print with assurances of quick action, and then forgotten about it.

"Of all the crusades undertaken by the man who has held the office of state's attorney for almost eight years, not a single one has resulted in the conviction of any of the persons accused, or in the abatement of the condition that brought about the protest of the people."

Bay State and Arizona Make Gains in Population

Washington, D. C., Sept. 18 (AP).—Massachusetts' population gained 1.5 per cent to 4,312,332, and Arizona's increased 14.3 per cent to 497,789 from 1930 to 1940. The census bureau said today preliminary figures for Massachusetts showed that 8 of its 14 counties and 50 of its 78 urban communities of 10,000 or more population increased during the decade. In Arizona, 9 of the 14 counties and both of its 10,000-or-more cities had increased.

BOOKKEEPER FOR ILLINOIS 2% CLUB SPURNS SUBPENA

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 18.—Miss Pauline Rithmiller, bookkeeper for Democratic state machine's 2 per cent club, this afternoon failed to respond to a subpena for her appearance to testify in an accounting suit against this slush fund. Presumably on the advice of counsel, she remained at her desk in the campaign headquarters of Harry B. Hershey, Democratic nominee for governor.

Two other defendants in the suit, filed in the Will county Circuit court at Joliet last Thursday, have been subpenaed to testify before a notary here tomorrow afternoon. They are State Director of Finance Samuel L. Nudelman and Patronage Boss William J. Walsh. Attorneys for the complainants anticipate that these two executives of the state house régime have the same legal advice as Miss Rithmiller.

Court Action Possible.

In regular procedure, the next step for the complainants is to file in the Circuit court of Sangamon county here a petition for a court order upon Nudelman, Walsh, and Miss Rithmiller. Failure to respond to a court order to testify would constitute contempt, punishable by a fine or jail sentence. The lawyers declined to say whether they plan to follow this procedure.

The subpenas, in addition to calling for the personal appearance of the three respondents, also asked that they produce all records of collections and disbursements of the 2 per cent fund—the 2 per cent exacted from the pay checks of state employés for the campaign kitty.

Other subpenas, returnable before a notary in Joliet on Sept. 27 and 28, have been served on Superintendent of Prisons Joseph E. Ragen, Deputy Warden George F. Sehring, and two other employés at the Joliet penitentiary.

Charge Illegal Practice.

The plaintiffs are three former civil service guards at Joliet—Arthur Nelson, Charles Hill, and John C. Harrington—who charge they were forced to contribute part of their salaries to the Democratic slush fund, a criminal violation of civil service statutes.

The bill for an accounting also charges fraudulent use of some of the 2 per cent money. Besides Nudelman, Walsh, and Miss Rithmiller, the defendants include: Homer Matt Adams, assistant director of finance and Democratic nominee for state treasurer; James McSherry, director of the bureau of mines and minerals; John T. Casey, Gov. Horner's field secretary; John J. Donoghue, superintendent of printing, and Harold J. Taylor and James V. Cornwall, investigators for the Illinois Commerce commission.

Smith Heirs Also Named.

Other defendants are administrators and heirs of the estate of the late F. Lynden Smith, director of public works and former Horner campaign manager, who was found dead on March 9 in a bath tub of a Springfield hospital, a victim of an unexplained death. Records of Smith's Pontiac lumber company have disclosed that this company borrowed $20,000 from the Democratic party.

The litigation is said to be sponsored by Republican interests. The attorneys for the complainants are Hayes Kennedy of Chicago, G. Logan Giffin and Alfred F. Newkirk of Springfield, and Charles Robson of Joliet.

Day Set Aside to Honor Pulaski, Polish Patriot

Washington, D. C., Sept. 18 (AP).—Oct. 11 was proclaimed by President Roosevelt today as Gen. Pulaski Memorial day in honor of the Polish general who fought in the American revolution. Government officials and the public were invited to display the flag and hold ceremonies in schools and churches. The President declared that the "valiant struggle to win American independence was advanced by the bravery of Gen. Casimir Pulaski, a Pole who hated tyranny and who fought fiercely by the side of American patriots until he was wounded unto death, Oct. 9, and drew his last breath on Oct. 11, 1779."

RAZING OF BARN RECALLS BIT OF TRIBUNE HISTORY

A crew of workmen began yesterday to demolish the old Tribune circulation barn at 349 East Grand avenue, a near north side landmark for more than four decades.

The building, which stood thru the horse-drawn wagon days to the present era of powerful delivery trucks, was used until the end of 1939, when the circulation fleet of 100 trucks was housed in the newly built garage on North Water street east of Tribune Tower.

The building was erected in 1896. For the first few years, the three story brick structure was used by various concerns as a horse barn.

In 1903, THE TRIBUNE took over the building. The horses which pulled the delivery wagons were housed on the second floor, whither they ascended by a long ramp. The wagons were kept on the ground floor and the hay and feed on the third floor. At one time there were as many as 140 horses in the barn.

As circulation grew, the number of horses diminished. The first Tribune gas truck was purchased in 1911. Then several electric trucks were bought, and soon came the gasoline driven motor trucks. In 1928 the barn was converted into a garage for most of the motorized delivery fleet and was so used for the next 11 years.

JESSICA REED, FOLLIES BEAUTY, DIES PENNILESS

Once World's Best Paid Showgirl.

Jessica Reed, once the highest paid show girl in the world, died yesterday, a charity patient in Chicago Osteopathic hospital. She was 43 years old.

For 20 of her 43 years her life was crescendos, champagne, and front page newspaper articles. She had been a glorious Follies beauty, whom Flo Ziegfeld classed next to Peggy Hopkins Joyce. She had been married five times, twice to millionaires. One suitor gave her a seven carat diamond, and one husband, her third, provided a $37,000 honeymoon.

Riches All Gone.

Yet when she entered the hospital early in August, suffering from a throat infection, she was destitute. She had been for almost five years. In 1935, after being threatened with eviction from a $5 a week room, she staged a comeback at the Oriental theater. It was a gallant, but complete, failure. Then she worked as hostess in night clubs. Later she accepted aid from the Ziegfeld club and the Actors' fund.

The throat infection was cured, and she was discharged from the hospital, but she reëntered a week later, having contracted bronchial pneumonia. She received a series of blood tranfusions, and was under an oxygen tent for the final week of her life.

Her first husband was Ollie De-Brow, a vaudeville actor, father of her daughter, Ann Carroll, now 24. She divorced him following his acquittal of killing a man because of her and left their child with him to pursue a career in the Follies.

Counter Action Brought.

She then married Louis Hersberg, known on the stage as Lew Reed. When she sued him for divorce, he countered with charges involving Lou Tellegan, then husband of Geraldine Farrar.

Then, in turn, she married the late "Dashing Dan" Caswell of Cleveland, O., young millionaire who met her on his way to give an engagement ring to another girl, pursued her a week and married her. Of that brief marriage, Jessie said after the divorce: "It was foolish. I guess I just stepped out of character for a minute."

She didn't marry again for two years. In 1924, she married William F. Young, Chicago advertising man, when she supposedly was engaged to Russell Colt, former husband of Ethel Barrymore. Finally, in 1928, she married Leonard Reno, world war flyer and son of a millionaire publisher. She sued him for separate maintenance in 1935 and took—as she always did at the demise of a marriage—the name of Jessie Reed.

Ironically enough, her daughter, Ann Carroll De Brow, yesterday won a beauty contest in San Antonio, Tex.

TRAFTON'S THIRD WIFE FILES SUIT FOR A DIVORCE

Mrs. Helen Trafton.

Mrs. Helen Lowenstein Trafton, 35 years old, 5242 Hyde Park boulevard, filed suit in Superior court yesterday for a divorce from George E. Trafton, proprietor of a loop gymnasium and former Notre Dame and Chicago Bears football star. They were married in Waukegan Dec. 30, 1932.

Trafton was divorced twice previously.

He obtained a divorce in 1926 from his first wife, Suzanne, on the ground of desertion two years after their marriage. In 1931 he charged his second wife, Alyce, with cruelty, but later withdrew his bill, and she obtained a divorce on a cross bill charging cruelty.

THE JOSLYN CASE HAS ITS 'M' DAY IN DIVORCE WAR

Nurse Mobilizes Another in March of Wooers.

A pretty governess, employed in Santa Fe., N. M., for a month during the summer of 1938 to care for the four children of Mrs. Charlotte C. Joslyn, described in Judge John C. Lewe's court yesterday her employer's relations with a gentleman identified only as Mr. M.

Mrs. E. W. Brouillette.

She told a spicy story and stuck to it despite a strenuous hour and a half of cross-examination.

Mrs. Joslyn seeks a divorce from George R. Joslyn, son of a wealthy electrical supplies manufacturer, on the grounds of desertion and misconduct. Her husband filed a cross-bill for divorce against her on the same grounds.

Mr. M, described as a "thin, blond man of 35," who manufactures "Indian jewelry" in Santa Fe, is the fourth who has been linked with Mrs. Joslyn in the present trial.

Tells Lengthy Daily Visits.

The governess, Mrs. E. W. Brouillette of Albuquerque, a brunette, 21 years old, testified under questioning by Attorney Alvin Hubbard, for Joslyn, that Mr. M. visited Mrs. Joslyn daily, arriving at noon and remaining until 4 a. m. the following day.

On one occasion, the governess said, she got out of bed about 2:30 a. m. and went into the living room, where she found Mrs. Joslyn and Mr. M.

The next morning, the governess went on, Mrs. Joslyn asked her if she needed any clothes, offering to buy some for her. Mrs. Brouillette said she replied that "as far as the incident of last night is concerned, I cannot be bribed."

The governess said Mrs. Joslyn on several occasions took Mr. M., the four children and the governess to lunch in a Santa Fe hotel, and always paid the checks, which ranged from $10 to $16.

Beat a Hasty Retreat.

In cross-examining Mrs. Brouillette, Thomas Hart Fisher, attorney for Mrs. Joslyn, asked the governess: "When you found Mr. M and Mrs. Joslyn together that night [in the living room], how long did you stay with them?"

"Just long enough to say 'O, beg your pardon'—and get back to my room," she replied.

During the morning hearing Joslyn offered to give Mrs. Joslyn $100 a month for the remainder of her single life, and $100 monthly for each of the four children until they become 21, and to withdraw his cross-complaint. Under further terms of the offer Joslyn would see the children on alternate week-ends during the winter and have them for three months in the summer, and on alternate spring and Christmas vacations.

BAILIFFS PART COUPLE AFTER COURT CLASH

Two bailiffs were required to part Mrs. Sadie Shaw, 29 years old, and her husband, Thomas, 33, when Mrs. Shaw, weeping and hysterical at an accusation of misconduct made in Superior court, turned on her husband yesterday outside the courtroom of Judge Rudolph Desort. She was escorted from the building.

Mrs. Shaw, who lives at 3551 Jackson boulevard, charged her husband with being in arrears $130 on temporary support and asked an increase of from $7.50 to $15 a week. Her separate maintenance bill charges cruelty. Attorney Sol August, representing Shaw, a laboratory technician, said Mrs. Shaw was childless and capable of making her own way and that his client wished to charge her with infidelity.

Attorney Norman Becker replied that the accusation was not valid inasmuch as Shaw has no cross bill on file, and that the husband was merely using it as a means to force his wife into accepting a divorce. The case was referred for hearing to Nicholas Socrates as a special commissioner.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

YOUNG WOMAN'S FISTICUFF BLOW ROUTS 2 BANDITS

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 18 (AP).—Polly Wright, 26 years old, secretary to a socially prominent physician, used a "right hook that Tommy Loughran taught me" to beat off an attack by two men who stole into the physician's home.

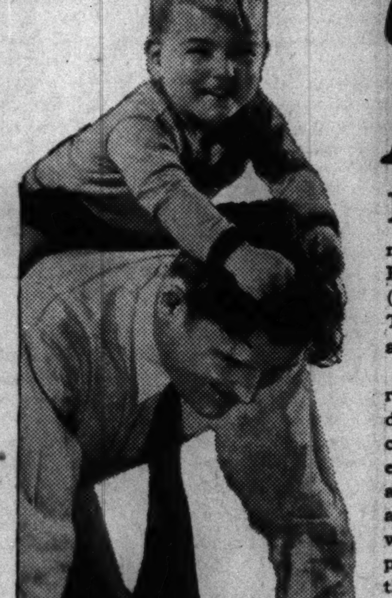
Polly Wright. [A. P. Wirephoto.]

She told detectives that when she entered a darkened room last night she felt something sharp against her throat and heard a man say: "Get back over there."

The detectives said Miss Wright gave this account: With a knife at her throat she was forced into a corner of the room and pushed to her knees by one man who ordered her to disrobe. As he ripped the belt from her dress she swung a punch to the jaw that staggered her assailant.

CHILE CLOSES PLANT TURNING OUT SWASTIKAS

SANTIAGO, Chile, Sept. 18 (AP).—The Chilean investigations department today disclosed that an engraving plant equipped to make emblems showing the Chilean flag with a swastika background has been closed. The department announced that persons concerned with the production of such symbols would be prosecuted. Officials said the plant, in the center of the capital, was operated by a group known as "The Association of Friends of Germany."



Fatherhood No Cause for Baldness

FACTORS such as inheritance, fatherhood, age, or hats have nothing to do with loss of hair. Fourteen local scalp disorders (which come within the scope of Thomas treatment) account for almost 90% of all cases of baldness.

Your problem, therefore, is to rid your scalp of the specific local disorder which is causing or has caused your loss of hair. To do this easily, surely, and rapidly, consult a Thomas expert. He recognizes all of the local scalp conditions which cause baldness and knows precisely how to overcome each of them. (You will not be accepted for treatment if your case does not come within the scope of Thomas methods.)

When you start Thomas treatment, your scalp worries end—dandruff disappears, scalp itch stops, and hair starts to grow on the thin and bald spots. Call today for a free scalp examination.

WOMAN GUILTY IN 'BABY FARM' ABDUCTION CASE

Mixed Jury Decrees 2 Years in Prison.

A jury of five women and seven men found Miss Mary Smith guilty of abducting Carol Ann De Patie, 5 months old, in the so-called baby farm case yesterday. The jurors, in Judge John F. Bolton's court, fixed Miss Smith's punishment at two years in the women's prison at Dwight.

The state dismissed a similar charge against Miss Smith's mother, Mrs. Mae P. Smith, on Tuesday after Judge Bolton had indicated he would direct a verdict of not guilty in her case.

Unwed Mother Files Charge.

The baby was born last April 12 to Ethel De Patie, 24 years old, of 10546 Oakley avenue, in the Smith home at 2415 Winnemac avenue. Two weeks later Miss De Patie, an unwed mother, complained that the Smith women had taken her child and refused to return it until she paid $150.

Judge Harry M. Fisher ordered the baby returned. The child was turned over to the mother by a nurse employed by the Smiths. The Smiths were later arrested in a trailer camp after a prolonged search.

Find Abortion Ring Clews.

The state's attorney's office reported that there was evidence of a baby farm and an abortion ring. Mrs. Smith, who is 64 years old, and her daughter, who is 43, were charged with abduction.

Their defense was that Miss De Patie had come to their home to have her baby and agreed that it should be adopted. They insisted that they had no intention of keeping the child, but withheld it after Miss De Patie failed to pay her doctor bill. The prosecution was in charge of Leslie Curtis, assistant state's attorney.

THIRD IN MURDER GANG TO DIE IN CHAIR TOMORROW

Henry Drewek, 22 years old, third member of a holdup gang convicted of the murder of Viggo Peterson in a tavern at 1859 North Washtenaw avenue last Oct. 13, is scheduled to be executed in the electric chair at the county jail at 1:01 a. m. tomorrow.

The convicted slayer's companions, Victor Nukowski and Frank Michalowski, were executed May 17. Drewek received a reprieve at that time and asked the state board of pardons and paroles to reduce his punishment on the plea that he had been outside the tavern when the murder occurred.

FORMER TUGWELL AID BECOMES WILLKIE BACKER

Albuquerque, N. M., Sept. 18 (AP).—Joseph L. Dailey, former Indianan and prominent in Albuquerque Democratic circles, who once served in a high post under the New Deal, said today he would support Republican Wendell L. Willkie, for the Presidency.

Dailey has been known as a New Dealer and for more than a year served with the Rural Resettlement administration under Rexford Guy Tugwell, in Washington.

His support, he said, is based on the fact he has been a friend of Willkie for 30 years, and went thru college and the war with him. Dailey's father, Frank C. Dailey, procurred Willkie his first job in the legal department of the Firestone Tire and Rubber company.

"My knowledge of Willkie gives me assurance that he will do exactly what he says he will do," Dailey said.

"There is a park near the apartment we rented from a want ad in the Tribune."

IS the kind of apartment you want hard to find at the rent you want to pay? Before you resign yourself to renting a less attractive apartment, read over the many offers in the Tribune rental want ad columns.

You will find descriptions of apartments located in all parts of the city and suburbs. Another advantage of using Tribune want ads as your guide is that they help you avoid unnecessary walking and stair-climbing. By making up a list of apartments which from the descriptions seem to be what you want, you save yourself time and effort.

Turn to the rental want ads in today's Tribune to find the apartment you want!

2-WAY CLASSIFICATION SIMPLIFIES YOUR SEARCH

Tribune rental want ads are listed (1) by locations in city or suburb and (2) by numbers of rooms. Thus, if you want a four room apartment on the north side, simply turn to the columns headed, "To Rent — Apartments — North," and then consult the offerings under the sub-heading, "Four, Five, Six Rooms and Larger."

LANDLORDS! RENTAL AGENTS!

Every day of the week the Tribune has more than 730,000 circulation right in metropolitan Chicago. This is from 335,000 to 500,000 more than are sold in Chicago and suburbs by other Chicago newspapers. Low-cost Tribune want ads can help you place your offer before your best prospects in all parts of metropolitan Chicago.

If your name is in the phone book, you may charge your Tribune want ads if you wish. Phone Superior 0100—Want Ad-Viser. Or ask to have a Tribune representative call on you.

Because practically all the people of Chicago and suburbs read The Tribune, The Tribune gives equal space to the national committees of both parties. The Tribune, under no political or financial obligations to any one, is free to give the claims of both sides.

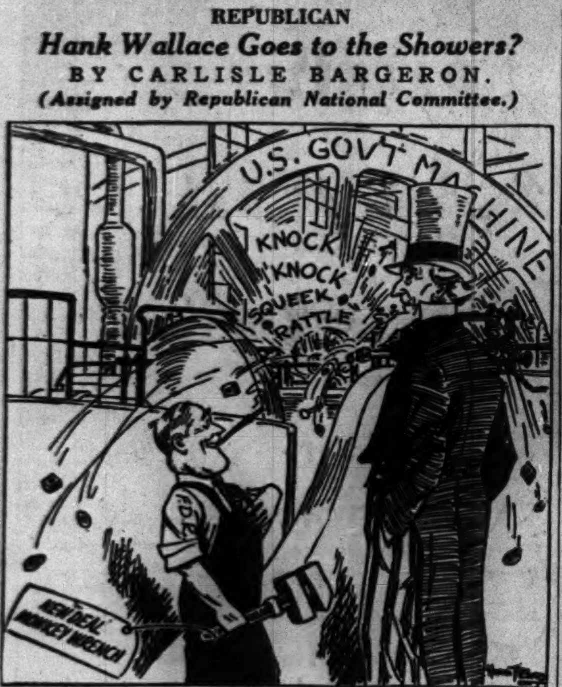
THE CAMPAIGN
Both Sides of it

REPUBLICAN

Hank Wallace Goes to the Showers?

BY CARLISLE BARGERON.

(Assigned by Republican National Committee.)



F. D. R.—"Yes, Sir, I'm the Only Man in the Country Who Knows How to Run It."

When Henry Wallace delivered his acceptance speech several weeks ago Mr. Roosevelt warmly congratulated him and told him he was getting off to a splendid start.

Now, we would give a pretty penny to know what Mr. Roosevelt actually said to him when the two met in conference at the funeral down in Alabama of Speaker Bankhead. Mr. Roosevelt had ordered him to cancel his speaking engagements and "come to the funeral."

As the result of the conference at the Bankhead funeral Henry has got to change his tune. He started off like a house afire, running up and down the middle west screaming that the Republicans were appeasers. The campaign is Roosevelt versus Hitler, he exclaimed. This is what moved Mr. Roosevelt, and, we are pretty sure, Mrs. Roosevelt, too, to fervently wish him God speed.

A Prediction Recalled.

But Henry has got Mr. Roosevelt into a helluva mess. He provoked Mr. Willkie, who has leaned over backward not to embarrass Mr. Roosevelt in his foreign relationships, to recall that at the celebrated conference at Munich—the APPEASEMENT conference—Mr. Roosevelt was right in there pitching. The New Dealers' contention now is that Mr. Roosevelt was doing a very laudable thing in trying to maintain peace.

Arthur Krock of the New York Times recalls that the New Dealers were bragging all over the place at the time about how Mr. Roosevelt had brought the Munich peace about.

Mr. Krock also reprints what he wrote at that time. He predicted that the claims of the New Dealers would come back to haunt them. THEY HAVE.

Turned Away from Stalin.

After this appeasement, when Hitler was headed east toward Russia, these same world leaders, including Mr. Roosevelt, decide to become belligerent, WHEN THEY'VE GOT NOTHING TO BECOME BELLIGERENT WITH. It is as if they were afraid Hitler would run into and hurt that fellow democrat, Stalin.

DEMOCRATIC

Straws in the Political Winds

Still Losing Weight.

Since the unfortunate blunder of the Literary Digest in predicting the 1936 election outcome the public has shown a wholesome skepticism in mock polls and straw votes which profess to give an accurate forecast of election results. You recall how the final Digest tabulation foretold a sweep for Landon just a few days before the Kansas governor went down to the worst defeat in modern Presidential elections. The Digest paid the penalty.

One or two other national polls, highly regarded before that time, suffered the same unhappy fate in 1936.

Veteran political workers, long experienced in observing election trends and tides, have always been suspicious of "amateur" vote testing.

The magazine Fortune has been conducting polls at regular intervals over the course of the last several years, and as a rule its forecasts have been extremely accurate. Its most recent poll showed 53.2 per cent for Roosevelt and 35.6 per cent for Willkie, 12 per cent undecided.

What the Straws Show.

The latest report of the Gallup poll, which seems to occupy the niche formerly reserved for the Literary Digest, showed Roosevelt leading Willkie in the three key states of New York, Pennsylvania, and New Jersey. They account for almost one-fifth of the entire electoral college. On the day this report was published Joe Martin, Republican chairman, found the Willkie "tide" rising fast. Another Gallup summary, recently announced, showed Willkie strength falling off in four border states, with a slight increase in one.

The trend away from the Republican nominee was noticeable in Missouri, West Virginia, Maryland, and Delaware, while the pickup was in Kentucky, a state still in the Roosevelt column by a healthy margin. The Gallup poll has been fairly accurate in recent elections, altho in 1936 it failed by a long lap to foretell the Roosevelt sweep.

Young Republicans' Survey.

The most interesting survey, however, was dug out of the pages of the Republican, official organ of the Young Republican National federation, which carried an article tipping off its readers on how to place their wagers.

The author advised his readers that Willkie was a "cinch bet" in only 10 states with a total of 87 electoral votes. He warned prospective gamblers not to back Willkie in 14 states with 141 electoral votes, to ask "long odds" in nine states with 67 electoral votes, and to ask odds in six additional states with 45 votes. In other words, altho 266 votes are needed to win, he was doubtful or had given up on 253 electoral votes.

The Young Republicans include Texas, with 23 votes, in the states which are certain to go Democratic.

ALDERMAN ASKS RELAXATION OF FILM CENSORSHIP

Amendments to the city code to prevent "arbitrary and nonsensical censorship" of motion pictures were introduced at the city council meeting yesterday by Ald. Earl B. Dickerson [2d]. He proposed that no city censorship be exercised over pictures to be viewed by adults. Censorship, he said, should be undertaken when necessary by the state's attorney under state laws prohibiting immoral and other objectionable films.

The amendments would abolish the present police censor board under civil service and replace it with a five man board of motion picture censors appointed to four year terms by the mayor. The members should be selected, Ald. Dickerson said, on the basis of their experience in education, psychology, and other related fields. This proposed board would inspect and censor pictures to be shown to minors.

Ald. Dickerson said his proposal was occasioned by the "nonsensical" banning of "Pastor Hall," an anti-Nazi film, by the police censor board last week. The ban was lifted by Police Commissioner Allman after many protests by civic groups.

City Council Votes Probe of Municipal Unions

The city council adopted a resolution yesterday sponsored by Ald. John S. Boyle [16th] recommending a council investigation of the officers of all unions to which municipal workers belong, with a view to refusing to bargain with those unions dominated by persons with criminal records or who do not properly represent the workers. The matter was referred to the council labor committee.

MINTON ASSAILED AS PET PARROT OF ROOSEVELT

Describing his Democratic opponent, Sherman Minton, as the pet parrot of the President, Raymond Willis, Republican candidate for United States senator from Indiana, carried his campaign to Michigan City last night.

Minton, who has admitted on the floor of the senate that he is a New Deal rubber stamp, does not represent the sentiment of the Hoosiers who elected him, Willis asserted.

"He repeats lines apparently given him by ghost writers," said the Republican candidate. "He squawks un-American, New Deal philosophy in true parrot fashion. The New Deal was conceived in iniquity and is the illegitimate child of a once illustrious party."

WOMEN PROTEST POLITICAL SIGNS ALONG HIGHWAYS

Object to Law Violations of Campaigners.

BY HAL FOUST.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 18.—The Garden club of Illinois and the Woman's City club of Chicago protested today against political billboards and placards, many of which violate city zoning ordinances and state statutes. Both of these organizations are nonpartisan.

Mrs. W. W. Shoemaker

A survey in a 200 mile drive here from Chicago revealed that the worst offender is the Democratic candidacy of Harry B. Hershey for governor. Others were not guiltless, however.

Mrs. Warren W. Shoemaker of Winnetka, Ill., president of the State Federation of 120 Garden clubs, issued a statement directing attention to a slogan of her organization.

"I favor products not advertised on the landscape."

"These products," she said, "include political candidacies as well as merchandise."

The Woman's City club of Chicago addressed identical letters to Republican and Democratic national, state, and county campaign headquarters. They told of a survey by the club in Chicago, previously publicized, in which it was disclosed that advertising of Republican and Democratic candidates was being displayed on billboards, on boulevards, parks, and in residential areas in violation of zoning ordinances.

In the drive here from Chicago, 25 Hershey signs were counted in rural sections of U. S. 66. The first noted after leaving the suburbs was at the intersection of U. S. 66 and Ill. 53, on highway right of way in violation of Illinois law.

Most of the 25 were placard size, on fences, telephone poles, and trees.

Other signs were large, substantial structures:

No advertisment for Dwight Green, Republican candidate for governor, was noted on the survey of rural U. S. 66. Three, off the right of way, were advertising Richard Lyons' unsuccessful campaign for the Republican gubernatorial nomination last spring. In Cook county, five placards were counted bearing the name of Oscar Nelson, Republican candidate for state's attorney.

"It is amusing," said Charles Bliss, campaign manager for Hershey, "to note the importance which certain would-be statesmen attach to a few signs erected by overzealous party enthusiasts. I am sure that the highway department will obey the law."

Mrs. Shoemaker, in her statement on behalf of 120 Garden clubs, was not so amused.

THE BOOM IS ON.

The steel industry this week is operating at 93 per cent of capacity, close to the peak since 1929. Department stores are selling 11 per cent more goods than they were last year at this time, and in some of the heavy industrial centers 25 per cent more. The all-embracing index of the federal reserve board, which reached an all-time high of 121 in 1937 and fell to 80 in the middle of 1938, was back at 121 in July and has since continued to rise. This is a whopping business boom if we ever saw one.

But no normal person believes that the advance is one to be counted upon and that an era of prolonged prosperity is at hand. War orders—ours and Britain's—and industry's preparations to handle munitions orders that are coming, are principally responsible, and every one knows it.

It's good to see business rising to new peaks. But what of the future? War can't be permanent. Peace is coming—and what a collapse! It has been estimated that the war industries will create 4½ million jobs by the middle of next year. That's a tidy number to be thrown out of work about the time Johnnie comes marching home and our export market goes to pot.

A wise government would now be making preparations for the inevitable postwar depression. It would stop all the expenditures which were stepped up to attain prosperity by the Keynes, or prime the pump, formula. It would defer all construction operations not directly related to preparedness with the idea of resuming work on them when jobs were scarce. In every federal department except the war and navy it would pare pay rolls to the bone.

None of these things is being done. Government pay rolls outside of the defense department are at record highs, and the revised budget recently submitted to congress by the secretary of the treasury provides for increased spending for the civil departments, and no diminution of construction operations.

And a reversal of government policy toward business is needed, perhaps most of all, to get ready for the hard times that lie ahead. It seems to have been entirely forgotten that the most important supporting aid to our economy in our worst depression came not from the government but from funds corporations had accumulated for the rainy day.

Between 1930 and 1935 American corporations paid out to workers, executives, bondholders, and stockholders 23 billion dollars from the undistributed earnings of previous years! Here is what an official publication of the United States department of commerce, issued in 1936, said of this 23 billion dollars:

"Deficits of the magnitude created yearly during the depression to meet payments of wages, salaries, interest, and dividends sapped the vitality of the entire business structure and could not have been sustained indefinitely."

To get ready for the new depression, the government should not only be putting its own finances in order, but should be encouraging corporations to accumulate funds so as to be able to sustain payments of salaries, wages, interest, and dividends thru several years of deficits, as they did last time. The policy that is being pursued is just the opposite.

Just after the commerce department published the report of the social usefulness of corporate surpluses, the New Deal had the surplus earnings' tax law passed. That required the corporations to pay out all their earnings in any year or be subjected to a heavy penalty. That law was repealed after two years, but now corporations are being milked again by burdensome corporation taxes, which were made heavier in July, and are shortly to be increased further.

Several years ago the President talked about filling in the valleys and leveling off the peaks. That was widely applauded. But all of the present policies have a diametrically opposite effect. By sustaining its spending for nonmilitary purposes, while billions are being spent for the national defense, and at the same time that corporations' finances are being weakened, Mr. Roosevelt is making certain that the peak toward which we are being rushed will be a very high one, and that thereafter will come a fast fall into a deep hole. There is no time to be lost in preparing to cope with our hardest times.

OKAY HERE, TOO.

Wayne Thomis in his story from Buenos Aires in SUNDAY'S TRIBUNE reported that tho the British are outnumbered in Argentina 60 to 1 by the Italians and 6 to 1 by the Germans, there is no wavering of loyalty there to the British empire. Secretary of State Hull, in trying to negotiate agreements among the American countries at international conferences, always found the Argentine representatives recalcitrant until it was made clear that London approved.

The friendly feelings between Argentina and Great Britain are readily understandable. Great Britain has provided a market in which products of her South American ally could be freely sold. When Argentina needed capital to develop her resources and expand her industries, it was supplied in London.

Two newspapers published in English in Buenos Aires are of considerable influence in promoting the English cause there, Mr. Thomis found. Recently when the light British cruiser Hawkins arrived in the River Plate, the papers commented that Argentina is closer in spirit and in distance to London than to Washington, which is 8,000 miles away.

One of the papers asked, "How is the United States to defend Argentina when she has her own Atlantic and Pacific coast line to watch?" The paper then replied to its own question that the United States has her hands full with her own defense and Argentina is already being guarded by the British fleet. That ought to be good enough for us. We do not want to take the privilege away from the British. Naturally Europe is the best customer of Argentina, and we had better not get mixed in.

SUPERIOR COURT SHAKEDOWNS.

Gustav E. Beerly, Republican nominee for clerk of the Superior court, says that clerks in the office that he seeks are practicing petty corruption on a wide scale, demanding tips or small bribes from lawyers seeking routine services.

The corruption to which Mr. Beerly alludes is not confined to the office of the Superior court clerk. Persons familiar with the county building can testify that the practice of mislaying files, failing to serve summonses, and sabotaging other routine tasks is a commonplace method of extorting small sums from attorneys and others doing business with county offices.

It is possible that the general corruption of the Democratic machine in Chicago has caused these petty shakedown artists to become more bold in recent years, but the practice is an old one. It has not been confined to Democrats. The same evil was found in county offices under Republican control. It is inherent in the low caliber of men who fill the majority of petty political jobs.

The only person who can put an effective stop to the practice is the head of the office concerned. If he puts his foot down, his employés will render the services they are paid to perform without soliciting tips or bribes to do so. The present prevalence of the racket in the county building is only possible because Clerk Schlaeger of the Superior court, Clerk Conroy of the Circuit court, Sheriff O'Brien, and other county officeholders are arrogant and slipshod. They feel that they owe their offices to the machine, and they are interested in serving the machine, but not the public.

Mr. Beerly could find 500 lawyers to back his charges—if he promised not to quote them. This racket could not exist if the lawyers did not pay the bribes. Having paid, they dare not complain.

The racket could be stopped if the lawyers, thru the Chicago Bar association, would refuse to be shaken down and would put pressure on the public officials to prevent the solicitation of the bribes and the withholding of services from those who refuse to pay. But the bar association apparently has not the backbone to act.

About two years ago the judges of the Circuit court demanded that the bar association investigate charges of soliciting bribes made against a deputy clerk in that court. The association questioned the attorney who made the charges and reported back that his information was not specific enough to make a case. So far as the Circuit judges could find out, the bar committee made no real effort to find other evidence in the matter.

This fear of the bar association to step on any one's toes has been increasingly apparent in recent years. An instance, almost current, was the mishandling and suppression of the report on fixing of personal property assessments. The bar association cannot expect the public to follow its lead in such matters as suppression of vote frauds and selection of judicial candidates when it is so lax in policing its own membership.

THE STRONGBOX WASN'T BIG ENOUGH.

Some Republicans who got access to a list of state pay rollers in Chicago have discovered that last year, just before he got into the United States senate on a rain check, Strongbox Slattery had four members of his immediate family lined up beside him at the public trough.

Talents are varied in the Slattery family. A son was an inspector for the state boxing commission. A daughter was a case worker, dealing out the public's money for the greater glory of Roosevelt and Humanity. A son-in-law, as an auditor, was engaged in counting the sales tax pennies taken away from the poor to relieve them and the Democratic pay rollers. Another son was a statistician for the state commerce commission.

Strongbox himself was then chairman of the commerce commission, where he earned his nickname by the deal in the stock of one of the utility companies he was engaged in regulating. Such explanation as he offered of that receptacle and its contents was that he was engaged in providing for the future of his children. Apparently the strongbox wasn't big enough. The taxpayers had to help out.

Down in New Mexico two years ago Senator Denis Chavez, one of Strongbox's comrades in arms at Washington, got himself some unwelcome publicity over the Chavez Family Relief association. At that time he had 17 members of his family, besides himself, on state, local, and federal pay rolls.

Despite this 17 to 4 count, we will not throw in the towel for our Illinois challenger. After all, his four all popped up on a single pay roll list. By the time the Springfield list is canvassed, along with those of the park board, city, county, sanitary district, and board of education, not to mention the federal pay rolls, our fellow may be able to produce a score or more of hungry Slatterys.

If we were a loyal Democratic worker, with hopes of placing on a public desk the bunion ravaged feet suffered in the canvass of our precinct, we'd try to see that our party nominated a few more bachelors.

Editorial of the Day

THE BEAN STALK AND JACK.

[Illinois State Journal.]

Futility of efforts to restrict agriculture is well illustrated by the story of soy beans. Tho we scarcely heard of them two decades since, they have become tops in areas formerly dominated by corn and wheat. This year the soy bean farmers have 10 million acres under cultivation.

One feature of this remarkable development is the new market it has created for the hobbled husbandman. Science has here intervened to keep the burocratic, yield-restricting politician off the farmer's neck. It is finding so many uses for soy beans that the cry of overproduction has not yet been heard.

Originally used for cattle food and largely cultivated yearly as a "rotation" crop which was frequently plowed under for fertilizer, the soy bean now enters into the manufacture of human food, meal for various purposes, oil, and plastics.

SPEAKING OF NUTS.

This, among other things, is buckeye time. The nuts, famous for their satin mahogany beauty and their power as a charm against rheumatism, have ripened and are cracking out of their pods; and the inhabitants of the Buckeye state [Ohio] are, perhaps, collecting them with enthusiasm.

On our desk is a box containing a branch bearing several clusters of buckeyes, which comes from G. K. F. of Monmouth, Ill. Why it came is told in this letter:

"One day last spring you referred to the beauty of the buckeye or horse chestnut tree in blossom. This intrigued me, because I had read all my life of the beauty of the horse chestnut trees in Paris, and lo! if horse chestnuts and buckeyes are the same, I have had two of them growing in my front yard these many years. But are you sure they are the same?"

They are of the same family. The European horse chestnut [Aesculus hippocastanum] is the larger tree, growing to 100 feet. The American horse chestnut or buckeye [Aesculus glabra] averages about 30 feet in height. There are other minor differences of interest chiefly to botanists.

The Sunday room girls became buckeye enthusiasts as soon as they saw our specimen. Miss Cosmetics thought that the nuts would add a new touch to women's hats, and Miss Rotogravure got the idea of using them as bangles on bracelets. But they refused to believe that many Americans, including Woodrow Wilson, have carried buckeyes in their pockets for good luck and security against rheumatism.

We were regarded as a nature faker until the Travel Editor produced his personal buckeye and confessed that he had carried it for years.

THE TRAIL OF THE MORMONS.

This is the path of the Mormons
Over the prairie and plain,
This is the trail of the spirit
Seeking a friendly domain.
Here is an argonaut journey
Greater than Golden Fleece,
The plea for the joy of a homeland
Where troubles intolerant cease.

Westward Iowa across,
Winter of sorrow at Florence—
Bitterness, sickness and loss;
Never a whimper or shudder,
On up Nebraska they fare,
Braving the loneliness, danger,
Girt with the armor of prayer.

Mountains uprearing to frustrate,
Arrows from ambush assail,
Yet there's a promise of quiet
And rest at the end of the trail.
Yes, in a peak guarded valley
Whose inland sea breezes are kind,
The caravan halts—it is over—
The Zion they sought for they find

This is the trail of the Mormons.
Writers of history now
Honor its courage and valor,
And garland with praises the brow
Of far-seeing vision that dreamed it
And gave it reality, zest.
This is a trail to remember

Splitting an Invisible Hair.

To split a hair that is invisible, Dr. Philip Weintraub informs us that the signal of distress at sea is not S O S, but a single character of three dots, three dashes, three dots. The lack of spacing would sound like SOS to us, but Dr. Weintraub supports his contention with a quotation from the Radio Handbook, which says, "The distress signal is not S O S."

Let us suppose that the excited or worried operator gets an accidental jiggle or pause into his call for help with "the single character of three dots, three dashes, three dots." The rescuers might then hear three dots two dashes, one dash three dots, which would mean 3 B. Then they would go back to their pinochle games or crossword puzzles.

If we are ever in a shipwreck, we hope that the radio man is a firm believer in good old S O S and has never read the Radio Handbook.

The Class in Journalism.

You are all rightly proud of Guy Murchie's gallant London adventure. In my earliest days in Chicago the classic definition of perfect newspaper work was the dictum of J. B. McCullagh of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat:

"Knowing where hell is going to break loose and being there to report it."

Perhaps Tribune management may be said to have this prevision. Wm. Hudson Harper.

THE OTHER FOOT.

My pop, he kind of puzzles me;
He's inconsistent as can be,
Or so it seems. For when I say
In just a gentle sort of way
"Pete's pop bought him a brand new bike,"
My pop, he says he doesn't like
To have me tell of Pete's affairs.
"We go our way. Let them go theirs."

But Pop, when my report card's bad,
Says, "Listen, lookit here, my lad,
Pete's father says he gets all A's
And always earns the teachers' praise;
Why, Pete, he almost heads the class,
While all you do is barely pass!"
Why must he tell me of Pete's powers?
Let them go their way. We'll go ours!

Concerning British indifference to bombs, have you heard this?

Two Englishmen during an air raid: one said, "Stand close to the wall!" To which the other replied, "Stand close? I'm practically a mural now." Long live the British calm!

THE RELATION OF BOILS TO CLEANLINESS.

How tough is the skin? Well, not so resistant that it can withstand the onslaughts of bacteria. We know that a blow may be responsible for a black and blue spot if the force is great enough to injure some of the capillaries. We realize also that a tiny scratch—one that cannot be seen with the naked eye—may be sufficient to open the doorway to vicious germs.

Even without a visible tear, microbes can grow within the outer layers and give rise to various ugly lesions. In some instances, the absorption of toxins is great enough to be responsible for illness—with fever and vomiting. While nature has provided this protective covering there are a number of areas wherein organisms may lurk. The price of freedom from infections is scrupulous cleanliness. We wash the face, the hands, the scalp, and the neck with fair frequency, but how long will these parts remain clean? One can scarcely travel a dozen yards or touch a single object without contaminating the fingers.

One of the real nuisances of life is a boil or a carbuncle and the staphylococcus is blamed for many of our most painful experiences. The so-called "run-around" which affects finger nails, the complications of barber's itch, felons, etc., are laid on the doorstep of this microbe. Those who possess active sebaceous glands are particularly susceptible and a greasy epidermis—with numerous blackheads on the face, chest and back—is likely to be favored with pus producing maladies.

Sometimes we plant the trouble ourselves—unwittingly of course. Discharges from the nasal passages or the sinuses may soil the fingers and the simple act of scratching the face may sow the "bugs." If we used enough soap and water all would be well. But who can stop in the midst of the day's work and scrub the back of the neck, for example, as a preventive measure?

These lesions do not afford the slightest enjoyment. While prompt exposure to X-ray may discourage the invaders from spreading further, all too often an abscess will form which in time will open spontaneously or require incision. One warning should be uttered—namely, that in the acute phase, surgery should be shunned. Many an infection has traveled widely—even to the blood poisoning [septicemia] stage—because some one pricked a yellow-crusted pimple. Expectant treatment is far safer, including moist heat, dietary regulation, elimination, etc.

But one boil may breed another. The reason is that the bacilli usually remain on the skin around the healed site. For several weeks the danger of recurrence must be guarded against punctiliously. Not only should the vicinity be bathed gently with soap and water two or three times daily, but each ablution should be followed by the application of a dilute solution of bichloride of mercury.

For those who are beset with the "Plague of Job" vaccines may be helpful. Resistance may be built up with a diet high in vitamins, a daily "all-over" bath, rather more drinking water than normal, and some attention to bowel habits. Now and than a dilute solution of copper sulfate, employed as a lotion, will be of value.

The oft repeated caution "Never pull a hair within the nostrils" deserves reiteration. This region is always foul and if one escapes infection after such a foolhardy procedure he may consider himself lucky. Severe illnesses have resulted from the careless tweezing of bristles in localities loaded with organisms.

EVERYBODY'S MONEY.

Dubuque, Ia., Sept. 16.—As I travel about the country and talk to folks, especially the "forgotten" men or the underprivileged, I come more and more to a realization that many of them think that these billions of dollars which the President has asked for in the name of defense and which congress has appropriated are the personal property of Franklin D. Roosevelt and his group at Washington and that, if they are defeated, all of this money disappears or goes back to the Indians or what not.

When you attempt to explain that these billions belong to the country as a whole and if spent more efficiently will go further in creating more defense materials and jobs, they look at you with suspicion and "allow as how the Republicans will not have any of this money to spend if they get in."

A campaign should be put on to let these many thousands of people know that this money is "everybody's money" and becomes available only thru taxation in which every one participates directly or indirectly and will be spent on defense regardless of the party in power.

JOINT TENANCY OWNERSHIP.

Chicago, Sept. 13.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I own a piece of property in Wisconsin in joint tenancy with some one else. I would like to know:

1. If it is possible under the laws of Wisconsin to sell my part to somebody else without my partner's consent?

2. Upon my death could this property, that is my part, be willed to some one else?

If so would you advise me as to the procedure. C. S.

1. Yes.

2. If you sell your share then your purchaser could control it by his will, since the joint tenancy would have been severed, but if you do not sell your share then your will would be ineffective as to this asset.

If the deed expressly provides for "joint tenancy" as distinguished from "tenancy in common," then on death of one of the tenants the title will go to the survivor without necessity for probate and to the exclusion of the heirs or devisees of the one who dies first [33 C. J. 908,915]. The half that thus passes by survivorship is subject to inheritance tax.

If title is already in one of the parties, the creation of the joint tenancy involves an intermediate conveyance to a third party, who will then reconvey to th intended joint tenants, using a joint tenancy form obtainable from a stationer. Make sure that the third party is not subject to judgment liens.

As to personal property, the Illinois statute says that the "will or other instrument in writing" must express "an intention [presumably that of the previous owner] to create a joint tenancy . . . with the right of survivorship." The mere fact that money is deposited to the account of "A and B" or of "A or B," or that "A and B" have joint access to a safety box containing bearer bonds would not be enough [3 C. J. 908, 19 C. J. 473].

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

PREFERS ROOSEVELT.

Chicago, Sept. 17.—Your editorial and front page cartoon, entitled "Willkie for Peace, and Roosevelt for War," seems bad. You are only trying to fool yourself and others in the belief that Mr. Willkie will keep us out of war.

In Mr. Willkie's acceptance speech lies the answer to your editorial. However, war or no war, Mr. Roosevelt is the man we want. The man who gave us better working conditions, more pay under wage and hour laws, social security benefits, unemployment insurance, and many other benefits, including better housing facilities for the poor. S. H. F.

Chicago, Sept. 16.—Sunday evening I listened to a radio program at 7:30 over WIND by the United States Navy band in conjunction with the WPA. The announcer interrupted the program with ballyhoo about "what has been accomplished in the last seven years."

It was obviously political, but the station informs me that the program is "on sustaining," which means the time is free. Doesn't this come under the Hatch act?

MUSICIAN.

LUCAS KNEW WHAT HE MEANT.

Chicago, Sept. 15.—Mr. Willkie, our next President, made a satisfactory impression on the people of Chicago. He was very frank in telling us what's amiss with our city—the Kelly-Nash organization.

It's surprising how Senator Lucas misconstrued Willkie's statement about "To hell with Chicago." Willkie didn't have the Chicago people in mind when he made that statement, but Chicago's crooked politicians and parasites. He mentioned Kelly-Nash.

Perhaps if Senator Lucas would use some of his energy to straighten out Illinois' faults he'd be better off: such "goings-on" as the Manteno situation; the so-called suicide of F. Lynden Smith; disregard for the dead at asylums; Chicago's gambling scandals; racketeering of legitimate unions, etc.

One thing I'm sure of, and that is if the Kelly-Nash organization exists in Chicago much longer Chicago probably will be "hell." EDWARD E. SHIELDS.

WHO BUT THE TAXPAYERS?

Chicago, Sept. 16.—Just a month ago WPA, with 25 colored men, began to scrape and clean up the Parkside school yard on the 70th street side.

They are still standing around and hauling the dirt and gravel from one side to the other. Twenty-five men in four weeks could more than build a grand house. They have accomplished nothing.

Does their pay come wholly out of taxpayers; and what can they be doing?

ELI JONES.

RE THE DRAFT.

Blue Island, Ill., Sept. 17.—What's fair about a law that considers married men, whose "dependents" consist of no children and a working wife, or a financially independent one, eligible for deferment from the draft? It would be interesting to know the answer. FAY HEMPERLY.

CAN ENLIST IN CANADA.

Chicago, Sept. 16.—The communication, "From America Second," in the Voice of the People, together with your answer in the editorial column, is a "honey."

If I felt as enthusiastic about fighting for an ideal as Mr. Stevenson does I would get on the first airplane going to Canada, enlist, get into uniform, and start throwing hand grenades where they would do the most good.

American history tells us that in the revolutionary war Lafayette, Von Steuben, Pulaski, and Kosciusko were Europeans who believed so strongly in the American cause that they did not hesitate to come over and get into the front lines with Washington.

The "cookie pushers" and "bleeding hearts" would probably faint at the first sight of blood, and they evidently believe in the perverted maxim, "a patriot is a guy who gives your life for his cause." JUST A VETERAN.

HER HUSBAND'S PROBLEM.

Chicago, Sept. 16.—Why can't the government have an office open of evenings or by appointment for men who can't leave their jobs and stand in line for days before they can have their naturalization papers finished? My husband came here when a young lad, has lived here, raised his children here, and now finds his father can't trace his papers. He is an old man and can't remember about them, but we know he was naturalized years ago.

My husband was able to get his first papers properly fixed by mail. Now he has been trying to have the others made out but can't stand in line for days because of his work. Now why can't there be an office where men like him can go of evenings. He doesn't want to lose his job. V. A. D.

GUN TOTERS' SEASON.

Forest Park, Ill., Sept. 16.—The season is here when any fool with a gun and the price of a license can kill or maim the wild creatures of the forest. What could our legislators have been thinking of [or don't they think?] when they put the sweet, gentle mourning dove on the list of game birds?

Conscription should be no difficult problem with all these gun toters cluttering up the forests. Assembling them, they should make a good sized army.

There is a mistaken idea that city folks are cruel and country folks are kind, but you can ride into the country or small town and see farmer and small town boys in their teens and younger shooting song birds whether on the taboo list or not.

BIRD CALLS.

NOT OUT OF THIS ONE YET.

Chicago, Sept. 14.—Henry Wallace is enough to make any one laugh at his silly, hysterical ballyhoo. Now he tells the people of the United States that they will be in another depression if the Republicans get in at the November election. We are still in the worst depression in United States history. M. E.

Revive Home Colorings of 1800 to 1825

BY EDITH WEIGLE.

It's time to think about dressing your rooms for winter. Just as retail floors are burgeoning with fall fashions in home furnishings, Chicago furniture and department stores will give the new merchandise a gala debut party this week, when in concert they present the 1940 home furnishings style show.

The period is the annual National Furniture week, presented each fall by the furniture, floor covering, and bedding industries to call America's attention to its homes.

A preview of leading downtown and outlying stores indicates that prestige lines are stressing both modern and 19th century furniture styles. The designs of 18th century England are still high in favor, as they have been for a number of years and will continue to be, but newer and smarter on the fashion horizon are the furnishings of the Regency period.

Word to Remember.

You'll see the word — Regency — again and again in the coming months. It's the big word to conjure with, this season, in interior decoration.

Immediately preceding the Victorian period, or roughly from about 1800 to 1825, it was marked by the elegance of its furniture designs, by the luxurious quality of its upholstery and drapery fabrics, and by the lovely colors and patterns of its floor coverings. In England the styles of Sheraton and Hepplewhite were still in fashion plus others by Thomas Hope showing a gradual adapting to the empire mode.

In this country distinguished cabinet makers were contributing their share in the field of design. Among them were the illustrious Duncan Phyfe in New York, Samuel McIntire in Salem, Mass., and John Seymour and Son of Boston.

Museum Pieces Copied.

Pointing out the importance of the period, one newly furnished house open for public inspection at a loop store has gone far afield for its furniture and accessories. Lovely antiques in the Metropolitan museum in New York, in the Philadelphia museum, and in distinguished old mansions of New England and the south, all dating back to the early years of the last century, have been carefully copied and adapted for this charming series of rooms.

Great care has been taken to have every detail of drapery, upholstery, and floor covering design as characteristic of the period as possible. The result is a house that has a special, aristocratic atmosphere all its own, a feeling of individuality that is stanchly American.

Another store devotes the interiors of its model house to Regency colors that have been especially mixed to blend. These tones, called Wellington green, Trafalgar turquoise, Pavilion purple, Brummel brown, Windsor gold, Regency rose, and Brighton blue, have been grayed in such a way that no matter which ones you choose for a room, a feeling of harmony will result. No one clashes with any other.

Rugs, draperies, upholsteries, wallpapers—1,662 items in all—have been manufactured to order in these colors. Each piece of furniture in this series of rooms also has been especially planned.

White House Pattern.

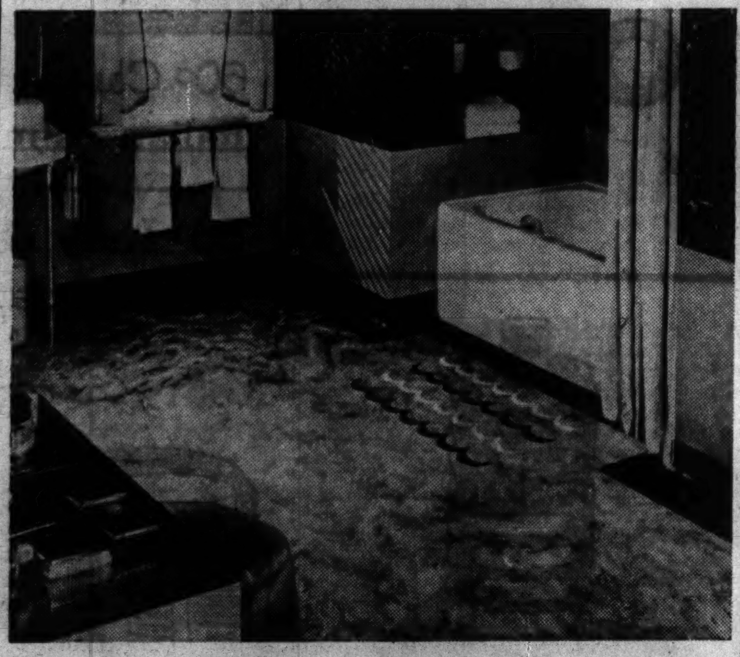
In still another loop store the historic Blue room of the White House has served as inspiration for a newly decorated living room. The color scheme is varying tones of blue, a rich, mellow gold, and a warm rose.

Mahogany Regency lamp tables flank a comfortable couch done in soft blue and white. A gold overmantel mirror, typical of the period, is hung above the white fireplace. A luxurious lounge chair is upholstered in rose stripes.

Modern and early American furniture styles also are featured in the store displays of National Furniture week.

The National Furniture week store visitor will see new styles in lamps, in electrical appliances, and kitchen equipment, too. Not a room in the house has been overlooked. It's an ideal time to pick up the latest news in home decorating.

Linoleum for the Bathroom



Peach toned linoleum with a gleaming black cove covers the floor in this modern bathroom. Plain linoleum is used for the dado and a handsome black onyx linoleum on the walls. Little crescent insets make a wave design near the tub.

Some Tips on Furniture That May Be Interchanged

In a brand new group of rooms, furnished in the modern manner, light toned birch has been used in all the tables and bookcases, and many of the items are exactly the same height so that they may be interchanged from time to time.

Newest Pianos Adapted to All Types of Rooms

BY MARCIA WINN.

Rare today is the new piano that has ivory keys. Rare, and also decoratively wrong, is the piano placed catty-cornered in a room. Common, but a hideous affront to the sensitive souls of interior decorators, are candlesticks on a piano.

None of this would have been important five or even 10 years ago. Pianos weren't. Not decoratively, at any rate. Now, however, they are. Since the advent of the modern spinet or console piano, which is compressed to fit in a small apartment, piano sales have increased 300 per cent. So, since its advent, has the piano's decorative possibilities.

They Revive Spinet Form.

When the manufacturers first devised—or revived—the spinet form, their primary interest was to keep it as small as possible and yet retain tone. They first experimented with only 73 keys, rather than the standard 88, but this was not noticeably popular. Now they boast not only a standard keyboard and the tone of a full size piano, but of beauty as well, for they have a piano styled for almost every period of furniture.

Colonial? They have it. Eighteenth century English? That, too. Louis XV? Yes, complete with cabriole leg. Modern? Oh, many. Some in bleached woods, some in walnut or mahogany, but all with simple, rounded lines. One style is covered with what seems to be leather, but in reality is a plastic claimed to be waterproof, termiteproof, verminproof. This, altho most popular in a walnutish color, comes in cream, a saddle leather brown and a variety of others.

If you want a piano that blends with a regency room, select a spinet grand in ebony finish. This looks like a grand, but is only 40 inches high and 27 inches wide. It has the same front, the same fall board [covering the keys], lyre [foot pedals] and the same leaning tower of Pisa sort of lid.

Ivory Keys Cost More.

Its keys, too, are ivory, whereas the average piano today has composition keys. Not because of cost [ivory keys cost about $15 more than composition], but because ivory yellows and discolors with age.

You'll have to look a long while to find a really large grand piano in a modern apartment, these days. Most people use the five foot grand, which has sufficient volume for the average living room. You can get one as small as 4 feet, 7 inches, tho, or as long as 11 feet. The little ebony finish one is a very smart accent note in a regency room.

Nevertheless, 85 per cent of the pianos now sold are spinets [10 per cent, grands; 5 per cent, uprights]. Many of them are ultra-ultra decorative. One new console spinet even has simulated shelves of books inset on either side of its music rack.

These, fancy gold embroidered sets that come in scarlet, blue or whatever color you wish to match your color scheme of your piano, bear the title, "Musical Masterpieces." It looks imposing and learned, but upon investigation you will find the books are false fronts!

Should Parallel Wall.

To be appreciated by some one other than a music lover, a piano must be placed to advantage. No piano, except a grand, should be placed catty-cornered. It must be parallel with the wall. One side of the grand, too, should parallel the wall, if possible.

Here are several ways of placing it: Use it on the wall between a pair of windows, as you would use a breakfront cabinet, and hang a row of pictures [four to six] above it. "Make the whole thing a decorative group in itself," says one decorator.

In a room where there is no architectural focal point, such as a fireplace, you can build a little conversational grouping around your piano by placing a low, comfortable chair on either side of it. A wing chair and a lounge chair, or two matching chairs are suggested.

If you have a small apartment with a large entrance hall, as many modern apartments have, your piano, if a small console, might be placed there, making a small music room. Or take the invariable studio couch out of the den, if you have one, and convert this room into a combination music room and study.

Trend Away from Candlesticks.

Above any piano, wherever placed, there should be a decorative treatment such as might be used above a fireplace. That is, groups of pictures, brackets or figurines.

The trend is away from candlesticks on a piano. They serve no purpose. In their place a pair of oil lamps with frosted globes [on a colonial piano], Chinese figurines [on an 18th century spinet] or a pair of classic Lenox urn reflectors [for traditional period styles] are suggested.

If you want light on your piano, use a small lamp at one end—but not two! Try a decorative object at the other end, a modern head or bust or a dramatic grouping.

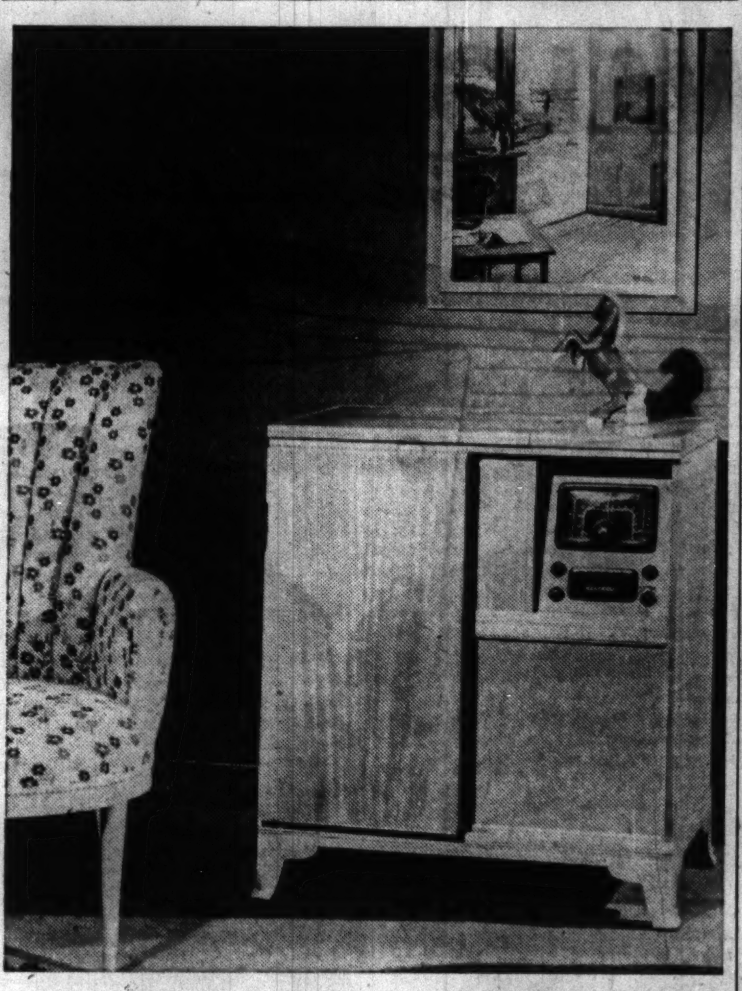
Radio-Phono Combination



This handsome cabinet houses both an automatic phonograph and a radio. When the left side panel slides to the right it has the appearance of a regular piece of furniture. The wood is light toned mahogany.

Soft Blue and Pink Two of Season's Best Liked Colors

Two of the most popular colors for interior decoration this winter will be soft blue and pink. And the pink is almost any tint from the blush of a rosebud to the grayed hue known as bois de rose. The blue can be either clear, sky blue, grayed, or on the greenish side. Three charming rooms, one in each of three new model houses to be shown during the coming week at a Chicago store, carry out this pink and blue color theme.

Chaise Longue Provides Luxury Touch in a Room

A chaise longue gives a woman the touch of luxury she loves in the bedroom, whether she has chosen 18th century or modern style furnishings. Chaise longues can be obtained in upholstery fabrics to match a boudoir chair, or, for pleasing contrast, can complement the color scheme of the room.

Camera Studies Make a Charming Room Decoration

In a living room, decorated in 1940 modern, a row of water colors of city scenes, each framed in light wood, is hung at eye level above a turquoise blue couch.

Nest of Tables Will Help Homemaker to Save Space

A nest of tables is a bit of magic which the clever homemaker uses—three tables that take up the space of one. They serve many uses and fit nicely alongside an occasional chair or fill a space otherwise difficult.

DEAR WIFE:

Edith called and said be sure to go out to HOMER Bros. Furniture Factory at 3053 W. Grand Ave. if we want to get a real buy in a Living Room suite. She said they have one that's really a honey, for only $119. And you don't have to pay cash either. The Budget plan will take care of all financing. Let's go out tonight, huh? Meet me there about 7:30. They're displaying acres of fine furniture.

Dictum for New Rugs: Flowers on Your Floors

BY MILDRED WILDS.

Romance has been woven into your rugs. It has been captured from the age of bronze chandeliers and candlelight and is laid at your feet by the designers of fall and winter carpeting. With inspiration taken from the luxurious living of the early 19th century south and from the hushed colors of great-grandmother's garden, the decorating dictum of National Furniture week is "flowers on your floors."

Rugs and carpeting in one loop department store were designed after a merchandising manager came back from a 4,500 mile trip thru the south. He brought back sketches, photographs, and ideas from Natchez, from the faded old Georgian homes of South Carolina and Alabama. There he saw the tastes of the gentlemen who built their fortunes in cotton. There he saw the old china pigs-in-clover, baroque edged mirrors, French painted roses, and the chaste interiors of the "Greek revival" homes. All this is the feeling captured in new rug designs.

A Study in Blends.

The age in history on which many 1940 rugs are patterned is the Greek revival toned to the mood of the French, a second home to the early colonizers. All this has been done in contemporary or muted colors.

One rug is a study in blends of mistletoe green, Georgian rose, bluebell blue, antique beige, with a speck of wood violet. A pinkish beige is called blossom tone and defies description in its pleasing softness.

One rug, called the Melrose pattern, with big splashes of roses and greens, ranges from almost yellow to dark olive. There are no rules about where to put these rugs or what must be used with them. Decorators agree this is the age of individuality and each room can only be an example of good judgment.

One carpet shown is an all-over pattern sprinkled with mixed bouquets that might have been picked from an old English garden, for the English, too, have put their mark on this 1940 age of carpet culture. This is a chenille Axminster with an off-white fringe. There are no borders on these rugs. The pattern stretches from wall to wall or ends within a foot of the baseboard with this thick fringe, or nothing.

Apple Blossom Design.

Another chenille of the Georgian mood is an apple blossom design and also owes its inspiration to England. There are three tones of gray in the background, deepening from silver thru the smoky tones. A variety of pinks make up the blossoms, and almost a dozen shades of green portray the leaves.

One unusually stunning rug has a calla lily design. The lilies in off white lite on a tête-de-nègre background. The heart of each flower is a delectable melon pink and yellow. This design was inspired by a piece of antique English needle-point.

Looms for chenille Axminsters permit a large number of colors, whereas the looms for Wiltons or velvets require the designer to confine himself to a few.

The practical will like the floral design sprinkled over a black background. This rug is displayed with a clever montage of white horse-head hitching post, lace gloved hands, a painted pig-in-clover, and birds' feathers of the ladies' bonnet variety.

300 Colors in One.

Plain broadlooms are not out. There is a "rainbow rug" room in a loop store with 300 colors placed in a massive book-on-the-wall arrangement. There is every shade, tone, and degree of every color on the artist's easel. These plain rugs are sampled in both smooth and twist weave, but the twist is first in popularity.

Also for decorators who demand plain carpeting there is a new needlepoint weave. The uncut pile provides the same sturdy appearance as needle-point. Another is the Heathcliff carpet, softer in appearance and having a nap between the regular broadloom and the needle-point texture.

Hooked rugs made in China offer the fall rug buyer a different weave than has ever appeared on the market. The soft colored designs are embossed on an ivory background. One has a French blue ground. These rugs are lined with heavy canvas to protect the backs from wearing.

Nor has the bathroom been forgotten. Joseph Platt, who did the settings for the motion picture "Gone with the Wind," has designed a throw rug in tufted cotton with a giant pink rose in the center. Also in the oval and round rug division is one interesting washable group inspired by a baroque mirror.

Dining Ensemble in New Tobacco Brown

This charming dining ensemble has been created of walnut in a new, artistic finish called tobacco brown. Living room pieces are also available in this wood.

Measure Chair Arms Before Picking Table to Go in Same Room

In selecting a new table to go beside the lounge chair, or a new pair to flank the couch, remember to measure the exact height of arms of both chair and couch and then to choose tables the same height or as near that height as possible.

If the table is slightly higher than the arm of couch or chair you have to reach up every time you want to use an ash tray or get a magazine or book, and it's an awkward gesture.

Also, lamps placed on tables that are too high are hard on the eyes as they shine directly in your face. So, use the tape measure before you go shopping for tables.

Good Furniture Is—

Decorate Your Windows with Bright Drapes

BY RITA FITZPATRICK.

Last year's draperies have entered the category of yesterday's newspaper and last season's hat. They're old news now that fresh, intriguing things are being done with printed velveteens, satin, felt, taffeta, damask, and quilted chintz.

Then, too, last year's somber Edwardian influence has given way to the quiet elegance of the Regency era and the rich tones of Georgian days. To be up to date, leading interior decorators contend, your windows should have an 18th century outlook.

Eighteenth century furnishings have been called "livable." So, too, the 1940 "living" room should live up to its name. It should be your best companion. Draperies can do it, even if your furniture is heavy and somber-hued, or brashly modern and flamboyant. If the room is dark, new, muted pastels now being shown in nubby woven rayon damasks will create a beautiful balance. Bright, printed failles with pastel backgrounds of white, peach, and maize are also recommended.

With Royal Simplicity.

A light walled room can take on the air of Buckingham palace during the days of the four Georges. With royal simplicity the windows may either be framed with straight, flowing folds of deep shaded silk damask or rippling swags of lustrous satin.

For wearing qualities the satins are cotton backed. They come in new, provocative shades called taffy, willow, citron, celadon, Antoinette blue, oxblood, kingfisher blue, rose mallow, jasper green, and gooseberry.

Unlike last season, draperies and upholstery in matching shades and contrasting materials will be fashionable. One of Chicago's largest department stores will illustrate this soon with a special Regency setting. Against plain celadon [gray green] satin draperies, the interior decorators of the store plan to center a period sofa of the same shade in silk damask. The damask is one of the loveliest on the market. In the Georgian tradition, it is patterned with large English roses and graceful sprigs of wheat. A pull-up seat in this setting will be covered with striped damask in matching green and beige.

Dusty Rose Leaf Pattern.

Printed velveteens probably are the most unusual of the new materials. A striking pattern now on bolts is a cream velveteen spattered with formal bouquets of deep red roses. The thick nap of the material makes it hardly distinguishable from velvet.

Brocatelles have a renewed elegance this year. One scrolled-leaf pattern in dusty rose, seen in a department store, has the grace and wearing quality of old brocade. Using the dusty rose for draperies, an old chair could be upholstered in sky blue brocatelle of the same pattern. The combination is beautiful.

Glowsheen Replacing Chintz.

Glowsheen is a new material which is fast replacing chintz for economic reasons. It has the same sheen as chintz, but is washable.

The bedroom of the 1940 woman must be graduated from the girly-girly stage of ruffles and dotted Swiss. Maturity is the timely keynote. Draperies of pastel taffeta striped with metallic threads will retain the aura of daintiness and sustain the effect of dignity.

For the early American bedroom interior decorators are advocating quilted chintz. The handy woman can quilt and outline the floral pattern of the chintz at home. A quilted valance and unquilted drapery are a clever combination. The draperies can be hung behind gauze curtains creating a soft, misty effect. A quilted bedspread of the same material would make the picture complete.

Chintz will remain a favorite for dining room draperies. Highly mercerized damask that glows after repeated washings will also suit the pocketbook and the situation. Colorful old English roses, leaves, or sprigs of wheat are air brushed on the fabric. Popular backgrounds are either maize, blue, egg shell, dusty pink, or jade.

All in all, the woman shopper of autumn, 1940, who pauses in a drapery department, will have a hard time resisting the new merchandise which combines the best of an old and beautiful era with the ingenuity and workmanship of an exciting day. If she succumbs her windows, not herself, will have been skilfully framed.

If You're Longing for a Canopy Bed, You Can Find One

Has your dream room been a bedroom furnished in colonial fashion with a real canopy bed? If it has you can choose just the type you've longed for, because manufacturers are copying a number of the beautiful old tester beds found in both New England and the deep south during the 18th and 19th centuries. Usually the canopy is kept quite simple, being of some white washable material such as dotted Swiss or muslin. White spreads continue the old fashioned note. And mahogany is the wood chosen for these beds.

Rocker American Product.

The rocking chair is essentially an American product said to have been originated by Benjamin Franklin.

Registration for Evening Courses closes Saturday, Sept. 21.

IN 1908 Northwestern University first offered evening courses in Chicago to 255 students. Today more than 11,500 men and women a year are getting a university education through study on the downtown campus in the evening divisions of Commerce, Journalism and the University College.

Northwestern University brings you the following facilities for applying your leisure hours to education. A faculty of almost 300 university professors and practicing specialists. More than 300 different courses, in new and standard subjects of university grade, leading to university degrees and diplomas. A helpful counseling service by trained educational advisers. And a convenient campus with libraries, a stimulating environment, and a new social and recreational center—Abbott Hall.

Registration for evening study is now open—from 12:00 noon to 8:30 P.M., Saturdays from 9:00 A. M. to 4:30 P. M. Register in Wieboldt Hall for Commerce, Journalism, and the University College; in Thorne Hall for the Technological Institute. Classes begin on Wednesday evening, Sept. 25.

26 Attendants Named for Ryerson-Hutchins Wedding

BY JUDITH CASS.

PREPARATIONS are complete for what will be one of the largest and most fashionable weddings of many seasons. Twelve young women will attend the bride, Miss Margaret Hutchins, and 14 young men will attend the bridegroom, Anthony Mitchell Ryerson, when they are married on Saturday afternoon, Oct. 12. The service will be read at 4 o'clock in the Fourth Presbyterian church with a small reception following at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James C. Hutchins of 1450 Astor street.

There will be little prenuptial entertaining for most of the young men in the wedding party are away at college and will be here just for the week-end of the wedding. Mr. and Mrs. Hutchins will give the bridal dinner the night before the ceremony at the Casino, and there probably will be a large luncheon party on the day of the marriage. Mr. Ryerson, only son of Mrs. Donald M. Ryerson and the late Mr. Ryerson, and his bride will reside in Lake Forest.

Mrs. John Jay Borland II. Will Be Matron of Honor.

Mrs. John Jay Borland II. will be her sister's matron of honor and the bridesmaids will be the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. George W. W. Brewster Jr. of Boston; the bride's sister-in-law, Mrs. Chauncey Keep Hutchins; Miss Mary Gardner, who is a cousin of the bride; Miss Mary Adams, Miss Grace Shumway, Mrs. Philip D. Armour IV., Miss Sally Perry, Miss Nancy Orr, Miss Mary Ryerson, the bridegroom's cousin, Miss Joan Sanger of New York, and Miss Sally Reed of Dedham, Mass., formerly of Chicago.

Leslie Wheeler will serve Mr. Ryerson as best man and ushering will be Mr. Hutchins, Mr. Borland, Mr. Brewster, James G. K. McClure Jr. of Fairview, N. C., a cousin of the bridegroom; Edward L. Ryerson III., also a cousin of the bridegroom; Charles Spalding, John A. King Jr., David Wilhelm, John Coleman Jr., William Borland, Robert Hagey, Edward Carpenter of Mount Kisco, N. Y., and George Swope, who works at the steel mills with the bridegroom.

Miss Virginia Winston's Wedding Date Uncertain.

The exact date of Miss Virginia Winston's marriage to Herbert De Young cannot be set until her sister, Laura, finds out what week-end towards the end of November she can come home from Poughkeepsie, N. Y. She departed yesterday to resume her studies at Vassar college. Miss Winston is so busy with Junior league work that she is asking that all entertaining be postponed until nearer the time of the wedding.

The Laird Bell family runs to girls, for Mr. and Mrs. Bell, who have four daughters and no sons, now have a granddaughter, the baby born Tuesday night to their eldest daughter, Mrs. Geoffrey de Freitas, in the Lying-In hospital in Chicago. Word of little Miss de Freitas' birth was cabled to her father, who is an officer in the air ministry in London. Mrs. de Freitas and the baby will remain with the Bells in Hubbard Woods until the war is over. The Bells' other daughters are Mrs. Gilbert H. Osgood, Miss Margaret Bell, and debutante Nathalie Bell.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Meeker's Grandson to Be Married.

From Santa Barbara comes word of the engagement of Miss Margaret Maclean Wood, daughter of Mrs. Wilbor Jerome Wood of that city, to Horace Gray Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. Horace Gray of Montecito and San Francisco, and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Meeker of Chicago and Santa Barbara. Miss Wood attended Santa Barbara State college, the University of California, and the Rudolph Shaeffer School of Design in San Francisco. Mr. Gray prepared for Harvard at the Santa Barbara school and Milton academy. He is in his third year at the University of Virginia law school, to which he will return next week. No date has been set for the wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Meeker are entertaining for their grandson and his fiancée this week-end at their beautiful California home, Constantia. They are returning to Chicago on Oct. 5. Arthur Meeker Gray, the Horace Grays' other son, returns shortly to Chicago from a two week visit with his family in Santa Barbara. His sister, Miss Joan, is to make a Chicago debut this winter. She already has gone east to Bronxville, N. Y., to be a sophomore at Sarah Lawrence college.

Mrs. Eugene McDonald Hostess to Orchestra Board.

Mrs. Eugene F. McDonald Jr. is entertaining members of the board of the Woman's Symphony orchestra at luncheon today aboard the yacht, Mizpah. Mrs. McDonald is a composer and one of her compositions is to be played by the orchestra at its opening concert on Oct. 15 in Orchestra hall.

James N. Rawleigh Jr. is leaving today with the 202d Coast Artillery antiaircraft for Fort Bliss, Tex. His brother, William, departs on Sunday to enter the aeronautical engineering school at the University of Michigan.

Missing from Chicago this winter—and possibly for much longer—will be the G. Cook Kimball family. Mr. and Mrs. Kimball and Miss Marjorie will be calling Washington, D. C., home for the next few months, at least Mr. Kimball already has left and Mrs. and Miss Kimball will leave on Oct. 1. Miss Kimball, however, is retaining her position as regional director for this area of the National Association of Junior Leagues of America, so she will be making frequent trips to Chicago until March, when elections are held.

Unusual Tea Tables Expected at Settlement Benefit.

The three tea tables from which guests at the Northwestern University settlement benefit fashion show will be served following the showing should be unusually lovely, for six authorities on floral decorations are coöperating to plan them. Mrs. Hugh Foresman, tea chairman, has invited Mrs. Thomas Cassady and Mrs. John Stuart of the Lake Forest Garden club, Mrs. McStay Jackson of the Lake Bluff club, Mrs. Stuyvesant Butler of the Kenilworth club, and Mrs. Robert H. Gardner of the Winnetka club to help her in arranging the tables.

The colors of the Polish flag, [white and red] and of Polish costumes will be used, for Miss Harriet

[TRIBUNE Studio Photo.]

An ensemble of bath preparations in the lush scent of American Beauty roses makes a good gift but an even better possession. The cologne is lastingly perfumed with soap, bath crystals and dusting powder to match. Bottle and jars are of glass with the old fashioned "rose in the snow" design.

Perfumes come and perfumes go in the swing of feminine favor, but the scent of the rose always holds its own.

As you may know, rose is considered the most romantic fragrance of all. That may be the secret of its popularity. Romance never goes out of fashion!

Among roses none is so lush as the American beauty. Its fragrance is richest, warmest of all. This year that wonderful fragrance has been made the foundation for a new family of bath glorifiers that are exceptional in quality and style at a very low price.

The cologne is wonderfully good. There are not many perfumed colognes on the market with a good fragrance so highly concentrated as it is in this one. We like it even better than the perfume itself. A deep, true rose scent seems to us to improve when it is incorporated in a cologne; it seems a little cooler, a little less sweet and lush. In this cologne the strength of the lovely perfume is precisely right—and it lasts and lasts.

There are bath crystals in the same scent, a sacheted soap, and a fine dusting powder. They make a delightful ensemble for the woman who likes a true rose fragrance and their packaging is one of those triumphs for a house that tries hard to give the consumer beauty at little price. The cologne container and the round glass jars that house the crystals and the dusting powder were inspired by a lovely old design in glass—the familiar "rose in the snow" motif.

All these are definitely inexpensive and they represent charm.

The Housewife

A brand new idea and an excellent one in all-purpose household cleaners is a handy little package of 12 white tablets which you simply dissolve in hot water. Then, according to varied directions, depending on which job you're doing you can clean Venetian blinds, tile work, varnished woodwork, painted surfaces, linoleum, washable wallpaper, window shades, imitation leather, rugs, draperies, and upholstered furniture. It's easy to use, contains no acids or caustics to injure fabrics and leaves no soapy residue.

An Old Story Is Done So Well It Seems New

Produced by Paramount.
Directed by Ralph Murphy.
Presented at the Chicago theater.

THE CAST.

Geraldine [Jerry] Brokaw	Joan Blondell
Alan MacNally	Dick Powell
Wanda Holland	Gloria Dickson
Jeff Gilman	Frank Fay
Grandma Brokaw	Jessie Ralph
Grandpa Brokaw	Harry Davenport
David Holland Sr.	Conrad Nagel
David Holland Jr.	Mickey Kuhn

Celestine	Louise Beavers

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

You never get anywhere PREACHING at people. The casual method of putting over a point is always so much more effective!

"I Want a Divorce" is agin wholesale splitups, but in a chatty you-could-be-right-as-well-as-I manner which enlists interest and sympathy.

The story hasn't much to offer in the way of originality, but it is so ably presented that doggone if the old stuff doesn't seem new. Six people try out their wings in the matrimonial ozone. All of them hit low ceiling. There are several bad crashes. Two—played by Joan Blondell and Dick Powell—emerge—wobbly, wiser, and warier, with all signs pointing to fair flying days ahead for two who mean to have sense enough to keep their feet on the ground when clouds lower.

The several strands of narrative have been woven deftly together and the divorce question is presented broadly and unargumentatively.

Miss Blondell and her husband are a most engaging team and I hope producers give us repeat performances of them together. Gloria Dickson is charming and appealing as Joan's elder sister who solves her difficulties the hardest way. Jessie Ralph and Harry Davenport play an old couple engagingly, Frank Fay—how much he looks and acts like Burgess Meredith!—is excellent as a henpeckee, and Louise Beaver scores as a maid.

The film is not a comedy drama, but it has a lot of laughs and is really good entertainment.

Mrs. Ferdinand Peck and Children Observe Her 92d Birthday

Cuff Notes.

A fellow in full football regalia who runs up and down the Midway mornings at about 9 o'clock, shoulders back, fists clenched, has the morning pedestrians and motorists puzzled. Is he what is left of the University of Chicago football team, some of them want to know. . . . Lloyd Mendelson, who last June played the Mendelssohn piano concerto in Orchestra hall as his graduation swan song from the Chicago Musical college and whose teacher is Dorothy Mendelsohn, will be a freshman at the University of Chicago when it opens Oct. 23. . . . An Evanston child who was taken to a political meeting and questioned about it when she returned home said: "Well, we sang a song. It was 'Jobless America'." . . . A morning marketer at Clark and Schiller yesterday wore a quilted robe over a pink satin nightgown, bedroom slippers, and had her hair in curlers.

Elliott Nugent, author and costar of The Male Animal at the Selwyn, is spending his spare time in Chicago working on another play, a farce, with James Thurber as co-author. It was Thurber who got Nugent out of Hollywood and back into the legitimate theater. Billy Hill, author of The Last Roundup, Wagon Wheels, and The Oregon Trail, who has not been west of the Hudson for 12 years, was in Chicago yesterday on his way to the coast. Not a westerner, Hill made an indifferent living one way and another until he hit the jackpot with his western songs. He is on his way to ASCAP day at the World's Fair in San Francisco to participate in the musical show ASCAP is presenting. Gene Buck, president of the organization, was with him, also Peter De Rose (Deep Purple) and his wife, May Singhi Breen.

THUMB NAIL SKETCHES.

Lady.

Many a swan song's lilting bars are borne in beauty toward the stars, but never was so sweet a flute
as her swan song when she was mute.

Gentleman.

He sputters like a motor boat or bellows like an angry bull, but any one who bellows back he thinks is really wonderful.

—Jeanne DeLamarter.

Big City Memo.

(From Virginia Pennock.)

There are several ways I can get home from the "El" station, six blocks from our house. One route leads me down Pulaski road, a bandshell for horn concerts. I can ride the street car, a rostrum for silent debaters, or walk the precarious sidewalk, an Olympic track for long distance runners.

I choose in contrast the plain and homey side streets, where delicious cooking vapors pleasantly tantalize my growing hunger. Children are much in evidence. From their prattling I gather up a world of philosophy. I pat a stray dog and exchange a smile with a shy little girl.

Boys are raking leaves these days. Girls are playing school on the front steps. For I find a change of seasons on the side streets, and only lolling years on busy roads.

It would be a shame if Wendell Willkie were to lose the election by a whisper, says Robert L. Lederer.

Services Donated.

A man came to see John Carey Murphy of the executive committee of the British War relief sale of Chicago decorators and architects that opens next Monday for two weeks at 615 North Michigan avenue, to make a donation.

"I haven't any antiques or objects of value to donate to the shop," he said. "I'm a window washer. Could I wash the windows of the shop as my contribution?"

His services were appreciatively accepted.

Republican Women to Open Conference in Detroit Sept. 30

Women and the American way of living will be the theme of speeches at the convention of the National Federation of Women's Republican clubs in Detroit Sept. 30 and Oct. 1.

The first day of the convention will center around Wendell L. Willkie, Republican nominee for President, who will address an evening mass meeting. A luncheon will be given for Mrs. Willkie and Mrs. Charles L. McNary, wife of the Republican Vice Presidential nominee.

Women prominent in the Republican party will speak on the second day. These include Mrs. Robert A. Taft, wife of the senator from Ohio, who will speak on "The Challenge of 1940"; Ruth DeYoung Kohler, conductor of "Women World Wide" over W-G-N and in THE TRIBUNE, who will speak on "What of Tomorrow"; Bertha E. Swindall, active among Chicago Negro Young Republicans, whose topic will be "Youth's Opportunity," and Marion E. Martin, director of the women's division for the Republican national committee, who will close the discussion with a review of "Woman's Place in the Campaign."

Simulated Air Flight Eases Sinus Trouble

Marked benefits to sufferers from sinus disease have been found to result from simulated airplane rides in an atmospheric pressure tank installed at Northwestern university medical school. This was revealed yesterday in a preliminary report based on treatments given 16 patients during the last year.

Te report, prepared by Drs. A. H. Andrews, L. W. Roth and A. C. Ivy, stated that 10 of the 16 sufferers who submitted to the free treatments were definitely improved after the first or second treatment and that an additional five improved after further treatments.

The idea for the pressure tank suggested itself to medical men when sinus sufferers reported improvement in their condition during airplane flights. Some said the good effects of the high altitude continued after the planes had landed. Accordingly, it was decided to create the same conditions artificially.

The tank is 40 inches in diameter and 6½ feet long. Placed horizontally, it is equipped with a door and windows. The pressure within was reduced by withdrawing air at a constant rate by a rotary pump, thus making it possible to "lift" a patient to an altitude of 47,000 feet, altho none of those tested was taken to a greater height than 8,000 feet.

The report revealed that the following effects might be expected: drainage of the sinuses thru lowering the atmospheric pressure and therby creating a mild outflow; an increase in the aeration of the sinuses due to changes in the density of the air, and enlargement of the sinus openings and nasal passages.

"All the patients," read the report, "said they breathed more easily and subjectively felt better at an altitude of 7,000 to 8,000 feet . . . and nine patients who were temporarily completely relieved reported that several hours after the treatment and the following day they experienced a more free and copious discharge of the sinuses."

The pressure tank used in the experiment is one of two or three in the United States.

The Borrowed Cottage

By Alice Campbell

[Copyright: 1940: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

SYNOPSIS.

Rowan Wilde, a young American girl, goes down to the isolated cottage of Hazel Fordyce, in England, to do some studying. She enters the house, alone, at night, and hears uncanny footsteps that frighten her. Investigating, she opens a door, and, in the dark, falls over a dead man whose throat has been cut. He appears to have just been murdered. She rushes out of the house looking for help and runs into a young man, to whom she tells her discovery. A man on a motorcycle passes and speaks to the young man, calling him Smedley. Rowan guesses the man is the vicar, the Rev. Mr. Bogge, who lives next door. When Smedley sees the dead man, it is evident that he recognizes him, and Rowan sees a strong resemblance between the dead man and the man on the motorcycle.

INSTALMENT IV.
NO RETURN.

MR. SMEDLEY, whoever he might be, was quite as upset as Rowan was—possibly more. His strong, lean hands trembled as he rubbed them angrily down his trousers.

Rowan looked at him, then back to the grinning dead man, noting the big nose, the deep, sardonic grooves down-drawn round the mouth, which had pale, loose lips. The vicar's mouth had been a slit.

There was an onyx seal ring on the dangling little finger. The overcoat, black, had a wide facing of astrakhan, and blood in small clots had spurted in amongst the tight, curled fur.

"Cover it up! Let's get out. I mean, we can't do anything here, can we?"

Mechanically the young man took hold of the velvet, careful, she noticed, to avoid the sticky portions. He drew it over and down.

"You say you heard some one moving about in here. Was that all you heard?"

His question startled her. She realized that all this time, apparently oblivious of her, he had registered her every word.

"Yes, all. This part's so cut off, don't you see? By mistake I turned on the electric dynamo instead of the kitchen light. It made a frightful clatter. Whoever it was cleared off and—O! Was it the murderer?"

Without the least pretense of civility he replaced the lamp, stalked toward the screen, and only with his foot on the steps remembered to let her pass first.

In the open air he made straight across the lawn, not stopping till he had reached the road. Once there Rowan saw him wipe light beads of moisture from his face, stuffing his handkerchief back into his trouser pocket. His skin had grown greener. She thought he was going to be sick.

"Well?" Thanks for looking. Now if it's not troubling you too much, what do I do?"

Untouched by her sarcasm he poised, looking steadily away. Never, thought Rowan, had she met so unsatisfactory a man. Of a sudden, with a jerk, he spoke.

"You stop here, while I fetch my car. It's the only thing. I can't walk another five miles—now."

"You've got a car? I didn't know. Where is it, near? I'll come with you and save time."

He shook his head. "Too wet where I'll have to walk. Stick here, in five minutes I'll pick you up—bags and all, if you like. We'll telephone Lydport. Yes"—to himself—"it has to be done, I suppose."

She didn't like the sound of this last remark, but her relief was too great to quibble.

"Hurry along, then." She watched his tall, loose-boned figure swing away to the right. "O," she called. "Just a second. I suppose you live down here?"

"No, London," came over his shoulder. "I'm a stranger, too—practically speaking." The last words were mumbled as he vanished round the bend.

He was not entirely a stranger here. The vicar, if vicar it was, had spoken to him, called him Smedley—and seemed none too pleased at the encounter. She was pretty certain the dead man had been known to him, and that he hadn't the least intention of admitting this or anything else. Altogether unlikable, this Mr. Smedley, in spite of an exterior which at first glance had promised so well.

Rowan, tho neither arch nor flirtatious, was unaccustomed to young males who so markedly ignored her. In this case, with a right to sympathy, she had met not merely a callous rebuff but something which appeared to swing between suspicion and out-and-out dislike. The situation which should have won her an ally had presented her with an antagonist, why, she couldn't conceive.

Well, four miles wasn't far.

A raindrop splashed heavily on the crown of her head. She'd better get her coat, tho another entry into the house was more detestable than getting drenched.

She accomplished it. Flame turned off from under a kettle boiled almost dry, she scrubbed her hands feverishly at the kitchen sink, thought of changing the skirt she couldn't bear to keep on her, and decided it was worse to stop here than to stick the blood a little longer. Buttoned into her Jaeger coat, a felt hat jammed securely over her freshly-set curls, she hurried back to the lane, bore with fortitude the increasing drizzle, and impatiently eyed the spot where her companion had disappeared.

It seemed a very long five minutes. Looking at her watch, she discovered with a shock that she had been waiting more than twenty.

In a flash she saw it. He had never intended to come back.

From the start this young man had fought against touching this affair. His viewing the corpse now appeared a sop to content her, his refusal to let her go with him a barefaced ruse in order to skin out altogether. If he really had a car, why hadn't he mentioned it at once? Rowan began recalling little items in his behavior which at the time she had been too bowled over to consider.

Where had he come from? She tried to re-picture her original glimpse of him. It had been impossible to say whether he had approached from the barred gates leading to the meadows or—her heart thumped—from the porch of the Tudor room.

His jump when she threw herself upon him; his questions, evasions, most of all his silences, hugging some secret knowledge to himself. Funny, too, not telling the vicar when he had the chance . . .

"He didn't want to see me. He didn't want to see the vicar. It was a shock meeting any one at all."

The rain veiled the dying landscape in a dank, drab mist. Chilled with inaction, Rowan took a turn down the road. There must be another cottage somewhere! The address on Hazel's paper was Garch's Corners, Larchwood, nr. Lydport, Dorset. Well, this was Larchwood. A village of sorts simply had to be close by, tho to be sure she didn't know in which direction it lay.

Presently, her coat soaked thru, she came upon a small huddle of houses—three, to be exact, two of them decayed hovels behind ragged kitchen gardens, but the first a minute shop bearing—O, joy!—a post office sign. Here, undoubtedly, would be the telephone she wanted. It was no good. The door was locked, no one answered her banging. The same applied to the cottages, where even a few rusty hens had retired to an open outhouse. The owners were all gone, and beyond, as far as her eye could see, stretched empty fields.

This proof that in one respect she had been told no lie slightly heartened her.

She was moving slowly back. Here, on the left, was a break in the hedge. A lopsided gate was fastened with a wire hoop, and beyond, tunnelling dimly into a wood, some sort of soggy path. She could just make out fresh footprints heading into this—a single, masculine pair.

Tho she disliked penetrating this sylvan mystery, lovely in daylight, no doubt, but forbidding in dripping dusk, she ventured upon it, picking her way. Bushes crowded a narrow space on both sides, trees arched over. Sweet smells arose—briar, young alder leaves, even unseen violets.

Looking at Hollywood
By John Chapman

Hollywood, Sept. 18.—Charles Laughton is feuding with RKO over story choice and has refused to do "Mr. Pinky." . . . Observation: Frank Morgan, the perennially baffled and timid, has never portrayed a man who can get all that money for a couple of ounces of bitters. . . . At the Beverly Brown Derby you can set your watch by Montague Love, who, promptly at 6:45 every evening, enters the back room, downs a double martini and departs at 6:49. . . . Binnie Barnes plans to bring three more of her sister's ten children over from England. One niece is living with her now. That will make quite a houseful for Binnie's husband-to-be, Radioman Mike Frankovich. . . . Constance Bennett will give a scholarship, consisting of six months' training with Max Reinhardt, to the extra girl voted most worthy of stardom by Hollywood's 220 assistant directors. . . . Add odd businesses: The chap who supplies labeled but empty tin cans and cereal boxes for movie grocery store scenes. In most such shots, incidentally, cans and boxes are carefully stacked upside down to cut down free advertising.

Shirley Temple's brother, Jack, who used to be an assistant director, has been appointed an instructor in drama at Stanford U. . . . The Dean Jaggers have had to move because their Irish setter pup has outgrown their small Hollywood place. They've bought the dog and themselves a hous in Westwood. . . . John Payne is dickering for 20 acres back of Malibu where he can build a house and have a landing field. . . . In making the Mrs. Leslie Carter film, "The Lady with Red Hair," the Warners are having the actress appear in some plays she never was in. "Way of Beauty" is one of them—and there never was such a play. Fictitious dramas are being used in some spots because the studio can't get copyright clearance on some of the real Carter dramas.

Basil Rathbone knocked himself out doing a take for "The Californian" this week—and was doubly hurt when Rouben Mamoulian said it spoiled the picture. He was dueling with Tyrone Power, who is supposed to "Errol Flynn" him and kill him. In order to make his death look real, Rathbone collapsed without trying to break his fall, hit his head on a chair leg, and went out cold. A nurse brought him to, and he felt quite proud of himself until Mamoulian called for a retake. "It didn't look natural," said the director.

When a studio efficiency expert at Twentieth Century-Fox discovered a bill for 4,000 aspirin tablets in connection with the filming of "The Californian" he howled. The movie business, he granted, is one big headache—but not THAT big. He subsided, however, when they told him the aspirin was for flowers on the set. The stuff keeps posies from wilting under the lights. And in this case, too, 80 bouquets were also wilting from the love making of Ty Power and Linda Darnell.

At a restaurant last night I thought the joint was pinched when three uniformed huskies tramped thru the main room. But it was only Director W. S. Van Dyke and two associates in their full marine corps regalia.

Miss Hutchins' Wedding Plans Are Completed

Vittum, head resident of the settlement, is sending some Polish decorations and some pretty young Polish girls in costume for the occasion. The showing and the tea will be given at the New Trier High school in Winnetka on Friday afternoon, Sept. 27.

Mrs. Oliver D. Grover and her sister, Mrs. Edwin C. Bolton, have returned from a vacation at Mackinac Island and are in the former's apartment in East Ontario street.

Mrs. George Hoyes Reiter Wins Orchid Ball Corsage.

There probably will be many women wearing orchids at the Arden Shore Orchid ball on Saturday night, Oct. 5, but there definitely will be one, Mrs. George Hoyes Reiter, for the committee in charge is going to present her with a corsage for that night. It was announced that the first paid reservation would be rewarded with orchids, and Mrs. Reiter's check from New York was the first received in the headquarters at the Drake after the invitations went out. Mrs. Reiter is coming from the east especially for the ball and will visit Mrs. Bradley Downing, a director of the Chicago Arden Shore association.

David Leavitt has painted the cover design for the souvenir program of the ball, which is to be given at the Drake hotel. Mrs. Dwight H. Green is chairman of the committee that has planned the benefit.

On the House

They tell us our noses were the first real air conditioners. . . . They filter, warm and moisten the air before it reaches the delicate lung lining. . . . Certainly they are fine pieces of defensive mechanism, but we have to help them along in winter as well as summer by keeping our heating plants in top shape, and adding moisture to our indoor air to maintain proper relative humidity. . . . Now is not too soon to check on heating plant's condition.

Sept. 19, 1940.

Universal day—A good day to think about fall cleaning and redecorating the home.

Looking ahead—It seems very significant that many of those rulers who were enjoying comparative peace and plenty are facing a four year now, which for them means obscurity—the four in its negative form. Two of those having a four year which has practically started are Princess Julianna and Generalissimo Franco. The little king of Italy and King George of England both had four years this year—and were obscured by the war lords dictating their countries.

Year ahead—Look away from material values as your seven year begins to come in. Expect to learn wisdom thru lessons, and to perfect your understanding.

Sauerkraut is one of the most powerful known stimulants to appetite. Eat it raw as a salad, drink the juice alone or in combination with tomato juice, for it is an exceedingly healthful food as well as an appetizing one.

Cooked sauerkraut is only a little less stimulating to the digestive juices than the fresh, raw product. It doesn't need long cooking. In fact, long cooking will make it limp, less valuable nutritionally, and will "smell up" your house, to boot.

Sauerkraut needs only to be heated thruout. Usually it is preferred with a little of the crispness left in it. These are some of its well-loved versions.

Fried Sauerkraut and Onions.

[Serves four to six.]

½ cup sliced onions
¼ cup butter
1 can drained sauerkraut or 1 pound sauerkraut

Sauté the onions in butter until a light yellow brown. Add sauerkraut, mix well, cover and simmer for 20 minutes. Use juice drained from sauerkraut to season tomato juice for tomorrow's breakfast or dinner appetizer.

One Dish Dinner with Sauerkraut.

[Serves six.]

4 cups hot mashed potatoes
3 strips bacon, diced
1 small onion, minced
¼ cup catsup
1 No. 2½ can sauerkraut
2 small cans Vienna sausage

Fill butter ring mold with hot potatoes. Place in the oven to keep hot. Brown bacon, add onion, and cook until tender. Add catsup and sauerkraut. Cover and simmer for 20 minutes. Heat sausages. Turn potato ring out on a hot platter. Fill center with sauerkraut and garnish with the sausages. Serve hot.

SAUERKRAUT AND TOMATOES.

Combine sauerkraut [drained] and canned tomatoes in any proportion you like, and heat thru either in the oven or on top of the stove. A teaspoonful of sugar added to the combination improves the flavor.

FRANKFURTERS AND SAUERKRAUT.

Drain the liquid from the sauerkraut and heat the frankfurters in it for 10 minutes. Add kraut and heat 5 minutes longer. Serve.

SPARERIBS AND SAUERKRAUT.

Dust spareribs with flour, salt, and pepper, and place in a baking pan. Bake in a hot oven, 425 degrees, until browned, about 15 minutes, then reduce heat to moderate, 350 degrees, and bake 45 minutes longer. During last 15 minutes, bake sauerkraut with meat. Lift ribs out of the pan and place sauerkraut under them.

KRAUT AND PORK CHOPS OR SAUSAGE.

Sauerkraut is delicious with pork chops, too. Cook the chops as usual, and heat the kraut in the pan after chops have been removed to a hot platter. Pile the kraut in the middle of the platter, surrounded by the chops.

Children Need Loving Parents for Happiness

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1940: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

Some breezy morning when you feel pretty swell, the children are quiet, and you've decided to have a fresh cup of strong, fragrant coffee all by yourself, take a backward look.

Does most of the year keep you so on the jump that you get tired and don't have time really to enjoy the children? Are you perhaps so busy that you don't take time out to laugh and be cozy and jolly, and even play with the children? How often are you relaxed enough to smile? How about that "businesslike look" that some of us wear most of the time, that isn't very friendly, and certainly doesn't soften a face?

Now, in this really nice relaxed moment, ask yourself:

Are you the kind of mother a child likes to have around?

I hope that question doesn't hurt your feelings. It isn't meant to. It's just that this is the time of the year when we can take stock of so many things that it seems a good time to take stock of ourselves a little, too.

We're often urged to do that by magazine and newspaper articles. Are you the perfect hostess? they ask. Are you the perfect guest? Are you the kind of wife to hold your husband's love?

Well, here's another. Are you the kind of a mother a child likes to have around? Are you a fire at which childhood warms itself?

We don't always realize what a big part of the landscape we represent to our children. In the very nature of things we are always on the scene. We're all mixed up with their bedtime, their waking time, meal times, their clothes, their play, their sick times and their festive times. We can't help being omnipresent. We just are around.

And because we are, it's not a bad idea for us to step aside and see what our place is in the pictures.

Are you a nice person for a child to have around? Are you pretty cheerful? Have you a good stock of assorted smiles? Are you a sort of friendly, interested, even-tempered part of the picture that we call home?

Sometimes all you need to make you like that is a jacking up. We can let ourselves get into the habit of being too businesslike about the matter of life where the children are concerned. We can get into the habit of letting the corners of our mouths turn down. Haven't you had spells when you smiled and suddenly realized that the corners of your mouth were a little stiff?

D. A. R. Constitution Day.

The Chicago chapter of the national Society of the D. A. R. will hold a Constitution day meeting at 2:15 o'clock this afternoon in the north ballroom of the Stevens hotel.

For Woolen or Corduroy

WOMAN'S AND MISS' FALL OUTFIT.

Adaptable to either woolen or corduroy, both favorites of the autumn season, especially with the young women, this suit costume is certain to be a favorite. The jacket may be styled as a suit topper, without collar and with either long or short sleeves, or it may be designed as a blouse and given a contrasting lingerie collar. Pockets are all over the place, and anywhere you may happen to want them. The skirt is a moderately flared design, flattering and easy to wear.

The "beanie" seems to be the perfect hat for a costume such as this. A second pattern, No. 3466, available for 10 cents extra, makes this chapeau for you. Its one size is adaptable to any headline measurements.

Style no 2771 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 36, 38, and 40 inch bust measurements. Size 16 requires 1½ yards of 54 inch material for either jacket, with ¼ yard of contrasting for collar; 1¾ yards of 54 inch for skirt; 3⅞ yards of 39 inch for short sleeved jacket and skirt of one material.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central annex, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

Big Circle of Friends Best for Teen Age

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1940: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

"We are two boys of 18. We go steadily with two girls of 17. The girls profess to care for us very much and we feel the same toward them. When we take the girls out for an evening's pleasure, they act very nicely toward us, but if we run into them the following day, they act coldly and distantly.

"The four of us came to words over this matter. The girls pal around with other fellows to a great extent and right before our eyes. The girls answer that they do this only in fun and it is just their way of doing things. We have gone out with girls before, but we have never been confronted with such a situation before. We are the type of boys who are faithful to girls. The girls proclaim that they are faithful to us, too, but their actions certainly do not prove it. They said this argument was very babyish and they were angry over it. We don't think it is babyish. We think it gives food for thought. The question we are asking is:

"Do you feel that we are justified in being angry over this matter, or do you think we should break off with them entirely? Jim and Sparks."

We feel, boys that the girls are acting more grownup than you. They realize that circulating around among a wider group is more educational than confining their attentions at 17 and 18 to a single person. That's the way it should be, boys. You shouldn't get involved with one girl just yet. There's time enough for that later. You should do exactly what the girls are doing. You should court and enjoy the friendship of a number of girls. That's the way you learn about women. It's the way you learn to compare girls. It gives you a chance to widen their circle, which is important at this stage in your lives.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1940: By Ely Culbertson.]

The declarer in today's deal made the oldest and most hackneyed of all complaints. "He could never find a card 'right,' could never make a finesse." His partner, however, was not the sympathetic type. "There's another 'never' you can put in," he said dryly. "You never make a safety play!" This was the deal:

South, dealer.
Rubber bridge.
Both sides vulnerable.

NORTH
♠ Q 4 3 2
♥ A 7 6
♦ 10 3 2

WEST
♠ J 10
♥ Q 2
♦ J 9 6 4
♣ Q J 10 7 6

EAST
♥ 10 9 8 3
♦ K Q 5

SOUTH
♠ A K 8 7 5
♥ K J 5 4
♦ A 8 7
♣ 9

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 spade	Pass	2 spades	Pass
3 spades	Pass	4 spades	Pass
Pass	Pass

The bidding was eminently correct and the contract equally so.

West opened the club queen. Realizing that there was not one chance in a million that the lead was from a holding of A-Q, and realizing further that to cover with dummy's king might invite a diamond shift from East, declarer played properly by playing low from dummy, conceding the trick to West. The latter continued with the club jack, and now, with nothing to lose, declarer put up dummy's king and when it was covered with the ace, ruffed with the spade five. The A-K of spades accounted for the adverse trumps and declarer then led a low heart to the ace and, on a return heart lead, finessed against the queen. He looked a bit unhappy when his heart jack was gobbled up by West's queen, but this was not completely fatal. If the heart suit broke 3-3, he still would be able to discard one of dummy's diamonds on his own fourth heart. It quickly developed, however, that this heart break was not to materialize. The heart king drew nothing but a discard from West, and East, of course, now had the high heart. There was no way to avoid the loss of two diamond trick and, with them, the contract.

As mentioned above, declarer did considerable wailing about his atrocious luck, but as his partner so pointedly said, "luck" had not been the only factor in this defeat. Ten tricks should have been made, and would have been if declarer had been familiar with a certain simple safety play. The crucial point in this deal was not merely to run the heart suit without loss; the establishment of a heart winner on which to discard one of dummy's diamonds would be equally satisfactory.

The proper method of playing a suit such as declarer's hearts in this deal is to lay down the king, then lead low to the ace. If the adverse hearts are divided as shown in the diagram, the queen is captured, and the jack promoted to winning rank. But let us suppose that the heart queen was in East's hand, either twice or thrice guarded. Declarer would lose no material trick by playing as advised. The heart king would drop a low heart from each defender, as would the heart four to the ace. Now East would be left with either the singleton or doubleton queen. On a lead of the third heart from dummy, he could win his queen, but declarer would be left with the good heart, the jack, on which to discard a diamond from dummy. This safety play guards against the possibility that a doubleton queen in the West hand will slaughter South's jack and still leave East with heart protection.

WILSON'S Weekly MEMO by GEORGE RECTOR

No matter how torrid September may be, we are going to wake up one of these mornings to discover a nip in the air. Then's the time to serve the family those old-time favorites that may have been shelved during the summer months. Wilson's Certified Chili Con Carne, for instance, that all true chili-lovers rave about, and its familiar side-kick, Wilson's Certified Hot Tamales, not to mention other members of the Certified family, such as Dried Beef, Chicken a la King and good old Corned Beef Hash. These are all ready to eat and require only a hasty heating.

George Rector
Food Consultant
Wilson & Co.

INTERNATIONAL ENTREE

A happy union of two famous national dishes—Italian Spaghetti and Mexican Chili Con Carne—makes a perfect quick lunch dish any day in the week.

Heat together 1 can of Wilson's Certified Chili Con Carne (it comes with or without beans) and 1 can of spaghetti with tomato sauce. Add 1 cup of cooked celery and serve, very hot, on triangles of toast, with a sprinkle of dry grated cheese on top for good measure.

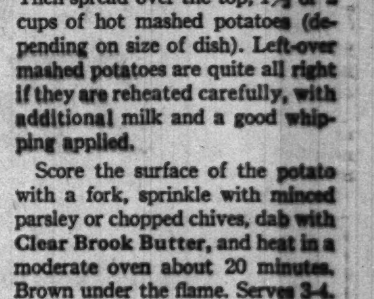
HERE'S ANOTHER HOT ONE!

Just to be an old meanie, I am having the Chili Con Carne and Hot Tamales take separate bows this time instead of appearing as a team. This is another tasty, thrifty dish, with all the hard work done for you by Wilson & Co.

Hot Tamale Pie

Remove wrappings from one can of Wilson's Certified Hot Tamales. Place them in a rather shallow baking dish. Pour over them liquid from can and ¾ cup of tomato sauce. Then spread over the top, 1½ or 2 cups of hot mashed potatoes (depending on size of dish). Left-over mashed potatoes are quite all right if they are reheated carefully, with additional milk and a good whipping applied.

Score the surface of the potato with a fork, sprinkle with minced parsley or chopped chives, dab with Clear Brook Butter, and heat in a moderate oven about 20 minutes. Brown under the flame. Serves 3-4.



FRANKFURTER COCKTAILS

Those tiny, tantalizing little Certified Cocktail Frankfurters made by Wilson are ready to nibble at the moment the can is open. To start dinner with a zippy cocktail, line small glasses with lettuce, place in each 1 tablespoon of chopped celery, 3 Certified Cocktail Frankfurters, cut in fourths, and 1 heaping tablespoon of cocktail sauce. Glasses and ingredients should be well chilled. Assemble at the last moment.

Cocktail Sauce

Combine 4 tablespoons of catsup with 4 teaspoons of strained lemon juice, 1 tablespoon horseradish, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 4 drops of tabasco sauce and ⅛ teaspoon of celery salt. Enough for 4.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 18 (AP).—Cincinnati won its second straight National league championship today by coming from behind to beat the Phillies, 4 to 3, in a 13 inning battle.

The Reds, with 13 games left to play, now hold a 12 game lead over the second place Brooklyn Dodgers, who lost to the St. Louis Cardinals. Brooklyn has 10 games to play.

Southpaw Johnny Vander Meer, recently recalled from the American association, pitched and batted the Reds to victory.

Vander Meer Scores in 13th.

First up in the 13th, Vander Meer doubled to left off Hugh Mulcahy, went to third on Eddie Joost's sacrifice, held third while Mike McCormick beat out a hit to short, then scored on Ival Goodman's fly to deep left.

"I'm glad it's all over," declared Manager Bill McKechnie in the clubhouse as his men slapped each other on the back and shouted in delight.

"We now can go ahead and prepare for the world series, something we were unable to do last year. We'll take it easy for a day or two and then start getting ready."

August Worst Month.

It took until Sept. 28, three days before the end of the season, for the Reds to clinch their 1939 flag by 3½ games over the Cardinals. This year they went into the lead on July 7 and never were ousted.

With Bucky Walters, Paul Derringer and Junior Thompson pitching 54 victories among them, the Reds never were worse than third this year. Their worst record was in August when they split even, winning 16 and losing 16. So far this month they have won 16 and lost 2.

Yes, Michigan Has Harmon, but Lacks Back and Tackles

BY WILFRID SMITH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Ann Arbor, Mich., Sept. 18.—Because the University of Michigan football team defeated Ohio State, Western conference champion, last year and because the Wolverines return to the gridiron wars with two of the outstanding backs in the conference, Forest Evashevski and Tom Harmon, many have rated them as cofavorites with the Buckeyes for 1940 honors.

The brilliance of Evashevski and Harmon blinds critics to the fact that Michigan does not have the quantity of material present at Columbus, O., and that the Michigan eleven has at least two highly vulnerable spots. Should injury strike down Harmon or Evashevski, the result will be scarcely less disastrous to Michigan's hopes than if the coaches fail to find adequate material for the other lightly manned positions.

Coach Fritz Crisler today listed in order the immediate problems. His summary follows:

"Michigan needs a fourth starting back. Secondly, our tackle material may prove inadequate. We know it is inexperienced. Replacement for last year's center, Capt. Archie Kodros, can be included in this problem since it involves the line. Thirdly, we will be short of reserves for back field and tackle. In fact, this is acute at all positions and there isn't much we can do about it."

The coaching staff and the varsity men are attacking their lessons and conditioning drills with vigor. Double workouts can be held until the squad flies west to meet the University of California Sept. 28. California replaces Chicago on the Wolverines' schedule which leaves Michigan with only four Big Nine games—Illinois, Minnesota, Northwestern, and Ohio State. Defeat in any one unquestionably will eliminate the Wolverines from the title race. Harvard, Michigan State, and Pennsylvania are other nonconference opponents.

Tigers Routed, 13 to 6, After Winning, 14-0

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 18.—The lowly Athletics, who are traveling around the country merely to spread misery, of which they have plenty, reached out of the second division today and jabbed a finger into the crust of the American league pennant pie. They were docile enough while losing the first half of a double header to the Tigers, 14 to 0, and they continued to be meek, mild boys until the ninth inning of the second battle. Then they suddenly transformed themselves into famished wolves, gobbled up nine runs and accomplished a 13 to 6 success.

So the Tigers, unable to hold a victory that was in their grasp until one was out in the final inning, dropped back into second place after a 24 hour tenancy at the top of the column. As the Tigers moved out, much to the concern of themselves, as well as 12,757 spectators, Cleveland's Indians rode back into the lead by a half game by virtue of their twin triumph over Washington.

Greenberg Hits Three Homers.

It wasn't any fault of Hank Greenberg or Rudy York, the Tigers' home run twins, that the Tigers were held to a draw. While there were 17 hits off George Caster in the first game, Greenberg in person did enough to assure Tommy Bridges his 12th success. Lanky Hank hit his 36th homer with the bases loaded in the opening inning. He drove out his 37th in the third inning as part of an attack that was climaxed with seven runs in the fifth. York contributed a double to this seven run affair.

In the second struggle, York came up with an opening inning single to tie the score for Johnny Gorsica against Ed Heusser. In the third, York let loose his 30th homer with one on to give the Tigers a momentary lead. In the fifth Greenberg sailed his third homer of the afternoon into the seats to assist in rounding out a two run lead for Gorsica, who had experienced a thrilling three run assault in the fourth when Benny McCoy helped himself to a homer with two A's on the bases.

A's Go on Rampage.

But Gorsica, after giving up only one hit between the fourth and the ninth, crumpled with one out in the ninth. Chubby Dean, batting for Rubeling, caromed a single off the rookie pitcher's glove. McCoy also caromed a drive off Gorsica and it rolled into foul territory for a double, the former Tiger's sixth hit of the day. Fred Chapman, who ran for Dean, stopped at third. Moses batted for Brancato and walked. Wagner batted for Heusser and singled, sending F. Chapman and McCoy home with the tying runs. Tom Seats, who had finished the first game for Bridges, was brought back and he retired Miles before the bombing was resumed. Sam Chapman singled to score Moses, Bob Johnson hit a homer to add three more runs and the next five men singled.

FIRST GAME

INDIANS GO BACK INTO LEAD; WIN 2 FROM SENATORS

Cleveland, O., Sept. 18 (AP).—Old Johnny Allen and youthful Bob Feller threw a spell over the Washington Senators today. The Cleveland Indians thus swept a double header and drove back into first place, half a game ahead of the Detroit Tigers, who broke even with the Philadelphia Athletics.

Allen surrendered six hits in the first game as he outshone Southpaw Kendall Chase for a 3 to 1 triumph. Feller, jerked from the dugout with only two days rest, gave up only five hits in the second game, and beat Sid Hudson, 2 to 1, for his 26th victory of the year.

In the last part of the contest Feller looked tired, but weathered an eighth inning threat by Washington.

Three Runs Score on Walks.

Chase, never happier than when he is beating Cleveland, had only himself to blame for dropping the opener. The Indians filled the bases with one out in the second inning on singles by Beau Bell and Frankie Pytlak and a walk by Ray Mack. Chase then walked Allen, Ben Chapman, and Lou Boudreau to force in Cleveland's three runs before Hal Trosky ended the inning with a high fly.

That was all Allen needed for his ninth victory of the year. The only Washington run was scored in the fourth when speedy George Case beat out a bunt, went to third on Buddy Lewis' single and scored as Gerald Walker grounded into a double play.

Vitt had intended to use Feller on Friday to open the crucial series in Detroit, but changed his mind even tho the 21 year old speedballer had gone nine tough innings Sunday, when he hurled a two hitter against Philadelphia.

The young Iowan responded nobly, keeping the Senators subdued until the eighth. With Cleveland leading, 2 to 0, Jimmy Pofahl singled to center and Rick Ferrell walked. Hudson flied out, but Case walked on four pitches. Pofahl scored on Lewis' fly to Bell in right field, then Walker grounded out to end the inning and the last Washington threat.

Weatherly Hits Homer.

Roy Weatherly hit a homer into the right field stands in the sixth for the Indians' first run. In the seventh, with one man out, Mack sent a deep fly to Walker. The outfielder misjudged it and finally got his glove on the ball, but it fell safely for a double. Mack took third on Hemsley's grounder and Feller drove in the winning run with a single.

In the Wake of the News

BY ARCH WARD.

MRS. EMIL DENEMARK of Chicago estimates that the operating expenses of her racing establishment average $10,000 a month. . . . Her horses win so many purses, however, that they pay their way. . . . Her stable is handled by Dave Womeldorff, who is leading Hirsch Jacobs in the race among the trainers for first place in the national standings. . . . Jimmy Dykes has a standard fine of $10 for any of his White Sox caught in hotel dining rooms sans neckties. . . . He promised the collections would be spent on a postseason party for the entire team. . . . Last season the Reds and the Cubs drew 190,142 cash customers in Wrigley field. . . . This year the total was 131,983. . . . The Reds, pack leaders both years, take no blame for the 58,159 fall-off. . . . The mother of Pat O'Brien, who plays the title rôle in "Knute Rockne—All American," never has seen a movie première, but she has assured Pat she will come from the Pacific coast to attend the Rockne inaugural in South Bend Oct. 4. . . . Biff Jones, football coach at Nebraska, goes out on the limb by saying, "We'll be tougher this fall." . . . He then quickly jumps back to the trunk of the tree by adding, "But so will our opponents." Jack Knott, White Sox pitcher, is the only man we know who stutters a Texas drawl. . . . Both Germany and Italy are willing to have their outstanding boxers join the All-European team for the annual International Golden Gloves bouts in Chicago next spring. . . . Bill Werber of the Cincinnati Reds says he doesn't care who wins the American league pennant so long as the champion can get 80,000 customers in its ball park for the third and fourth games. . . . The first two will be played in Crosley field where fewer than 33,000 can be accommodated. . . .

There are four married men on this year's University of Illinois football squad—Capt. Tom Riggs, George Rettinger, James Easterbrook, and Leonard Machak. . . . Easterbrook is a father. . . . The late Noble Kizer's successor as athletic director at Purdue will not be announced until late in the football season, according to President E. C. Elliott's present plan. . . . This will be Denver university's tenth year of night football. . . . If the Indians win the pennant, they could well afford to cut in Steve O'Neill, their former boss, on the world series cash. . . . O'Neill sent them Lou Boudreau and Roy Mack to tighten up the infield, as well as Pitcher Al Smith. . . . Two of the most important intersectional football games of the season will be played before the fans are warmed up—Washington vs. Minnesota at Minneapolis and Pittsburgh vs. Ohio State at Columbus on Sept. 28. . . . Coach Jimmy Conzelman tries to get his mind off his Chicago Cardinal football team by writing pieces for magazines.

DON'T LOOK NOW—

but the 1940 Wake Books are all ready to be rushed to the news stands. They'll be out tomorrow—and it will be a good idea to get your copy on the first day of the sale. The two previous annual editions were sold out completely.

In the 64 pages of this breezy volume you'll run across things that will make you chuckle and others that will make you stop and think. You'll run across all of your favorite contributors. The book contains the best items published in the popular column, In the Wake of the News, during the last year. The price is 10 cents, 13 by mail. Address mail orders to Tribune Public Service office, 1 South Dearborn street. It's out tomorrow—

THE WAKE BOOK

Willie Corcoran's Garden.

There's hardly a day but I make my way
Down a little side street near by;
The neighbors must wonder just what it is
That so often catches my eye.
But in back of a little old house of frame
There's a spot of beauty rare,
It's Willie Corcoran's garden
Hiding away back there.

Old-fashioned flowers 'round an old-fashioned house,
It's an autumn pageant gay;
Marigolds, zinnias, and asters,
And a dozen more blooms hold sway.
Some old rock steps to a wooden arch
Make a gateway to this spot,
And morning glories climb up and entwine
The posts of this olden plot.

Early this morning I passed that way,
While the dew was fresh on each bloom,
To see all those yellows and blues once more
'Ere the frost might augur their doom;
And I thought that no terraced landscape
Ever captured the mood of Arden
One-tenth as much as that little back plot—
Willie Corcoran's garden!

—Jazbo of Old Dubuque.

Isolationists, Attention!

The Associated Press recently reported under a Berlin date line: "Authorized sources charged today that British airmen are throwing bags of 'Colorado potato bugs' into potato fields in Germany, Luxemburg, and Belgium in an effort to lay waste the major food source of those countries."

Well, by golly, Arch, the good old U. S. A. is in the war now, all right, destroyers and defense bases notwithstanding. Just good old Colorado 'tater bugs. Where was that noninterventionist bloc?—Jayburr.

Imogene Say.

We've really learned a lot about
Our neighbors since the day
That Imogene, their little girl,
First came across to play.

She has a tongue that naught can hush,
A heart that knows no guile;
To hear her spill the family beans
Would make a mummy smile.

The skeletons that dwelt secure
Within the closets there,
With glee she gaily chases forth
Into the open air.

No secrets are held sacred where
This candid maid's concerned;
When Imogene unveils the truth
She leaves no stone unturned.
Her mamma would be horrified
At tales we hear her tell—
I wonder if that little scamp
Has blabbed on us as well!

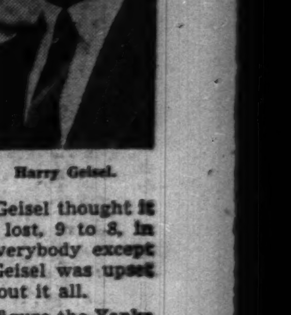
UMPIRE HALTS 2D GAME IN 8TH; IT'S TOO 'DARK'

Yanks Win, 9 to 8, After Losing, 6-3.

BY EDWARD BURNS.



Harry Geisel.

The White Sox beat the Yankees in the first game of a double header yesterday, 6 to 3. But all the joy brought to 37,331 ardent Sox fans by this success was swept away when the Sox blew an 8 to 4 lead in the seventh and eighth innings of the second game, then were denied the chance to effect one of those ninth inning finishes for which they have become famous this season.

The ninth was never played because Umpire Harry Geisel thought it was dark. The Sox lost, 9 to 8, in eight innings, and everybody except the Yanks and Mr. Geisel was upset and very unhappy about it all.

There is no way to figure the Yanks wouldn't have won by an even larger margin, for Clint Brown, who rarely has retired a Yankee, was preparing to continue an already messy relief job when the umpire, with daylight still much in evidence, ruled it was time to quit.

A Tough Spot for Mr. G.

Mr. G. is a good umpire most of the time, and could by no stretch of the imagination be charged with deciding it was dark just because the Yankees had scored two runs in the eighth to change an 8 to 7 Sox lead to a 9 to 8 deficit. If it had occurred to Harry that it was dark at the end of the seventh he doubtless would have called the game just as readily. And he perhaps would have been cheered by the 37,331 customers who, as things turned out, booed him in a thunderous chorus some minutes later.

The Sox were frantic with anger when they were surprised by Geisel's ruling. They could testify the visibility had been very good in the closing minutes of play. Brown was especially in a position to give testimony because he had just seen the Yankees knock a double off Edgar Smith and a single and a game winning double after he had taken charge. They didn't appear to be swinging in the gloaming. And at the start of the eighth Joe Kuhel had socked a single, tho, it must be said, Joe apparently couldn't see Luke Appling's pop fly, on which he was doubled to end the bobtailed game.

Ruling Blows Dykes' Cap Off!

Manager Jimmy Dykes was speechless after delivering a short address to Geisel. Let that be recorded in the history of the day—a speechless Jimmy Dykes! Later on, when a formal protest was being contemplated, Jim said he didn't see what could be done about it. Almanacs were hauled out to show that sunset was 47 minutes after the game was called at 6:07, daylight time. But Jimmy agreed that if an umpire thought it was dark, it was dark.

After the Sox won the game the first time, on June 20, yesterday's playoff was ordered on an umpire's mistake, but in the June 20 phase a player's cap blew off, a contributing cause to the replay. Dykes admitted that Geisel's ruling yesterday practically blew his cap into shreds, but at a late hour last night he hadn't found a rule to get another replay.

President Will Harridge of the American league attended the game and thruout last evening Vice President Harry Grabiner endeavored to ask the prexy if he thought it was dark. Mr. Grabiner, failing to contact the prexy, withheld public statements.

Sox Five Back, Nine to Play.

The victory in the first game put the Sox in a tie for third place with the Yanks. But the second one really was a blow to their hopes of becoming miracle flag winners. It put the Chicagoans a game behind the Yankees, and five in arrears of Cleveland, which regained the lead. The Sox have only nine games remaining. The Sox and Yankees conclude their 1940 rivalry today, with Chicago leading in the season series, 11 to 10.

Until the sour ending of the second game, it was a great day for the Sox constituency. The Sox came from behind in the first one with a four run sixth inning to wipe out a 3 to 2 deficit. Thornton Lee went all the way for his 12th victory of the season, his fourth over the Yanks. Principal among the batting heroes was Taft Wright, fresh in the lineup, with two singles and a double, the double driving home the tying and winning runs

The Yanks made four runs in the first inning of the second game and the Sox came right back in their half of the opening inning with five runs, to which they added three in the fourth inning. A homer by George Selkirk with two on in the seventh

RUDE AWAKENING WINS HAWTHORNE SPRINT BY NOSE

Potranco, the Favorite, Finishes Second.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Rude Awakening, a 4 year old filly racing at odds of better than 8 to 1, beat the 4 to 5 favorite, Lexbrook stable's Potranco, in a 6 furlong allowance event which topped yesterday's card at Hawthorne. From midstretch home they ran head and head, and as they went under the wire the camera separated them by the margin of a nose. Mrs. Emil Denemark's Equistar was third, five lengths farther back.

Johnny Adams, riding his third consecutive winner of the afternoon, was forced to take Rude Awakening to the extreme outside to get clear after the filly had been running up on the heels of her rivals approaching the turn out of the back stretch.

Overlooked by Betters.

She went around the field and came on in the stretch to overhaul the leaders at the eighth pole. Then she stood a hard drive all the rest of the way home.

Rude Awakening, which is owned by C. E. Hagyard, well known veterinarian of Lexington, Ky., had run quite a few good races during the summer on Chicago tracks, but most of the betters overlooked her. Potranco's excellent record drew heavy support.

Equistar broke on top and led the way down the back stretch while Court Dance, Silverette, and Potranco engaged in a head and head struggle in the second flight. Rude Awakening was showing a disposition to run, but she couldn't get thru between these three.

Runs Wide Around Rivals.

On the turn Potranco began drawing away from Silverette and Court Dance. He went after Equistar. Meanwhile Rude Awakening was coming wide around her rivals. Soon after the stretch run began Potranco caught Equistar, but Rude Awakening moved right up with him. Equistar was beaten at the eighth pole.

Rude Awakening ran the 6 furlongs in 1:11 3-5. In the mutuels she paid $19.20, $8.00, and $2.40.

SOPHOMORES RUN TO 2 SCORES IN N.U. SCRIMMAGE

Funderburg Goes 75 Yds. Thru Second Team.

Two sophomores, Danny Williams, half back, and Jack Funderburg, full back, shared ball carrying honors with the veterans, Red Hahnenstein, Don Clawson, and Ike Kepford, in the scrimmage which ended the double practice session for Northwestern's football team yesterday.

Funderburg broke loose for a 75 yard touchdown run against the second team. Williams reeled off a 40 yard run against the same opposition.

Among those unable to take part were Paul Soper, full back; Tuffy Chambers, half back, and Lindsey Moore, Dick Humm and Russ Wendland, sophomore ends. All are nursing leg injuries.

BERNHARDT IN BACKFIELD.

IRISH STUDY FUNDAMENTALS.

Notre Dame, Ind., Sept. 18 [Special].—Owen [Dippy] Evans, South Bend sophomore left half, was on the sidelines with a sprained arch as Coach Elmer Layden directed Notre Dame in a drill on fundamentals. Evans hurt his foot before yesterday's scrimmage but did not report the injury until today. George Rassas, who was hurt a week ago, missed today's drill and will not rejoin the squad until Friday. He suffered an unfavorable reaction from antitetanus injections given to prevent infection from the cut over his right eye.

IOWA PLANS SCRIMMAGE.

PETTY IMPROVES.

Lafayette, Ind., Sept. 18.—Continued improvement of John Petty, full back, as a kicker provided the highlight of Purdue's drill. Coaches stressed development of a pass attack in a dummy scrimmage. Two veterans, Mike Byelene and John Galvin, and a pair of sophomores, Bryan Brock and Marion Carter, were the most consistently accurate.

Silverstein Pins Dusette; Unbeaten in Three Years

Ruffy Silverstein kept a three year winning streak intact by tossing George Dusette before 2,400 last night at the Rainbo Fronton arena. Ruffy used a reverse flying mare to win in forty two minutes. Jim McMillen tossed Pete Schu in fourteen minutes and four seconds. Karol Krauser threw Jack [Bad Boy] Brown [20:20]; Pete Baltram and Bert Rubi wrestled to a draw [30:00], and Dizzy Davis downed Pierre LaBelle [21:19].

HACK'S 2 HOMERS DEFEAT GIANTS FOR CUBS, 6 TO 4

Breaks Tie in 9th to Give French Victory.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Sept. 18.—Stanley Hack, the Cubs' personable third baseman, made notable progress in his campaign for the batting championship of the National league today by slugging the Cubs to a 6 to 4 victory over the Giants.

Hack scored three of the Cubs' six runs and hit his sixth and seventh home runs of the season. In addition, he singled twice to bring his hit total for the day to four in five times at bat and his average to .322. This gives him the batting lead.

Hack Breaks Tie.

One of Hack's homers came in the ninth inning when the Cubs scored two runs to break up a pitchers' battle between Larry French and Hal Schumacher. Hack opened the ninth by dissolving a 4 to 4 tie and then to insure success, Rabbit Warstler walked, took second on Bill Nicholson's infield out and scored on Hank Leiber's single against the left field wall.

Today's victory gave the Cubs an 11 to 10 edge over the Giants in the season's play. It was also 10 consecutive defeats for the Giants.

Giants Bounce Back.

The Cubs got away to a one run lead in the first inning, but the Giants pushed French around for three in their half. Hack opened the Cubs' attack with a single to center, stole second, moved to third on Warstler's out, and scored when Nicholson flied to Demaree.

Rookie Maynard started the punishment of French with his first major league homer on the first pitch. Whitehead singled to center and took third on Demaree's double to right. Whitehead then scored on Young's fly to Leiber, and Demaree came in when Danning flied to deep center.

The Cubs went out in order in the second, but Hack scored the second Chicago run when he lofted a home run into the nearby stand in right field.

The Cubs had tied the score in the fifth, when McCullough walked and Hack singled to center. McCullough then scored on Warstler's single.

Cubs Rally Twice.

French seemed to gain his poise after a bad first inning and the Giants didn't score again until Demaree dropped his seventh homer into the right field lower deck in the sixth. It was a 290 foot wallop.

The Cubs tied the score for the second time in the seventh. Maynard dropped Mattick's easy fly and French sacrificed. Mattick then scored on Warstler's single to center.

Congress Recreation kept its record clear by winning three more games in the Congress Women's Major league last night to bring its total for the season to nine straight triumphs. Its shutout was accomplished against the highly rated Budweisers on a total of 2,625. Kay DeBonis with 232-217-213—662 led the Pabst Blue Ribbons to a three game victory over the Smiths. The Pabsts' 2,696 was high for the evening. The Logan Square Buicks won three from the Williams Jewelers; Morgen Schlitz took a set from Little Roost Resort, Rovick Bowling Shoes blanked the Bruck Recreations, and the Double Colas won three from the Clark Bowling Shoes.

Cedar Rapids Defeats Decatur, 13-12, for Title

Cedar Rapids, Ia., Sept. 18 (AP).—Cedar Rapids won the play-off title of the Three Eye league tonight by defeating Decatur, 13 to 12, in the fourth game of the series. The Raiders, who also won the league pennant, dropped the first play-off game and then came back to win three in a row. Score:

Decatur ....063 001 200—12 15 5
Cedar Rapids ....010 263 001—13 15 4

White Sox Beat Yankees, 6-3; Lose 2d, 9 to 8

cut the Sox lead to 8 to 7. After the injured Joe DiMaggio had opened the eighth with a pinch double, Brown went in and pitched a single to pinch batter Mike Chartak. Brown then braced to retire Joe Gordon and Red Rolfe, but pitched a double to Charley Keller, on which Chartak scored the winning run from first base.

FIRST GAME

The Sox made two runs in the first game before the Yankees got a man on base. With one out in the second inning, Appling singled and went to third on a single by Wright. Luke scored while Kreevich was forcing Wright. Kennedy singled to right, putting Kreevich on third, then stole second. Lee ran the count to three balls and two strikes before being called out on strikes. After Webb and Tresh had supplied infield outs in the third inning, Kuhel walked. Solters singled to right and Kuhel made an orthodox dash for third. When Selkirk loafed in getting the ball to Crosetti, Kuhel kept running for home and made it. Solters reached second on Crosetti's throw to the plate, but Appling popped to Dahlgren.

Gordon made it 10 outs in a row for the Yanks when he popped to Appling in short left at the start of the fourth. Then adversity appeared. Rolfe topped one straight to the pitcher's mound. Lee fielded the ball neatly, but pulled Kuhel off first with a high toss. Keller knocked the first New York hit, a single to center, Rolfe taking third. Rosar singled to center, Rolfe scoring and Keller reaching third on the hit and Kreevich's fumble. Selkirk bounced to Kennedy and Keller apparently was trapped between third and home. Tho he was not charged with an error, Kennedy's throw was none too good, Keller sliding under and away from Tresh's tagging effort. Later the bases were loaded, but Crosetti forced Dahlgren to end the inning with the score tied, 2 to 2.

Yanks Hold Lead Briefly.

The Yanks took the lead in the fifth inning. With one out Gordon, Rolfe, and Keller put together successive singles for the marker. Thereafter Rosar flied to Solters and Selkirk was called out on strikes.

And here's the detail of Chicago's riotous sixth: Kuhel struck out, but Solters singled to right and Appling walked. Wright then delivered his third straight hit, a double to right, scoring Solters with the tying run and Appling with the tally that put the Sox ahead. The Yankees protested that Umpire Geisel's cap had blown off, or the ball was foul, or something. At least it shouldn't count against the Yankees. The umpires decided that painful as it might be to the New Yorkers, a double is a two base hit and in time play was resumed on that basis. Kreevich walked, then Kennedy smacked his second single, Wright scoring and Kreevich taking third. Murphy replaced Chandler and Lee executed his third strike out. Webb beat out a tap in front of the plate, Kreevich scoring. Kennedy was trapped off second and retired.

SECOND GAME

The Yanks made four runs after two were out in the first inning, three of them after the side should have been retired. After Gordon had fouled to Turner and Rolfe had popped to Appling, Keller walked. Rosar singled to left, and Selkirk rammed a single thru Webb, Keller scoring and Rosar reaching third. Powell sent an easy grounder to Appling and Luke kicked the ball around while Rosar scored, Selkirk reached second and Powell first. Dahlgren singled to right, scoring Selkirk. Crosetti walked, loading the bases and Breuer walked, forcing Powell across the plate. Gordon contributed his second out in the inning with a fly to Solters.

Breuer accepted Smith's three walks in the first half of the second as something of a challenge. After Webb had fouled to Rosar, Breuer walked Turner, Kuhel, and Solters. Appling singled to center, Turner and Kuhel scoring and Solters taking third. Wright singled to right, scoring Solters. Then Kreevich drew Breuer's fourth pass, loading the bases. Kennedy singled to right, scoring Appling and Wright and putting Kreevich on third. He took second on a throw to the plate. Rosar, who had been howling "They can't do this to us" thruout the first game, set up a new beef over something or other and was chased. Dickey went in to catch and Sundra replaced Breuer. Dickey threw out Smith and Webb flied to Keller.

Sox Score Three More.

The Sox sweetened their total with three runs in the fourth inning. Webb opened with a double and scored on Turner's triple to left center. Tom held third while Kuhel and Solters supplied infield outs, then scored on Appling's single to center. Wright singled, Appling stopping at second. Kreevich singled to center, scoring Appling but Wright was out trying to reach third.

Smith held the Yankees to one hit from the first inning to the seventh, but encountered plenty of trouble, enough to bring the Yanks to within one of a tie, in the seventh. Rolfe walked, Smith threw three wide ones to Keller, then struck him out. Dickey singled to right, putting Rolfe on third. Selkirk ran the count to two balls and two strikes, then knocked his fifteenth homer, a shot into the lower deck of the right field stand. Powell and Dahlgren supplied infield outs.

DiMaggio, who had been on the bench suffering from a pulled leg muscle, batted for Crosetti at the start of the eighth, and doubled to right center. Knickerbocker ran for DiMaggio, and Ruffing was announced as the pinch batter for Sundra. When Brown replaced Smith, Chartak was sent up to bat instead of Ruffing. Chartak, after missing on two strikes, singled to center, scoring Knickerbocker with the tying run. Gordon, attempting to sacrifice, popped a foul to Kuhel. Keller doubled to left, Chartak scoring from first to put the Yanks ahead, 9 to 8. Dickey flied to Solters.

John Rigney will pitch against the Yanks in the final this afternoon, provided an infected tooth responds to treatment received yesterday. Otherwise Jack Knott will start. Charley Ruffing will pitch for the Yankees.

The White Sox will leave tonight for St. Louis. They will play a night game tomorrow and single games Saturday and Sunday afternoons.

as well as quickly. F. Chapman fumbled Bartell's grounder, McCosky singled to right, and Gehringer walked. The first two pitches to Greenberg were strikes. The next two were wide and he ignored them. But Caster tried to sneak over the next and Hank lashed it on a line into the left center field seats for a neat total of four runs. Then Higgins made it a five run inning by singling and scoring on Tebbetts' triple.

Greenberg made his next call at the opening of the third. He spanked No. 37 into the left field upper story. The one run progress in the fourth was the result of a single by McCosky and a double by Gehringer. Then came the fifth inning deluge in which Caster gracefully accepted real punishment. Fox and Tebbetts singled and Bridges bunted. Even Bartell singled, scoring the two men. McCosky flied to Moses for the second out. Gehringer doubled to score Bartell, and Greenberg walked. York doubled them home. A two bagger by Higgins scored York. Fox's second single of the inning sent Higgins to the plate with the seventh run.

SECOND GAME

The A's were so carefree with Gorsica's pitching in the first inning that he seemed destined for a speedy getaway, but he rallied and limited the damage to one run. Miles and S. Chapman opened with singles, the former going to third and the latter to second on Fox's fumble. Miles went home while Higgins was throwing out Johnson. The Tigers recovered this run in their first half on singles to center by McCosky and York.

York also was the potent factor in a two run lead taken by the Tigers in the third. He hit his home run after Gehringer had walked. But Gorsica started the A's fourth with passes to Hayes and Siebert and his two run lead was quickly turned into a one run deficit. McCoy followed the passes with a homer into the right field pavilion, making the score 4 to 3. The Tigers tied it in the same inning when Gorsica tripled and Bartell singled after two were out.

Mr. Greenberg couldn't pick up anything better than a useless pass in the first inning and an embarrassing pop foul in the third, but when he next appeared he made amends. He blasted a home run into the left field second story to break the 4 to 4 tie. Before the inning closed Higgins added another run by doubling to left center and scoring on a single by Fox. It remained this way until the Athletics did another face lifting job on the pennant race in the ninth.

South District Golf Title Won by Midlothian

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Midlothian yesterday retained its championship in the South District Golf league in the final series of rounds at Ravisloe. The title holders, who had gone into the concluding series with a margin of only 1½ points over Idlewild, collected 16½ points for a season total of 124½ points, while Idlewild could garner no more than 13½ for a season aggregate of 120, and second place.

Other point totals for yesterday and the season were Calumet, 18 and 116½; Olympia Fields, 15½ and 112½; Flossmoor, 13 and 105½; Ravisloe, 6 and 104½; Beverly 12½ and 93½, and South Shore, 13 and 87.

H. J. McElroy of Flossmoor was the individual gross winner of the day with a 78, while George Clifford of South Shore took the solo net prize with an 80-9-71. McElroy was outscored by four other players, but was awarded the prize because the others had won individual prizes previously. These included Russell Martin of Flossmoor, 75; Dave Olin of Ravisloe, 76, and Bob Ascher of Idlewild, 77. Sam Alpert of Idlewild and Don Hamilton of Beverly each had 79.

Bill Brown of Olympia Fields led the professionals who joined in the final with a 38—37—75, followed by Johnny Bird of South Shore, with 39—37—76; Pat Sharkey of Idlewild, 38—39—77, and Ned Jameson of Beverly, with 39—38—77. Jack Patterson of Midlothian took the special net prize, awarded on the Peoria system, with 87—26—61.

The Lake Shore Athletic club's tournament at Bob o' Link today will include an unusual aerial match. Four planes, each with pilot and bomber, will fly over the 14th hole. Golf balls dropped in colored parachutes will constitute the drives. Sixteen players on the ground will play out the balls from wherever the balls land.

Golf fans in the Chicago district who want to conclude the gallery season with a practical view of some real shotmaking are urged to attend the 1940 tournament of the Illinois Professional Golfers' association, to be held Sunday and Monday at the St. Charles Country club. The event will begin with an 18 hole pro-amateur event on Sunday morning, and the tournament proper will open Sunday afternoon with 18 holes of medal play, concluding with 36 on Monday.

GOODFELLOW NEW PILOT OF DETROIT HOCKEY TEAM

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 18 (AP).—Jack Adams, manager of the Detroit Red Wing hockey team since the sport was introduced here in 1927, announced today that Ebbie Goodfellow would pilot the club this season. Adams confirmed reports that he would become assistant to President James Norris, Sr., retaining his offices in Detroit. He will direct clubs in Indianapolis and Omaha, and farm groups in Michigan and Ontario.

MILK MEN CLAIM $371,000 IN BACK WAGES; FILE SUIT

Action Based on Salary Dispute Settlement.

The Milk Wagon Drivers' union filed suit yesterday against Chicago dairymen asking $371,000 in back wages in behalf of 3,500 members. The action is an outgrowth of settlement two weeks ago of a protracted wage and hours dispute. The back wages are claimed under retroactive provisions of the arbitration award.

The suit, filed in Superior court by Attorney David Riskind, stated that one of the conditions for submitting the differences to arbitration was that the findings of the arbitrators in regard to wages and hours be made retroactive to June 1, when the machinery leading to the award was started.

Claim Pay for Overtime.

The arbitrators, altho reaching a decision Sept. 5, did not enter the award until Sept. 15, and in the intervening 15 weeks since June 1, the suit said, drivers worked an average of 68 hours each week, instead of 54, as provided in the agreement.

The arbitration award fixed a new wage of 81 cents an hour, and the drivers ask payment at this rate for the 14 extra hours worked each week above the new limit of 54 hours.

This amounts to $11.34 a week, but the union deducts $4.26, representing the differential between the new base wage of $43.74 and the old base of $48, leaving the excess wage claim of each driver at $7.08 for each week. Over the 15 weeks each driver is entitled to $106.20, the suit holds.

Claim Companies Plan Deduction.

The suit also states that the companies have served notive that they intend to deduct $27.69 from the pay check of every driver, contending that they made overpayments in this amount during the period the dispute was being arbitrated, and that under the retroactive provisions of the award they are entitled to a refund. The suit asks that they be enjoined from making these deductions.

The companies contend that on Sept. 5, when the award was announced, 13 weeks had elapsed since June 1, and that altho each driver was liable to refund $4.26 for each of these weeks because of the downward revision of the base wage to $43.74, a compromise of $2.13 a week was reached between its representative and that of the drivers.

The suit asks that the $371,700 claim be paid to the drivers' union, local 753, for distribution to its members. It is explained that the union brought suit in order to avoid a multiplicity of suits, as would be necessary if each driver went to court in his own behalf. Twenty-five major member dairies of the Associated Milk Dealers, Inc., are named defendants.

ALD. KELLS URGES A PAY-AS-YOU-GO SUPERROAD PLAN

A proposal that Chicago's proposed comprehensive superhighway program be started on a "pay-as-you-go" basis was submitted to the city council yesterday by Ald. George D. Kells [28th], chairman of the special council subcommittee on superhighways. The first project under the plan would be the Congress street improvement.

Superhighway plans have been blocked since last spring when the Illinois Supreme court ruled out a plan to finance the building of superhighways by issuing bonds to be repaid from future motor fuel tax receipts.

Ald. Kells said the city's current share of state motor fuel tax funds is about 2½ million dollars a year. These funds, together with sums from the federal, state and county governments, might make a total of 10 million dollars a year available, he explained. This would be enough to widen Congress street from State street to Ashland avenue in 1942 and to carry the improvements to the western city limits by 1944.

The proposal was referred to the finance committee. Ald Kells will discuss plans for joint action with state and county officials.

HORNER IS ASKED WHETHER HE CAN ACT AS GOVERNOR

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 18 (AP).—In a letter questioning whether Gov. Henry Horner is performing the duties of his office, Lyman E. Smith, president of the Republican Editorial Association of Illinois, today urged the governor to return to the capital and personally supervise the creation of local boards to administer the selective service law in the state.

"Inasmuch as you have been ill and in retirement for some months, many of our citizenry are doubtful as to whether or not you are actively performing the duties of governor," said the letter which Smith made public here.

Gov. Horner since June 2 has been resting in a leased home in Winnetka, Chicago suburb, seeking recovery from a long illness.

Appointment by Gov. Horner of Paul G. Armstrong of Chicago as state director of selective service was announced yesterday by Adjt. Gen. L. V. Regan after conferences with Horner at Winnetka. Still to be appointed are two assistants to Armstrong and 284 three member local draft boards for communities thruout the state.

Permission to Travel to U. S. Sought by Paderewski

LAUSANNE, Switzerland, Sept. 18 (AP).—Ignace Jan Paderewski, 80 year old pianist and former premier of Poland, today awaited permission to cross unoccupied France and Spain en route to the United States, where he said he hoped to spend the rest of his life. Paderewski's secretary said negotiations for the necessary authorization were still going on.

WISCONSIN PAYS FINAL TRIBUTE TO GLENN FRANK

Madison, Wis., Sept. 18 [Special].—Final tribute was paid today to Dr. Glenn Frank, former president of the University of Wisconsin, and his only son, Glenn Jr., who were killed in an automobile accident Sunday night.

A state funeral was conducted in the flower banked rotunda of the capitol, where about 7,000 persons overflowed into capitol drives. National Guardsmen patroled the grounds, and a military guard of honor stood watch during the services. Flags flew at half staff from all public buildings. The rites were attended by a group of high state officials and other notables headed by Gov. Julius P. Heil.

Private services in the Frank home preceded the state funeral. Burial was at Forest Hill cemetery. Death came to Dr. Frank and his son as he was concluding a campaign for the Republican nomination for United States senator.

Rep. George B. Allen, 64, Dies at Home in Gardner

Morris, Ill., Sept. 18 [Special].—George B. Allen, 64, Republican state representative from the 20th senatorial district and nominee for a third term, died last night from heart disease in his home in Gardner. Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon in his home. He leaves his widow and a son and two daughters.

FRIEND OF SLAIN GAMBLING GUARD FREED BY COURT

James C. Ryan, an ex-convict, was freed of a disorderly conduct charge yesterday by Municipal Judge LeRoy Hackett after police said there was no evidence against him. Ryan was wounded by gunmen July 26 in front of 2232 West 95th street. A companion, John McLeod, 37 years old, was killed. Police said the shooting probably grew out of attempts by Ryan, a former employé of the Nationwide News service, and McLeod, former gambling house guard, to start a new race information service.

DRIVER WHO LEFT VICTIM ON AUTO BUMPER IS JAILED

Kurt Ulrich was sternly rebuked and sentenced to 30 days in jail yesterday after witnesses testified that he ran down a boy and then drove on for two blocks with the boy on the bumper of his automobile.

The witnesses told Judge Joseph B. Hermes that other motorists pursued Ulrich, stopped him, and took the child to St. Anne's hospital. Ulrich insisted, however, that he had intended to take the boy to the hospital and thought it best not to move him from the bumper. The driver was sentenced for leaving the scene of an accident. He is a mechanic and lives at 4828 Wabansia avenue. The boy is Richard Earnest, 9 years old, 950 Latrobe avenue. The accident occurred May 19 in Laramie avenue near Augusta boulevard.

Arthur Fullbright, colored, 2911 South Park way, was sentenced to 10 days in jail for reckless driving in another Safety court case. Judge Francis Borrelli, in Jury court, sentenced Sherman Caple to 30 days for leaving the scene of an accident and 10 days for drunken driving. Caple, a butcher, lives at 617 Oakton street, Evanston.

Parley, Courtroom, Bath! Charles Told to Buy Tub

Charles Behning, a WPA worker, has until Oct 2 to replace the bathroom of his home at 5308 Winona avenue if he doesn't want to pay a $50 fine for violating city health ordinances. Judge Edward Luczak in License court granted the delay yesterday. Behning once had a bathroom, but it was removed by the Home Owners' Loan corporation a year ago after the HOLC foreclosed on a lot owned by Behning. The house, a remodeled garage, was built partly on one lot and partly on another, with the bathroom on the HOLC's half.

MAJEWSKI'S POST ON SCHOOL BOARD O. K.'D BY COUNCIL

By a vote of 38 to 1, the city council yesterday approved Mayor Kelly's reappointment of Bernard L. Majewski as a member of the board of education. The lone dissenter was Ald. Paul Douglas [5th], who said he had evidence to indicate Majewski is ineligible to serve.

Douglas said he had no objections to the character of Majewski, but was informed he lives the year round on an estate near Barrington and is not legally a resident of Chicago. The mayor and several aldermen disagreed with this, and the vote was taken over Douglas' objection. Majewski is a vice president of the Deep Rock Oil company.

The mayor submitted to the council the appointment of Joseph W. Cremin to succeed William D. McJunkin as a school board member. Action on this was deferred to the next meeting. Cremin is a member of the real estate firm of Cremin & O'Connor, and is 61 years old. McJunkin retired voluntarily, to devote more time to his own business affairs.

BARRINGTON MAIL CARRIER KILLED IN JALLOPY RACE

Jallopy racing, which is rapidly gaining popularity in northern Cook county and in Lake county, claimed its first life yesterday. Robert La Pointe, 24 years old, a letter carrier living at 117 North avenue, Barrington, died in the Palatine hospital of injuries suffered when his ancient ramshackle automobile, or jallopy, overturned in a race in a field two miles west of Barrington on Sunday.

Youthful amateurs compete in the jallopy races, which draw crowds as large as 1,500 at prices of 10 to 25 cents. Cars must be at least 10 years old, and their motors must have no more than six cylinders. Half mile tracks are laid out in fields, with stakes and flags as markers. Turns are unbanked. The more holes in the track, the drivers say, the more fun.

John Rhode, 74, of 942 North St. Louis avenue, died in County hospital after walking into the path of an automobile Sunday at Drake and Chicago avenues. The driver was Paul Neff, 19, of Oak Forest.

Friends learned yesterday that Mrs. Lucius B. Butts, 69 years old, of 8244 Kenwood avenue, was killed by an automobile on Friday in Los Angeles, Cal. Her husband is a former Illinois Central railroad auditor.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday, 609 persons had been killed in automobile accidents in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these, 446 were killed in Chicago, where 16,619 were injured in the same period.

MAN WHO TAUGHT LION TO WRESTLE DIES IN SCOTLAND

GLASGOW, Scotland, Sept. 18 (AP).—The death of Edward H. Bostock, circus man, was announced today. He was 81 years old.

Known as the Barnum of Britain, Bostock spent half a century on the road with circuses, menageries and theaters. He retired in 1931, selling his menagerie to the London Zoölogical society. His family had started in the business in 1805.

When boxing kangaroos were the rage, he trained them. Later he produced a wrestling lion.

NEW DEAL PLAN FOR 20 BILLION DEBT HIKE TOLD

Needed for Defense, Economists Say.

BY JOHN FISHER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 18.—The government has under consideration another borrowing program of approximately 20 billion dollars to help finance the defense program, it was learned today. Borrowing rather than taxation continues to be favored by the administration in raising funds.

The federal debt is now about 44 billion dollars and the legal limit has been lifted 4 billions to a maximum of 49 billions by this session of congress. The debt has approximately doubled during the two Roosevelt administrations.

The present trend of thought among New Deal economists was disclosed last night, it was learned today, at an informal conference between the economists and prominent business men at a local hotel. The conference was arranged by M. W. Harrison, editor of the Savings Bank Journal. Economists, business and labor leaders were invited.

Plan Five Years Ahead.

The government economists agreed generally with an estimate that $20,000,000,000 would be needed for defense expenditures during the next five years. They held the view that this money should be raised by borrowing rather than by taxation.

The business men, however, contended the program should be financed by taxation on their earnings. They said they did not believe it right to leave this heavy debt for future generations to pay.

The government group said that imposition of heavy taxes at this time would retard business recovery and hold down the expected increase in national income. Their theory was that if the money were borrowed and spent by the government, the increased tax yield would go a long way toward balancing the budget.

Predict 100 Billion Income.

To back this contention, they introduced figures which they said indicated that the national income by 1943 would increase to over 100 billion dollars. This income would yield the government some 17 billion dollars in taxes, it was stated.

This year, it was estimated, the national income will be around 75 billion dollars, with the government getting five billion in taxes.

The economists estimated that the national income next year would be 80 billion; in 1942 it would be 90 billion and in 1943 it would be 100 billion or more.

Among the New Dealers who participated were Leon Henderson of the National Defense commission; Jerome Frank, chairman of the Securities and Exchange commission; Lauchlin Currie, assistant to the President; Benjamin V. Cohen of the National Power Policy commission, and Assistant Secretary of Commerce Richard Gilbert.

E. F. Connely Present.

Representatives of business included Philip A. Benson, president of the Dime Savings Bank of Brooklyn; B. J. Buttenwieser of Kuhn Loeb & Co.; Emmet F. Connely, president of the Investment Bankers' association; T. Jefferson Coolidge, chairman, United Fruit company, and Robert L. Garner, vice president of the Guaranty Trust company.

Some unanimity of opinion developed when tax exempt securities were mentioned. Almost every one agreed that this source of government income should be tapped. Similarly, there was a general opinion that income taxes on middle income groups—from $2,000 to $25,000 a year—could be stepped up.

The government economists opposed imposition of additional taxes on consumers at this time.

It was predicted that the defense expenditures will bring great prosperity, cutting unemployment by probably 5 million, increasing living standards—and prices.

FEDERAL DEBT MOUNTS

Washington, D. C., Sept. 18 (AP).—The federal debt soared past $44,000,000,000 today before the treasury had begun vast borrowings for national defense.

The treasury revealed that out of its $45,000,000,000 limit on borrowing for general purposes, it had exhausted $44,061,821,728. Several additional millions of the borrowing power also were reserved to cover the automatically increasing value of United States savings bonds.

Since the present fiscal year started on July 1, the treasury has increased its debt by $1,094,290,690. Compared with a year ago, the debt was up about $3,200,000,000.

Bull Market's Peak Reached 11 Years Ago

Eleven years ago today the steepest stock market advance in American history reached its peak, and from there on prices slid, cautiously at first, but at breakneck speed in October to usher in the most severe depression the world has known.

On Sept. 19, 1929, speculators were betting that the only way the market could go was up. THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE average of 50 stocks closed at 311.99, a price not equaled before or since. Yesterday's average was 95.93.

Wide Break in October.

By mid-October, 1929, the debacle had started in earnest and before the month was over the market had broken wide open. Thruout 1930, 1931, and early 1932 there was a persistent decline in stock prices and industry became stagnant.

The lowest point of the depression, as measured by THE TRIBUNE average, was on July 8, 1932, when the index closed at 33.98, a drop of 89 per cent from the 1929 high.

Market value of all listed stocks on the New York Stock exchange fell more than 74 billion dollars from $89,668,276,854 on Sept. 1, 1929, to $15,633,479,577 on July 1, 1932.

Sharp Fluctuations Since.

The market soon began to regain some of its lost ground, and THE TRIBUNE average touched 144.44 on Nov. 10, 1936, high point of the recovery. Subsequently the index has varied over a wide range, reaching 142.93 on March 8, 1937, and 106.77 a year ago.

PRINTING PRESS MAKER GETS BIG NAVAL CONTRACT

An order for naval armament equipment, said to be the largest placed in this area by the United States government, involving several million dollars, has been received by the Goss Printing Press company of Chicago. This was disclosed yesterday when work was started on a half million dollar addition to the Goss company plant at 1535 South Paulina street.

The new addition being built to handle the government contract, will be 456 feet long and 66 feet wide. It will be two stories high, without a basement. It will be of steel, concrete, and brick construction.

Designed and being built by the Austin company, which has the general contract, the plant addition is scheduled for completion within 100 days. It will give employment to 300 persons, it was said.

This is the second big government contract to be awarded to Chicago printing machine concerns recently. The Miehle Printing Press and Manufacturing company was given a $4,100,000 order for gun equipment.

USED CAR SUPPLY LOWEST OF YEAR ON SEPTEMBER 1

Stocks of used cars in automobile dealers' hands on Sept. 1 were equivalent to a 30.2 days' supply—the lowest level for the year—the Chicago Automobile Trade association said yesterday. The association's statement is based on reports from 223 automobile outlets thruout the county.

The 30.2 days' supply compares with a 32.7 days' supply on Aug. 1 and 31.8 days on Sept. 1, 1939. Conforming to reports by automobile company officials of an improved used car situation, the association said that during August the used car stock in Cook county showed a decrease, whereas in August, 1939, it increased.

SEC Chairman Denies Court's Utility Charge

Washington, D. C., Sept. 18 (AP).—Chairman Jerome Frank of the Securities and Exchange commission said tonight that the SEC had not placed "shackles on the business judgment" of Associated Gas and Electric corporation trustees as charged by Federal Judge Vincent L. Leibell in New York.

Jerome Frank.

Frank made public a letter to the trustees, Denis J. Driscoll and Willard L. Thorp, in which he said the commissioners were surprised by reports that Judge Leibell "had apparently gained the impression" during the trustees' appearance at a hearing that the SEC had restricted dividend payments by a subsidiary to the corporation."

Trustee Tells of Decision.

Thorp told the court that the trustees had decided against having Northeastern Water and Electric corporation, an A. G. & E. subsidiary, acquire outstanding stock of Union Water Service company because the SEC had stipulated that Northeastern could not pay dividends to its parent until a three year note to finance the purchase had been paid.

Leibell commented that such a condition was "unreasonable" and that he would not approve commission conditions in the future unless they were "reasonable and necessary."

Frank said that no such order had been issued or even considered by the commission. The facts were, he said, that members of the SEC staff told counsel for the trustees informally that they believed such a restriction should be imposed, and that they intended to recommend it.

Terms Present Laws Ample.

"The federal government and each of the 48 state governments have laws regulating directors of corporations who vote dividends," Judge Leibell said. "Reasonable and necessary conditions are laid down by those laws, but the condition imposed by the commission is unreasonable. I can see no reason, if current obligations, and they would include annual payments due on the 3-year note, were met and an excess of earnings existed, why a reasonable dividend should not be declared.

"Such conditions, on top of the restrictions imposed by our laws, result in placing shackles on the business judgment of trustees. If conditions imposed by the SEC in the future are reasonable and necessary, that is one thing, but if they lack those qualities, they will not be approved by this court."

ELECTRIC POWER OUTPUT IS NEAR ALL-TIME PEAK

Electric power output in the week ended Sept. 14 totaled 2,638,634,000 kilowatt hours, within 3 milliom kilowatt hours of the all time record, established in the week ended Dec. 23, 1939, the Edison Electric institute reported yesterday.

Production rebounded 7.1 per cent from the preceding week's total of 2,462,622,000 kilowatt hours when the Labor day holiday reduced industrial power demands. It was 7.9 per cent ahead of the corresponding week in 1939 when output totaled 2,444,371,000 kilowatt hours.

In Chicago, the Commonwealth Edison company reported its production rose to 154,757,000 kilowatt hours last week from 143,609,000 in the preceding week and 152,045,000 of the corresponding week in 1939.

President Signs Measure Regulating Water Traffic

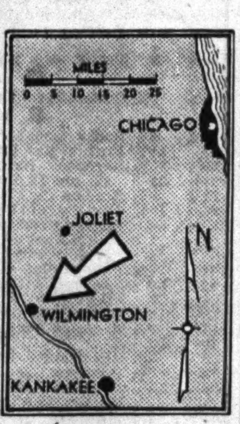
Washington, D. C., Sept. 18 (AP).—President Roosevelt signed today legislation bringing most inland, coastwise and intercoastal water traffic under regulation of the Interstate Commerce commission. The measure brings rate making and other affairs of water carriers under regulation similar to that now applying to railroad and motor transportation, and overhauls statutes with respect to a number of regulatory details.

Great Lakes Iron Ore Fleet at Full Capacity

Cleveland, O., Sept. 18 (AP).—United States iron ore ships on the Great Lakes are operating at 100 per cent of capacity, statisticians reported today. The M. A. Hanna company's midmonth report said 296 vessels are in commission. A year ago 264 vessels were in commission out of 303 available.

REPORT EXPLOSIVES PLANT TO BE ERECTED 57 MILES FROM LOOP

A $14,000,000 TNT powder plant is to be built near Wilmington, Ill., it was reported yesterday in Washington, D. C. The war department according to the report, has contracted with E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co. to operate the plant, one of a series to be erected in various parts of the country.



Map locates probable site of powder plant.

The Stone and Webster Engineering company, New York City, has been given a $10,800,000 contract to build the plant, it was said, with the remainder of the $14,000,000 investment set aside for machinery and equipment. It was expected eight months would be required for construction.

New York officials of the engineering company refused to comment on the proposed plant. Army officials also withheld comment. It was said that the Wilmington site has not yet definitely been accepted. Previous reports have indicated that the plant might be erected in northern Illinois, near the Wisconsin line.

Wilmington is about 15 miles south of Joliet and 57 miles by highway from Chicago's loop.

MIDDLE WEST TO FIGHT CUT IN ITS HOLDINGS

Proposals by certain stockholders of the Central and South West Utilities company that stock allocations under a proposed merger of Central with the American Public Service company be revised to reduce the number of shares going to Middle West corporation, parent company of both utilities, will be opposed by the parent company, Purcell L. Smith, president of Middle West, said yesterday.

Smith's statement was made following a public hearing in the postoffice building being conducted by the Securities and Exchange commission in Chicago to hear objections of stockholders to the merger.

Irving L. Porter, vice president of the First National Bank of Chicago and a director of Middle West, testified that Middle West had acquired stock of Central and South West Utilities thru open market purchases rather than soliciting stockholders. His explanation was in reply to questions by Frank Field, SEC counsel, who was attempting to show the influence of First National, the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company, and the Bankers Trust company, New York, on policies of Middle West. The banks held large blocks of stock in the holding company at the time.

COTTON QUOTA IS FIXED AT 12 MILLION BALES

Washington, D. C., Sept. 18 (AP).—Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard today proclaimed a national marketing quota for cotton of 12,000,000 bales for 1941. To become operative, the quota must be approved by two-thirds of the producers voting in a referendum Dec. 7.

The quota is the same as that established, and approved, on the 1138, 1939, and 1940 crops. Such a quota, Wickard said, would permit planting of about 27,900,000 acres to cotton. This would be apportioned among growers on the basis of a formula set up in the 1938 agricultural adjustment act.

Under the act, establishment of quotas is mandatory when the cotton supply reaches 107 per cent of "normal." Wickard said that on Aug. 1 the supply was 24,900,000 bales, or 137 per cent of the "normal" supply of 18,200,000 bales.

AIR CONDITIONING CONTRACTS SET AUGUST RECORDS

Last month's air conditioning contracts were the largest of any August on record, figures of the Commonwealth Edison company showed yesterday. There were 27 central plant installations, with a combined capacity of 237 horse power, compared with 20 systems, aggregating 173 horse power in August, 1939.

General offices led all types of contracts with nine installations. Restaurants were second with six installations. Candy stores followed with three.

Chicagoans bought 94 electric room coolers last month, or more than twice the number sold a year earlier.

ARMY ORDERS 16 MILLIONS IN SEARCHLIGHTS

Pontoon Equipment Contracts Let.

War department orders placed yesterday included contracts for antiaircraft searchlights costing $16,852,650. The orders were apportioned $9,075,150 to the Sperry Gyroscope company, Brooklyn, N. Y., and $7,777,500 to the General Electric company, Schenectady, N. Y.

The Flour City Ornamental Iron company, Minneapolis, Minn., and Leach Brothers, Oshkosh, Wis., were given orders for pontoon equipment amounting to $1,169,610 and $681,500, respectively. The Harvey Metal corporation, Chicago, received a $145,800 order for ammunition components.

The Pennsylvania Forge corporation, Philadelphia, was given an order for $109,025 in artillery material. The Cone Export and Commission company, New York, was given a contract for $166,965 for unbleached cotton drill.

Other Companies Get Contracts.

Other companies getting contracts included the Bethlehem Steel company, Chase Brass and Copper company, Seiberling Rubber company and the Allegheny Ludlum Steel corporation.

The Autocar company, Ardmore, Pa., manufacturer of heavy duty motor trucks, disclosed that the war department has authorized it to start quantity production on "half track" scout cars totaling at least $7,271,103 in value. This type of scout car is called a "half track" car because the rear section operates over a rubber track on the caterpillar tractor principle. The front axle and wheels are like those of the conventional front wheel drive highway trucks.

Use of the rear track drive enables the scout car to leave hard surface roads and run over open country when necessary. Deliveries will not begin before February at the earliest. The autocar company is building plant additions so that the defense work will not interfere with the production of its regular trucks.

Report British Negotiations.

It was reported in Washington, D. C., that negotiations between the British government and American manufacturers for the building of a large number of tanks are nearing completion.

In addition to working out technical problems concerned with building the tanks, the commission is said to have made an arrangement whereby plants handling the British tanks could be converted to American use without difficulty. American railroad equipment manufacturers may be given the tank orders in a few days, it was said.

Navy department orders announced yesterday included one for $462,000 given the Western Pipe and Steel company of California, San Francisco, for covered lighters. The Eclipse Aviation division of the Bendix Aviation corporation, Bendix, N. J., was given a $201,762 contract for engine starters.

Chrysler Awards Contract.

The Chrysler corporation awarded a $650,000 contract to the Bethlehem Steel company as the first step in construction of a $20,000,000 United States army tank arsenal at Detroit. The contract was for all steel construction in the main factory building for which a site is now being cleared.

Reflecting rapidly expanding industrial operations, which are adding to pay rolls, reports from Detroit stated that production schedules by the automobile companies indicate that fourth quarter volume may be the largest on record, with a gain over the 1939 period of as much as 10 or 15 per cent. The 1939 period set the record for the quarter.

ORDERS RITHOLZ LOCKED UP FOR CIVIL CONTEMPT

Benjamin D. Ritholz, operator of a chain of optical stores with headquarters at 1148 West Chicago avenue, yesterday was found guilty of civil contempt of court by Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson and was ordered committed to the county jail in the first action of its type in this federal district.

Ritholz was ordered to produce books and documents in connection with a hearing on charges of violating the National Labor Relations act by locking out 65 employés in 1937. Judge Wilkerson ruled Ritholz had failed to comply with a subpoena for the documents which was issued in 1938.

Ritholz will stay in jail until he complies with the order or submits proof he is unable to comply, Judge Wilkerson ruled.

7 MORE CONCERNS ATTACK MEXICAN OIL VALUATIONS

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 18 (AP).—Seven of the smaller companies affiliated with Standard Oil Company of New Jersey today attacked in court the Mexican government's valuation of their expropriated properties.

They contended that they were not named in the expropriation decree, and that legal proceedings challenging the validity of the decree were still pending.

The government had valued the properties at 7,500,000 pesos [about $1,500,000]. Huasteca Petroleum, the major Mexican subsidiary of Standard, did not file suit, since it was named in the decree. Its properties were valued at 18,000,000 pesos [about $3,600,000].

Leaders Ask Fair Treatment of Industry in Defense Plans

Steel Official Warns Time Is Required to Fill Orders.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 18 (AP).—Irving S. Olds, chairman of the United States Steel corporation, said today national defense needs will be produced quicker and at lower cost "if private enterprise is at the helm under its own leadership."

Irving S. Olds.

In an address at a luncheon opening a three day inspection tour of United States Steel plants by corporation officials, Olds declared:

"We have read recently of a 'sitdown strike' of capital and of industry's 'refusal' to cooperate with the government. There is no basis for any of these stories.

Calls Business Patriotic.

"Unfortunately, we have about us critics who appear only too willing, by reason of ignorance or otherwise to point a condemning finger toward business without attempting to ascertain the underlying facts."

He asserted the strategic steel industry "will not be found lacking in coöperation or in zeal or patriotism" and that "generally speaking the personnel of American business is both experienced and competent and as patriotic as any other group of American citizens."

He cautioned, however, that it takes time to convert orders into finished products.

Anxious to Speed Output.

"It will not be surprising if many insufficiencies in military equipment and supplies still exist a year hence," Olds continued. "But American industry must not be held responsible for delays in the commencement of the program, or for the time necessarily required to carry out the program. Business is just as desirous as any one else of speeding output, of completing contracts and of clearing the decks for still further production in the public interest."

Benjamin F. Fairless, president of the steel corporation, said he understood government plans may call for an expenditure of "as high as $40,000,000" at the South Charleston, W. Va., armor plate plant.

He reported the corporation had reached a new peak in employment and that more men would be hired. He added that the corporation's labor relations were "very satisfactory."

H. W. Prentis Pledges Co-operation from Manufacturers.

BY WILLIAM FULTON.

New York, Sept. 18 [Special].—American industry will coöperate fully in building up the nation's defenses but at the same time must safeguard the return of civil and religious liberties after the emergency period ends, H. W. Prentis Jr., president of the National Association of Manufacturers, declared tonight. He is president of the Armstrong Cork company.

H. W. Prentis Jr.

Speaking here before a group of leading industrialists at the eastern regional meeting of the N. A. M., Prentis said it might be necessary to sacrifice temporarily "some of our individual freedom" for the sake of united action.

"We must take care to see that when the emergency is past we shall have the substance and not merely the shell of what we have been defending," he warned.

Conscription Unnecessary.

"Emergency measures, let us make sure, must be planned for the emergency only and must not outlast it."

Without mentioning by name the New Deal radicals who have frequently been at loggerheads with American business in the past, Prentis gave notice of danger that some groups hostile to free enterprise were likely to use the defense situation to establish "new permanent controls over our economic activities."

"The management of industry does not need to be 'conscripted,'" he asserted. "It has already volunteered. And the introduction of more business into government, rather than more government into business, is what is really pushing ahead our program of national defense."

Praises Defense Chiefs.

Prentis paid tribute to William S. Knudsen, Edward R. Stettinius Jr. and others working with the defense commission. He urged they be given large authority for standardization of specifications, coördinating needs of the military services and expediting procurement and production.

Business men everywhere are helping wholeheartedly, Prentis asserted, in the difficult tasks of starting the production of such complicated pieces of machinery as modern tanks and airplanes.

Colossal expenditures for defenses means "taxes the like of which we have never seen," Prentis admitted, but he said no price in money was too high to pay for national security.

"Tho American industrial management has been accused of many sins and kept on the penitents' bench to listen to the diatribes of many exhorters," he said, "now that a conflagration threatens we are inevitably turned to as the potential saviors of the national congregation."

SALE OF 17 TON PLANE ABROAD IS OKAYED BY ARMY

Washington, D. C., Sept. 18 (AP).—The war and navy departments have released for sale abroad a model B 299 Y four motor plane, described as the commercial version of the army's long range B-17 bomber.

Officials made the disclosure today after Secretary of State Cordell Hull was asked at his press conference whether Great Britain would be permitted to buy duplicates of the 17 ton army planes which have flown repeatedly to South America and return.

Officials said the Boeing company of Seattle, manufacturers of the B-17 bomber, had been authorized "some time ago" to negotiate for foreign sale of the commercial model, subject to federal export license. Whether orders were placed was not disclosed.

SCHOOL BOARD COAL CONTRACTS GIVEN TWO FIRMS

The board of education yesterday awarded contracts for the coal needs of the schools during the present school year to the Consumers company and the Crear Clinch Coal company.

The Consumers award was for 56,500 tons at a total bid of $244,590 and the Crear Clinch award 36,000 tons at $154,200.

Altho the schedule of bids showed the Hoskins Coal & Dock corporation was lower than the other two companies in several instances, John Howatt, chief school engineer, explained the Hoskins bids were rejected because they were based on strip mine coal of a grade not admitted under school board specifications.

Council Votes Contract for Two Subway Stations

The city council yesterday awarded a contract to the Robert R. Anderson company to build two mezzanine subway stations and loading platforms at a cost of $384,314. The stations will be in State street between Adams and Van Buren streets.

EDISON RATE CUT PETITION DENIED BY COMMISSION

The request for electric rate reductians filed by eight apartment dwellers against the Commonwealth Edison company was dismissed by the Illinois commerce commission yesterday.

Charles Liebman, attorney for the group, said last night that an appeal from the order will be taken to the courts. His petition charged that the company had failed to comply with a commission order entered in October, 1936, directing a rate cut of $2,500,000 a year.

The commission, which had already refused Liebman's request that it issue subpenas for Edison books and records, said it had found no evidence that the rate order had not been carried out.

VOTE DRAFTEES BROADER SOCIAL SECURITY PLANS

Senate Acts to Help Families, Too.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 18.—The senate today voted the President sweeping powers to set up the "necessary machinery" for social security protection for draftees, including a "modified form of insurance" to cover the families of men called into military training.

These powers were tagged on the pending excess profits tax bill which was under debate. Mr. Roosevelt requested such legislation on Saturday to protect the status under the social security act of conscripted men and National Guardsmen called into active service so that they will remain eligible for benefits upon their return to civil life.

Substitute Broadens Powers.

The legislation, adopted by a voice vote, was substituted by Senator Pat Harrison [D., Miss.], chairman of the senate finance committee and in charge of the tax bill, for an amendment previously adopted which had been offered by Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg [R., Mich.]. Harrison told the senate that the Vandenberg amendment, which simply guaranteed that the draftees would not lose their benefits because of their one year's training, was not broad enough.

Altho Vandenberg was not in the senate chamber when the substitute was offered, Harrison said that he had talked to the Michigan senator, who proposed social security legislation before the New Deal administration thought of it, and that he expressed no opposition to the substitute measure.

Vote May Be Reached Today.

The social security "rider" to the tax bill would permit the President to set up whatever machinery he sees fit, including insurance for families, to protect the draftees. This provision will go into conference between the house and senate when the tax bill is finally voted by the senate, which is expected by tomorrow or Friday at the latest.

The social security amendment authorizes the President to set up a system of allowances to provide for the dependents of draftees or enlisted personnel of the army and navy. The measure carries no limitations on the powers of the President and specifically states that any statute in conflict with the amendment would be modified or repealed. Agencies of the federal, state or local government could be called upon for assistance in administering the program.

Debate Tax Exemptions.

Debate today was concerned principally with a proposed amendment to eliminate the present exemption from state and federal taxation of certain governmental securities. The senate also heard Senator Walter F. George [D., Ga.] defend the senate version of the tax bill against treasury criticism. The senate modified the treasury's stiff provisions incorporated in the bill as it passed the house.

"This is one of the gravest issues that congress may be called upon to decide," Senator Warren R. Austin [R., Vt.], assistant minority leader, declared in urging the senate to reject the amendment, which was proposed by Senator Prentiss M. Brown [D., Mich.], on behalf of a special senate committee appointed to investigate tax exemptions.

Minority Report Filed.

Austin and Senator Edward R. Burke [D., Neb.] filed a minority report yesterday opposing the amendment. States and municipalities have long opposed any federal taxation of

Stocks, Bonds

New York Stocks.

New York, Sept. 18 (AP).—Stock prices moved up cautiously today with traders testing every fractional variation of the trend. It was the fourth consecutive advance, placing price levels close to the high point achieved in the first week of the month.

The Associated Press average of 60 selected issues gained .3 of a point at 44.1. Transactions totaled 479,390 shares, compared with 399,080 yesterday. It was also the fourth consecutive session in which volume increased.

Market analysts attributed the advance, in the face of the uncertain war outlook, to the apparent constant strengthening of the royal air force, to predictions of even more activity in key industries and to Wall street rumors that the excess profits tax bill was not likely to be as stringent as originally expected.

Operators, seeming to fear a runup in prices and the attendant profit-taking and slump, traded only small blocks thruout the session. Opening hour prices were firmed by fractions, then a ripple of selling brought minus signs into balance with the pluses. Following this, the market virtually halted for three hours. Toward the last, however, trading increased and the close found 390 issues up, 111 down and 183 unchanged.

Advancing issues included United States Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, Douglas, Sperry, Montgomery Ward, J. C. Penney, Eastman, Johns-Manville, Allied Chemical, Union Carbide, Dow Chemical, Westinghouse Electric, American Smelting, Phelps Dodge, American Telephone, Great Northern preferred, and Standard Oil of New Jersey.

New York Bonds.

New York, Sept. 18 (AP).—The bond market posted advances of fractions to a point or more today, continuing a rise which has been in effect for more than a week.

Rails showed the largest gains. As measured by Associated Press averages the group advanced .4 of a point to 58.6, the highest since Jan. 11. Prominent in the rise were Western Union 5s, Nickel Plate 4½s, New York Central 5s, American & Foreign Power 5s, Rock Island General 4s, Delaware and Hudson 4s, and International Hydro Electric 6s.

Foreign dollar bonds were higher by 1 to 2 or more points. United States governments were quiet but generally higher.

Chicago Stocks.

Prices moved upward on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday in increased volume. Transactions totaled 23,000 shares, compared with 18,000 Tuesday. Of the 96 issues traded, 54 advanced, 18 declined, and 24 were unchanged. Swift & Co., the volume leader, closed at 19, Tuesday's final price. United States Steel gained 1¼ points, showing the largest increase among the active issues.

Bank Stocks.

REVIVING DEMAND FOR FLOUR LIFTS WHEAT FUTURES

A revival in the domestic demand for flour brought mills into the market yesterday for wheat, and removal of hedges against the cash grain lifted futures prices around 1 cent a bushel on American exchanges. Closing sales on the Chicago Board of Trade were at gains of ⅝ to 1 cent.

Strength in securities and reports of continued strong British resistance to German attacks helped along the upturn.

Corn was fairly active early, with prices tending lower. September corn closed ⅝ cent lower. The new crop months rallied late in the session in sympathy with wheat and gained ⅜ to ½ cent. Oats closed ¼ to ⅝ cent higher and rye ⅝ to ⅞ cent higher. Soy beans finished with gains of ⅛ to 1¼ cents.

Winnipeg wheat futures closed 3 to 3⅝ cents lower, reflecting readjustment to new minimum prices which went into effect at the opening yesterday.

Commodities

Wool tops and copper made decisive gains yesterday to stand out in commodity futures that otherwise were generally irregular. Tin and hides advanced, while sugar and Santos coffee took small losses. Rubber prices were mixed.

Wool top futures rallied in late trading and closed 0.5 to 1.2 cents a pound higher. October deliveries reached $1.00, peak price since last Dec. 16. In the cash market, wool tops continued to climb, gaining ½ cent a pound to finish at $1.13½ cents. The advance raised the total gain since Sept. 7 to 9½ cents a pound, and brought the price level near the high of $1.15 of Jan. 2. The rising market is attributed to heavy government orders.

Copper futures pushed ahead 0.11 to 0.15 cent a pound, with September and October contracts at 10.18 cents. The gains copper has shown of late are generally believed the result of a tight supply situation. Tin futures rose 0.02½ to 0.20 cent, while zinc held unchanged.

Hide futures finished 0.05 to 0.10 cent a pound higher, with December at 9.85 cents. Rubber was 0.01 cent higher to 0.09 cent lower. September deliveries closed at 19.04 cents bid.

Selling by Cuban producers disrupted stability in domestic sugar futures and final prices were unchanged to 0.01 cent a pound lower on a turnover of 6,450 tons. World futures were slightly lower on a small turnover.

Santos coffee futures took 0.02 to 0.05 cent a pound losses after opening advances resulted in increased offerings. Dealings were light and September deliveries were 5.46 cents bid.

Cottonseed oil and cocoa futures also were among the losers, while silk was mixed within a narrow price range.

BUS OPERATORS FEAR EFFECT OF TRANSPORT BILL

Act's 'Innocent Victims,' Bowen Tells Meeting.

Ivan Bowen.

The transportation bill, which congress passed recently, was reviewed with "fear and trepidation" yesterday before delegates to the 14th annual convention of the National Association of Motor Bus Operators in the Drake hotel.

Ivan Bowen, a director of Greyhound corporation and chairman of the legislative committee of the bus association, discussed the Transportation Act of 1940 in addressing the 400 delegates, and termed motor carriers "innocent victims" of the act.

"Your committee voiced opposition to the bill from its origin," said Bowen, who declared the railroad had sponsored the legislation. "Whether the bill as passed will place obstacles in the way of the development and success of the motor bus industry, as we feared, only its administration over the years will determine."

Under ICC Jurisdiction.

"We cared not what legislation was enacted relating to the railroads," Bowen said. "Our plea to leave the motor carrier act of 1935 out of the new bill was not granted.

"Our competitors finally succeeded in repealing the declaration of policy in the 1935 act which stated 'it is to be the policy of congress to regulate transportation by motor carriers in such a manner as to recognize and preserve the inherent advantages of and foster sound economic conditions in such transportation.'"

New Policy Adopted.

Bowen said the legislators adopted instead a policy "to the end of developing, coördinating, and preserving a national transportation system by water, highway, and rail."

Also, he said, they left intact a section of the transportation act of 1920 which declared "it is the policy of congress to promote, encourage, and develop water transportation service and facilities in connection with the commerce of the United States and to foster and preserve in full vigor both rail and water transportation."

PLANE FABRIC MAKERS DENY PRICE CONTROL

New York, Sept. 18 (AP).—Four airplane fabric manufacturing firms and six of their officials pleaded innocent today in federal court on an indictment charging conspiracy to fix prices in violation of the antitrust laws.

The indictment, issued by a special federal grand jury investigating war industries, charged conspiracy to fix prices for a type of fabric used in army and navy planes.

The defendants are: Wellington Sears & Co., New York, and three of its executives; Suncook Mills, New York and Suncook, N. H., and two executives; Thurston Cutting corporation, New York, and one officer, and Air Associates, Garden City, N. Y.

Federal Judge Alfred C. Coxe fixed bail at $1,000 each. A trial date was not set.

CORN IS NEARING MATURITY IN ITS RACE WITH FROST

Bulk of Crop Will Be Safe in Two Weeks.

The corn crop made rapid progress toward maturity during the dry weather of the last week in the northwest and west, the weather bureau reported yesterday. Temperatures in the central and eastern areas, however, were too low for the best progress.

The bulk of the crop will be safe from frost damage in from one to two weeks, the bureau said. Harvesting is under way in the extreme southwest, and grain in Kansas will be ready for feeding in about two weeks. Cutting of corn for fodder is widespread.

Frost Hurts Some Corn.

Frosts damaged corn some in parts of Minnesota and the Dakotas early this week. Rainfall thruout the corn belt was the smallest of the season.

While dry weather favored the maturity of the corn crop it tended to delay fall plowing in some sections. Winter wheat seeding made good progress, especially in Oklahoma.

Crop conditions in Illinois as reported by the weather bureau follow:

Corn is maturing fairly rapidly and will be mostly safe from frost in one to two weeks. Only a small acreage has been cut for silage. Soy beans range from poor to good. Combining of beans will start soon in some southern localities.

Precipitation Data.

Rainfall for the week ending Sept. 17 and from April 1 to Sept. 17 in inches and hundredths of inches as reported by the weather bureau:

LAUNCH WORLD'S LARGEST FERRY AT MANITOWOC

Manitowoc, Wis., Sept. 18 [Special].—The world's largest car ferry, christened "City of Midland 41" was launched at the Manitowoc shipyards this afternoon before 20 thousand persons.

The car ferry, newest addition to the Pere Marquette fleet, is 406 feet long, streamlined, and has a carrying capacity of 34 loaded freight cars, 50 automobiles, and 376 passengers. Gross tonnage is 6,900. It will have a speed of 18 miles an hour. The cost when completed will be approximately $2,000,000.

The City of Midland 41 will make two round trips daily between Manitowoc and Ludington, Mich., being the seventh of the Pere Marquette fleet operating on Lake Michigan. Two other ferries run on the St. Mary's river at Detroit.

CHICAGO DEALERS WILL VIEW NEW '41 FORDS TODAY

Arthur S. Hatch.

The Chicago branch of the Ford Motor company today will embark on the largest production and sales program in its history at a meeting of 2,000 Ford, Mercury and Lincoln-Zephyr dealers and salesmen, Arthur S. Hatch, manager of the Chicago branch, said yesterday.

New 1941 Fords assembled at the Chicago Ford plant will be shown to the group. The Ford plant—on the far south side—is the only automobile assembly plant in Chicago.

Hatch said the 1941 Fords have a longer wheelbase, advances in engineering and styling providing greater comfort and safety and increased visibility. The new Fords will be on display Sept. 27 in dealers' show rooms. The new Lincoln-Zephyr cars will be on view tomorrow.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK

Prime fed steers rose 15 cents to a new 1940 peak of $13.90 a hundred pounds at the stockyards yesterday. Prices of most other cattle were steady.

Hogs recovered more of the recent losses when farmers held down supplies thruout the country. Gains of 10 to 15 cents were general in the medium weight butchers and sows, with some as much as 25 cents above Tuesday's low point. Lights under 200 pounds continued slow and were about steady for the day.

The day's average moved up 10 cents to $6.45.

Lambs slumped 25 cents more yesterday, selling off 50 cents in two days. The $9.15 top was paid for natives.

COTTON

A more friendly feeling prevailed toward the buying side of cotton due to reports of a better demand for textiles and strength in securities. Mills were fair buyers, while hedging pressure was relatively light. Closing sales were unchanged to .06 cent higher on the active futures.

Spot cotton closed .02 cent higher to .02 cent lower with New York, 9.63 cents; New Orleans, 9.50 cents; Galveston, 9.11 cents, and Houston, 9.10 cents a pound. Prices follow:

DAY by DAY on the FARM

By HOMER WEISZ

Grape Harvest Begins

Sept. 18, 1940.

RED, white, blue, and black clusters of ripe grapes in a small vineyard at the Du Page county farm soon will form colorful displays on pantry shelves in jelly glasses and grape juice bottles. The first ones were picked yesterday. There are six rows of vines, each of a different variety.

All the grapes were late in ripening this year. Picking was about over at this time last fall. The vines were slow in starting growth last spring and the summer drouth further retarded them. The grape crop looked like a failure until about a month ago when rains transformed the vineyard. Some of the grapes now are larger than usual, and a fair yield is expected.

Fredonias Ripen First.

The Fredonia, a black variety, was the first to ripen. In normal seasons these grapes are ready to pick about two weeks before any of the others. The yield of this variety was light because some of the vines were killed last winter and others were damaged. The Fredonias are considered good table grapes. They have a distinctive flavor.

The best yields are expected from the Moore's Early and Concord varieties. The Moore's Early is a black grape. The Concord is the common blue grape that long has been a favorite in vineyards in this section.

Last year the Niagara row, a white variety, made the highest yield, but the quality of the grapes was only fair. Many of the Niagara vines died last winter.

Some of the best grapes on the place this year are Concords planted years ago in a vineyard that was neglected for a long time until the vines became a regular jungle. They were pruned and put on trellises in the spring of 1937 and have been pruned regularly since. The vines are on low ground in deep, black soil and apparently did not suffer from the drouth as much as those in the other vineyard.

Two Varieties Are Red.

There are two varieties of red grapes in the collection, Caco and Delaware. These are favorites with the farm families because of the beautiful reddish tints of the jelly and grape juice made from them.

The Cacos are large grapes and usually make as good yields as Concords. The Delawares are the smallest of all. They are only about one-third the size of Cacos. The vines also are small and have small leaves. The grapes form in round, compact clusters instead of long, loose bunches like most other grapes. They are said to make excellent wine.

There is a fine crop of wild grapes this year.

DEFENSE BOARD'S REPORT OPPOSES OIL PROSECUTION

Calls Setup Well Adapted to Nation's Needs.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 18 (AP).—The National Defense commission, in a report made public tonight, said that certain phases of the defense program would be delayed and complicated if the department of justice started prosecution of an antitrust suit to force oil companies to relinquish control of transportation and marketing facilities.

The report was made public by Attorney General Robert H. Jackson, who had asked the commission for an opinion before proceeding with a suggested civil action against the American Petroleum institute, 22 major oil companies, and about 300 subsidiaries and affiliates.

Jackson Delays Decision.

Jackson said tonight that he would announce his next step after studying the report.

"The commission recognizes," the report said, "that, apart from other considerations, the existing organizational structure of the oil industry is well adapted to the defense program. It simplifies problems of supply and facilitates the making of firm and long range commitments. Divesture of transportation and marketing may entail a loss of technical management and efficiency.

"The readjustments contemplated by the suit will involve complications and delays. Curbs on capital expansion during the period when the split-ups are not yet in effect must be anticipated.

"Eventually the government will, of course, find some way to assure its supply. But time is precious.

Charges May Be Reduced.

"The commission does not suggest that the proposed suit should be abandoned. It feels it appropriate to point out, nevertheless, that certain prayers for relief may hinder the defense program."

Some officials at the department of justice were represented as being willing to proceed even if the suit were altered to meet the commission's objections by limiting it to an attack on alleged price fixing.

The commission declared that it was opposed to "monopolistic or conspiratorial price fixing and to artificial restrictions on supply of materials," because such matters, "always a threat to national welfare, are particularly dangerous in time of emergency."

VOTE DRAFTEES BROADER SOCIAL SECURITY PLANS

Senate Acts to Help Families, Too.

their issues on the grounds that it would raise interest costs and make financing more difficult.

"We must determine whether we are going to take that road which leads inevitably to a completely centralized form of government," Austin told the senate. "This proposal simply means that the federal government has seized upon a function that belongs to the states."

Brown countered that it would mean 300 to 400 million dollars more in annual revenues for the federal treasury if exempt securities, which total about 60 billion dollars, could be taxed by the treasury.

George Defends Charges.

Senator George said that national defense spending may restore prosperity to the United States, but only "if we decide wisely upon our tax program." Replying to treasury opposition to the senate tax bill, he asserted that this is the best measure that could be brought out under the circumstances.

The treasury has favored an excess profits tax based upon specified returns on invested capital of corporations. While the house bill provides this basis and an alternative based upon average earnings between 1936 and 1939, the latter method is discriminated against by raising the normal tax by 4.1 per cent if the latter is chosen. The senate bill removes such discrimination.

"The worst feature of the return upon invested capital method is that it does not take into account previous experience," George said. He added that it would fall heaviest on small businesses. The pending senate tax bill levies taxes of 25 to 50 per cent against "excess profits," provides for amortization over a 5 year period of defense plant expansion costs, and lifts the profit limiting restrictions on warplane and warship contracts imposed by the Vinson-Trammel act.

STEEL SHORTAGE FEARED FOR U. S. DEFENSE NEEDS

Mills Now Running Near Practical Capacity.

Faced with the certainty of huge orders for steel to meet the nation's defense needs, producers are becoming concerned with the possibility of a shortage of raw steel as their plants continue to operate at near capacity on general and some defense inspired business, Iron Age said yesterday.

"The fact that the industry's rate has not reached 100 per cent is due to slacker operations at some of the smaller plants, particularly those engaged mainly in the light products, and the comparatively small utilization of Bessemer capacity, which last month was operated at only 72.39 per cent against 91.13 for open hearth," the trade paper explained.

Doubt Rate Can Rise Here.

Iron Age said that persons in Washington and in the steel industry who are studying the requirements of the defense program believe that the full effect of defense steel orders will not be felt before the first quarter of 1941. They also feel that the steel industry has before it at least two years of high activity regardless of duration or outcome of the war.

Spokesmen for Chicago steel interests said yesterday that they do not see how any more steel can come out of the Chicago district than is being produced now. For example, the Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation has 9 of its 11 blast furnaces at the South works in operation and 10 of the 12 at Gary. It is usually necessary to have one or two blast furnaces shut down for repairs. It is impossible to work the furnaces indefinitely.

Effects Are Widely Felt.

Iron Age said that nearly all branches of the metal working industry are now feeling the effects of the defense program. New plants and facilities must be built to produce armament materials. Last week there was a total of 50,700 tons of fabricated structural steel inquiries.

Outside the defense programs, the automobile companies are taking considerably more steel to meet their expanding production which may soon be at the 100,000 cars a week level. The railroads also are returning to the market, with this fall's purchases expected to be about 1,000,000 tons.

Iron Age's composite price for steel scrap this week advanced 21 cents a ton to $20.13, the highest figure since the first week in November, 1939.

Board Completes Rulings on 1939 Tax Assessments

The Cook county board of tax appeals yesterday completed its rulings on the 75,000 objections to 1939 real estate assessments filed by taxpayers. A tabulation of revised assessments will not be completed for several days, according to Emmett Whealan and Paul Drymalski, members of the board. The board overruled a joint protest by 200 loop property owners that their properties were overvalued 42 per cent in the 1939 assessment.

AIR LINES EARN MORE IN JULY THAN FOR JUNE

Reports to CAA Disclose Upward Trends.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 18.—Substantial improvement in earnings of domestic air lines during July as compared with June is shown in reports filed with the Civil Aeronautics authority, a survey disclosed today. Air travel was also operated profitably by most of the lines during the 12 months ended June 30, the study showed.

Seventeen out of 18 domestic air lines had a combined net income of $976,561 before taxes in July, compared with $866,584 in June. Many of the lines made year-end adjustments during June, which accounted for some reduction in the profit showing.

Operating Revenues Rise.

Net operating revenues in July totaled $990,759, compared with $949,260 in June. Gross operating revenues amounted to $7,098,240 in July, against $6,857,083 in the preceding month. The July figures included all of the air carriers except Chicago and Southern, and the June figures excluded Continental, these carriers not yet having filed reports for those months. Individual results for July are shown in the following table:

DIAMOND MINES.

Is there any way I could obtain a general description of the De Beers Consolidated Mines?—E. T.

Answer: De Beers Consolidated Mines, Ltd., controls thru its various interests more than one-half of the world's normal diamond output. It has arrangements with other diamond producers which regulate the supply of diamonds on the world market, especially when production is excessive. Operations of the De Beers mines were curtailed by the war.

De Beers, registered in the Union of South Africa in 1888, owns or controls diamond mines in the Union, in Rhodesia, and South-West Africa. Other activities of the company and its subsidiaries include coal mining and the manufacture of explosives. Headquarters are in Kimberley, South Africa.

Capitalization of the company consists of 800,000 shares of 40 per cent cumulative preference stock and 1,272,789 shares of deferred ordinary shares, both of 2 English pounds 10 shillings par value.

The company's earnings converted from British money into dollars at the rate of $4 to a pound sterling compared as follows in recent years: 1935, $8,489,440; 1936, $11,503,948; 1937, $9,937,040; 1938, $2,540,352, and 1939, $3,464,980.

WAGE RECORD.

How can I find out what my wage record is with the social security board?—T. H.

Answer: To obtain a report on the wages recorded in your account with the social security board during the last three years, request an inquiry card from the nearest field office of the board and mail it to the board's accounting division in Baltimore, Md. If you wish to estimate what your benefits will be, as based on your wage record and expected future earnings, you can obtain a copy of the formula and instructions by writing to this department.

CHRIS-CRAFT.

Am I correct in my information that Chris-Craft is building boats for the navy?—F. B.

Answer: Yes. The company recently delivered four "unsinkable" speedboats to the navy. The boats will be equipped with remote radio controls and will be used as bombing targets.

INSURANCE DIVIDENDS.

What is the nature of the dividends paid to policy holders by life insurance companies?—E. W.

Answer: Dividends paid by life insurance companies to their policy holders consist of refunds of premiums on participating policies resulting from savings or gains by the companies on their underwriting, investments and administrative expenses.

Beg Your Pardon.

Last Friday Dr. Crane had a question on the water frontage of a square lake lot for which 16 rods of fencing was required. An incorrect answer of 70 feet was printed. The frontage would be 66 feet if the lot was fenced on all sides and 88 feet if there was no fencing on the lake side.

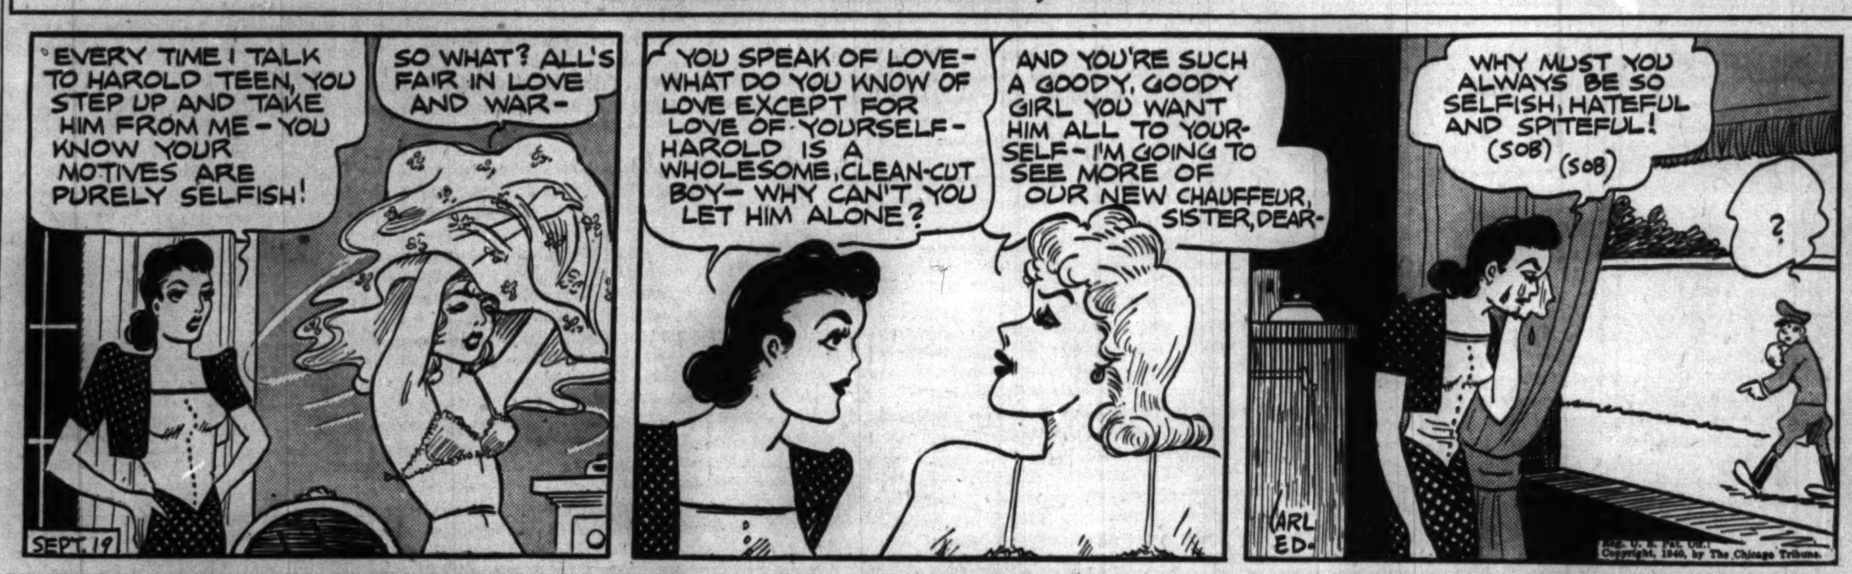
HAROLD TEEN—NOW, GIRLS!!!



EVERY TIME I TALK TO HAROLD TEEN, YOU STEP UP AND TAKE HIM FROM ME—YOU KNOW YOUR MOTIVES ARE PURELY SELFISH!
SO WHAT? ALL'S FAIR IN LOVE AND WAR—
YOU SPEAK OF LOVE—WHAT DO YOU KNOW OF LOVE EXCEPT FOR LOVE OF YOURSELF—HAROLD IS A WHOLESOME, CLEAN-CUT BOY—WHY CAN'T YOU LET HIM ALONE?
AND YOU'RE SUCH A GOODY, GOODY GIRL YOU WANT HIM ALL TO YOURSELF—I'M GOING TO SEE MORE OF OUR NEW CHAUFFEUR, SISTER, DEAR—
WHY MUST YOU ALWAYS BE SO SELFISH, HATEFUL AND SPITEFUL!

Personal Loans
On Your Own Signature

Here salaried men and women [single or married] can get $25 to $250 or more entirely on earning capacity and personal responsibility. We prefer to make these loans the way most people like—without security—without endorsers.

NO WAGE ASSIGNMENTS

Simply do this:
1. Make application. [Can be in person or by phone.]
2. Come in, sign and get the cash.

Pick Your Own Payments

Take a year, or more, to repay. You know best how much you can afford each month—you name the payment which best fits your income.

PRIVACY

We keep the entire transaction strictly between us. Your employer, friends or relatives are not notified.

SIMPLE TO GET

Our loans are made on the simple basis of your ability to make small, regular payments, and if you can, you should not hesitate to see us for a loan, at once. Come in or telephone.

Map of the Thames estuary from London to the English channel and the area around Dover. This is the region against which Germany is directing its hardest blows in aerial attacks, hoping to demoralize British shipping as prelude to possible invasion. The Germans claim many docks along the Thames have been destroyed. The small map indicates areas bombed by British and German planes. (Story on page 1.)
